

Kidlington Parish council has the following issues with the PVDP Consultation on the Botley West project.

1. Insufficient publicity was given to a number of the consultations, and the minimum statutory notice period should not have been applied in a case of this magnitude.
2. Some of the locations of consultation events were not suitable, with insufficient parking, etc.
3. The relative paucity of evening events meant that working people were often unable to attend.
4. Some events were too close to Christmas, and requests to move them were ignored.
5. In some cases facilities at the information access points was inadequate and difficult to access.
6. In-person meetings in some cases provided inadequate or poorly displayed information.
7. Some content of the booklets was misleading.
8. In some areas the information booklets were delivered late.
9. Online information is not provided in a sufficiently user-friendly form. Clear and/or consistent information has not been provided on some key issues.
10. Insufficient information and consultation on the project was offered to a number of council stakeholders: Tackley, Combe, Yarnton and Kidlington for instance.
