

THE FACETS OF EDUCATION REFORM YOU NEED TO KNOW

School Choice is being promoted & pushed across the nation to parents, school administration, legislators, & the media – but, do you know what it is?

Education reform is not new. It's fluid. Every presidential administration moves forward with their national plan for public school education. We have lost sight of the fact that nowhere in the U.S. Constitution has the federal government been given authority of education – at all. Education authority is left to the states – and our United States have their own State Constitutions, as well. It is very important for everyone, including the students, to learn not only what they think they know about School Choice, but consider what they might not know. It affects our future.

We're going to look at many aspects of how School Choice developed, connecting the dots of seemingly different & helpful, positive changes in education, how it impacts shrinking parental choices and control over their own children, where we're at now – and how you can work with others to inform them and effect change.

School Choice does not travel alone. It has various components to it, all designed to achieve a specific outcome. The components to the education reform happening in the U.S.A. has been unfolding for decades as some people have been aware of. When the components of education reform are viewed individually, it might look like they are mutually exclusive but they are not. We're going to show you all of the pieces of the puzzle.

Let's start with the basics – what is “choice”? There is a lot of information available touting School Choice's benefits – but it ends there. We'll look at what “choice” is not. Peas & carrots, we say.

PEAS & CARROTS

Did your Mom ever tell you that you could choose what you wanted for dinner? Did she ever say to you, “You can decide tonight what you want to eat - Do you want peas or carrots?” You were happy - you got a choice, right? But did you really get a choice? Your Mom still had control over the food you consumed - vegetables - you simply got to pick which form of vegetable you will consume. Your Mom still got you to eat vegetables, didn’t she? She controlled purchasing the food, so she could put conditions on what you ate. Your choice was limited by her condition - eat vegetables but you can choose which form.

This is the essence of “school choice”.

Your “Mom” - the government - is giving you a choice of where your child will consume education”.

The government says - “You can choose what school your child can attend.”

“Which do you want - public school, private school, or home school?”

You’re happy you get a choice, right?

But the government still has control over the education you consume - the curriculum - you simply get to pick in which form your child will consume it.

The government still gets your child to consume the curriculum.

The government has control over the money, so it can put conditions on what you consume, i.e., the condition of its curriculum.

Your choice is limited by the government’s condition - consume the curriculum but you can choose in which form.

