

BEFORE YOUR TRIP: TRAVEL DOCUMENTS TO REVIEW

JULY THEME: SUMMER
TRAVEL,
PREPAREDNESS
& PEACE OF MIND

Summer travel is here! July is the perfect time to make sure your important documents are updated, organized, and ready before you go.

Many travelers plan flights and hotels but forget key legal documents like travel consent forms, powers of attorney, and business or estate paperwork.

At Legally Notarized, we help you stay prepared and protected this summer with secure Remote Online Notarization (RON)—anytime, anywhere.

“Travel ready, documents ready—be prepared before you go.”

IN THIS ISSUE:

QUICK REMINDER

Don't Leave
Important Documents.

Until the Last Minute Summer schedules fill up quickly, and important details can easily be overlooked when things get busy. Preparing and notarizing your documents early helps you avoid delays, rushed signings, and unnecessary stress while traveling or handling mid-year responsibilities.

DOCUMENTS YOU SHOULD REVIEW BEFORE TRAVELING

Summer gets busy fast, and no one wants urgent document issues while traveling. Reviewing your paperwork ahead of time helps save time, reduce stress, and protect your personal, family, and business matters.

Important documents to review this month include:

- Power of Attorney forms
- Minor travel consent forms
- Healthcare directives and medical authorizations
- Estate planning documents
- Business contracts and approvals
- Real estate or financial paperwork

Taking care of these documents now ensures everything is updated, compliant, and accessible if needed during travel or emergencies.
