

POOLSINGH NAYAK MALOTH

Poolsingh Nayak is a committed community leader and TRS party leader, widely respected for his selfless service to the Banjara community and his continuous efforts to address the problems of the needy. Grounded in humanity and social responsibility, he believes that real leadership is measured not by wealth or position, but by the willingness to serve society.

A well-educated and thoughtful individual, he completed his SSC at ZPHS, Kowdipally, Intermediate at APTWR Junior College, Narsapur, a B.Sc. degree from Tara Government Degree & PG College, and later pursued LLB from Viswa Bharathi Law College, Patancheru. His legal education strengthened his ability to stand for justice and advocate for community rights.

Poolsingh Nayak actively celebrates Veer Sevalal Jayanthi every year, participating with devotion and organizing programs across schools. He brings together community school children to ensure that Sevalal Jayanthi is celebrated in every school, inspiring the younger generation to learn about Sevalal Maharaj's life, values, and sacrifices.

He shares strong bonds with community leaders, well-wishers, friends, and supporters, built on trust, friendship, and mutual respect. He values relationships deeply and believes unity is the backbone of community progress. His birthday is always celebrated with friends and family, reflecting his belief in togetherness and gratitude.

Born to Maloth Maroni Bai and Shankar Nayak, Poolsingh Nayak comes from a family rooted in culture and service. He has three brothers: Srinivas Nayak, a singer; Harisingh Nayak, an RMP doctor; and Gopi Nayak, a dancer. He is married to Preethi, his constant support system, and is blessed with two children, Nainika Sri and Nishanth Sri.

Through his tireless work, Poolsingh Nayak has received several awards, honors, and felicitation ceremonies, which stand as recognition of his dedication and service to society. These honors are not goals for him, but acknowledgments of his commitment to uplift the community.