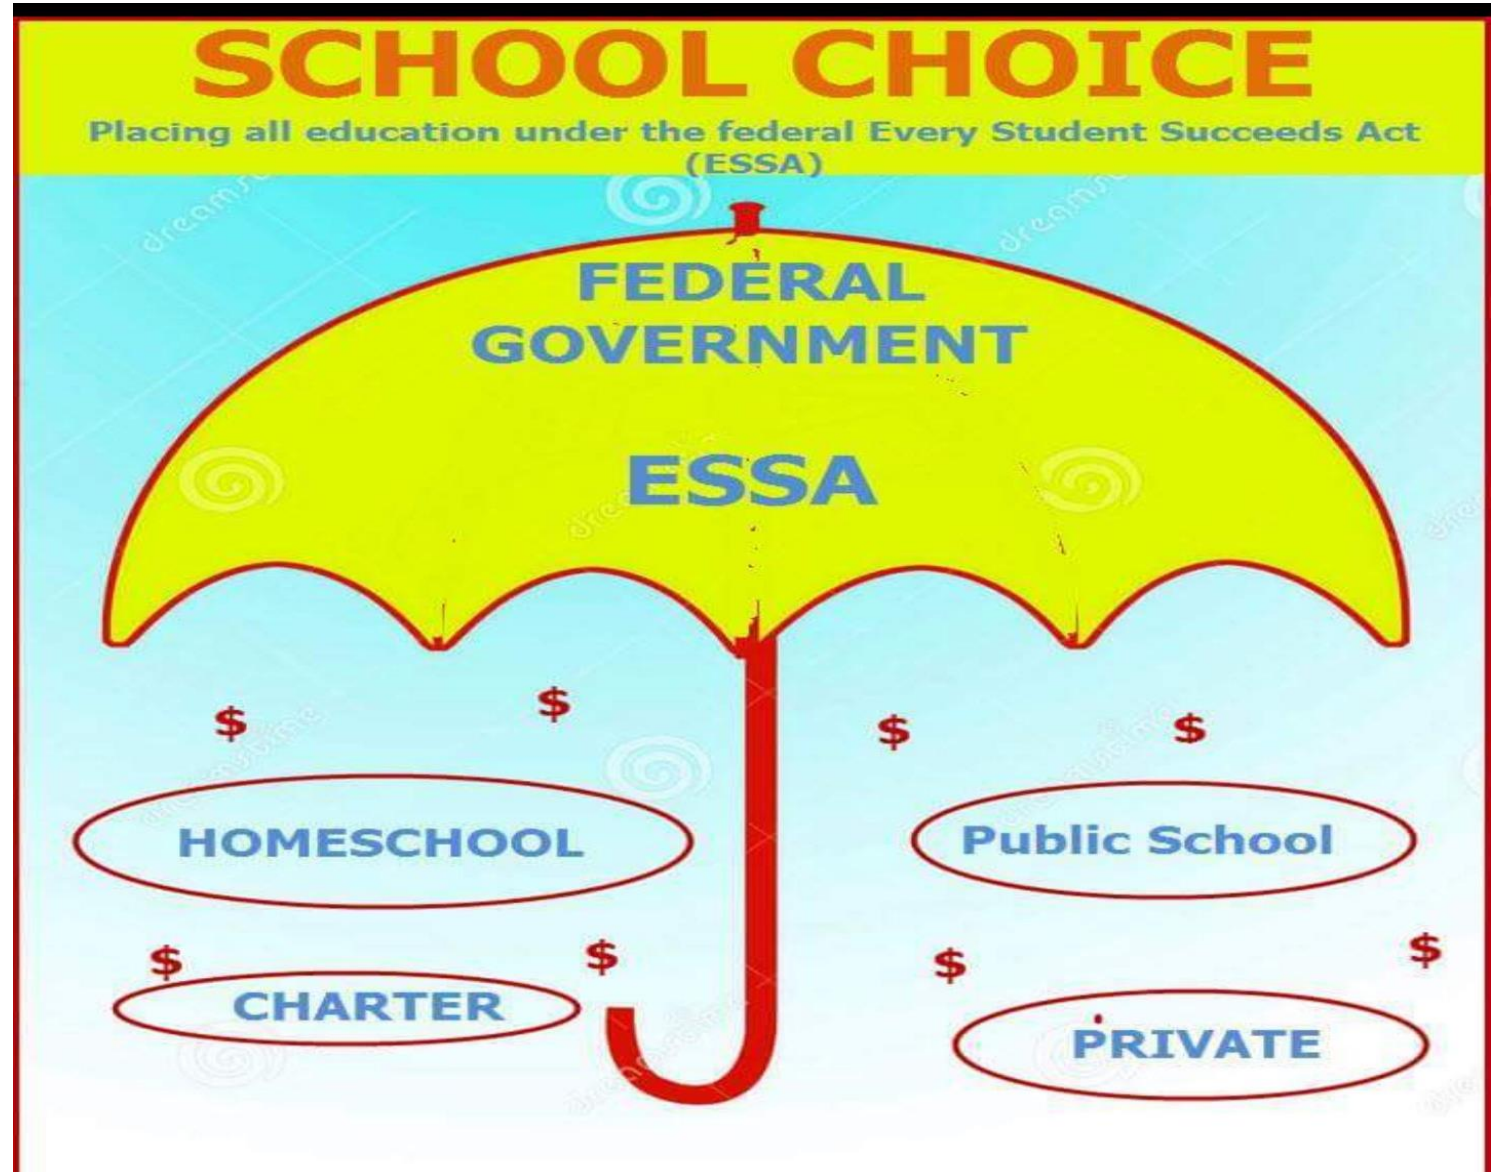

As a child, you just felt happy you got a choice. You didn’t think it through that your Mom really was giving you a false choice under her conditions. You didn’t realize that you were being duped.

As an adult, however, you can, and do, need to think it through so you won’t be duped into the government’s false choice. “School choice” is just another way the government is trying to get you to consume what it wants - its curriculum. You just get to choose where to do that. Why? Because the government controls the money and places conditions on you accepting the money. Under “school choice” you are not truly free to consume the education you want.

Just like the true choice was not between peas or carrots but was between your Mom’s control and your actual freedom to choose what you eat, the true choice with “school choice” is between the government’s control by conditions and your actual freedom to choose the education of your child.

The WSCC Model - State Policy Database

What are the 10 components of the Whole School, Whole Community, Whole Child (WSCC) model?

CDC and the Association for Supervision and Curriculum (ASCD) developed the WSCC model—in collaboration with key leaders from the fields of health, public health, education, and school health—to strengthen a unified and collaborative approach designed to improve learning and health in our nation's schools.

The WSCC model defines 10 important areas of a healthy school: health education; physical education and physical activity; nutrition environment and services; health services; counseling, psychological, and social services; social and emotional climate; physical environment; employee wellness; family engagement; and community involvement.

SCHOOL CHOICE & VOUCHERS - I

- Book: A Place Called School
School Choice is mentioned in the book. pgs. 10, 91, 287, 288 – promoting vouchers
- The pros and cons of school vouchers
<https://www.procon.org>
- Vouchers claim to “allow” parents to choose their child’s type of education. Not for homeschoolers. For others, there simply aren’t enough seats when parents all choose the same “good” schools. What choice? What curriculum choice? Not so fast.
- Competition will be good. No, it won’t. Why not? Because ALL education will end up being under the same umbrella with the same curriculum – thus becoming all public schooling with NO options left.
- Vouchers have already shown they do not overcome racial or other claimed boundaries such as special-needs childrens’ needs – which are too often also going unmet. It will homogenize all of them. The data exists. One of many similar articles:
<https://www.americanprogress.org/article/danger-private-school-voucher-programs-pose-civil-rights/>
- Data also shows vouchers are not improving academic scores. Education professor Martin Carnoy analyzed 25 years of research and found that voucher programs do not significantly improve test scores.
<https://news.stanford.edu/2017/02/28/vouchers-not-improve-student-achievement-stanford-researcher-finds/#:~:text=Education%20professor%20Martin%20Carnoy%20analyzed,not%20significantly%20improve%20test%20scores>
- Data shows that there simply is not enough room for all children to access a better education. Space is limited, ends up going to a lottery system, while ALL of the alleged education option “choices” are controlled by the same curriculum from the top down.
- Homeschoolers beware.

SCHOOL CHOICE & VOUCHERS - 2

- “If all schools become privatized in the U.S., the poor wouldn’t be given vouchers for ‘school choice.’ They would have no choices.” ~ Ana Kasparian, Educator
- The bottom line is that the reasons for supporting School Choice in the form of vouchers, has already proven not to work. Yet, the fad, the latest “fix” for school failure, continues.
- 27 Reasons Why
<https://environmental-conscience.com/school-vouchers-pros-cons/>
- School vouchers, one puzzle piece, continues to be pushed forward along with the other puzzle pieces – all of which kick parents to the curb and give the schools expanded powers of “in loco parentis”.
- School choice negatively affects public schools and results in a host of negative consequences such as distortion of the purpose of education, decreased civic engagement and commitment to the common good, and greater social segregation (Abowitz & Stitzlein, 2018)

They self-select themselves to BE homeschoolers – there is a very important difference. Know your rights.

Data Collection and the Big Picture of the Workforce Development Fed Led Ed

From May 2014 – yet it is alive and active today!

A Pioneer Institute White Paper by Emmett McGroarty, Joy Pullmann, and Jane Robbins

New technology allows advocates for education as workforce development to accomplish what has long been out of their reach: the collection of data on every child, beginning with preschool or even earlier, and using that data to track the child throughout his/her academic career and his/her progression through the workforce. This paper explores the many initiatives that the federal government has worked with private entities to design and encourage states to participate in, in order to increase the collection and sharing of student data, while relaxing privacy protections. The authors offer recommendations to protect student privacy, including urging parents to ask what kinds of information are being collected on digital-learning platforms and whether the software will record data about their children's behaviors and attitudes rather than just academic knowledge. If parents object to such data-collection, they should opt out. The authors also urge state lawmakers to pass student privacy laws, and they recommend that Congress correct the 2013 relaxation of FERPA.

SEL IMPLEMENTATION NATIONWIDE

- A systemic approach ensures that SEL is woven into all students' educational experiences. More than a single lesson or activity, SEL is integrated across key settings where students live and learn: classrooms, schools, homes, and communities. It also aligns school district and state policies, resources, and actions to support SEL. Federal policies play a role in creating ripe conditions for supportive environments and rich learning experiences.

Opting Students Out of SBAC (or any) Testing

Parents have the right to opt their child out of any public school testing. Simple write a letter to the school principal and teacher informing them of which test(s), including pre, post or sample tests there may also be.

Inform your child that if any adult tells them, “You don’t have to tell your parents”, that they need to be sure to tell their parents.

CRITICAL RACE THEORY – THEORY, NOT FACT

- Is CRT really about race? Or, is it another piece of the puzzle that uses CRT as the vehicle of delivery to the final destination?
- "Savvy activists strategically fund force-multipliers: behind-the-scenes groups that shape others who go on to shape others. For those seeking to efficiently spread fringe ideas, there is no better bang for the buck than conscripting schoolchildren. But once I saw who was behind the curtain, it became clear why they hid."
- "Even groups that exist to get government officials on the same page, such as the National School Boards Association (which likened parents to “domestic terrorists”), receive private funds from foundations like Ford, Gates, and Carnegie.”

WHY is CRT now embedded in curriculum and students tested on outcomes of delivery?

SCHOOL

YES, YOU ARE BEING DUPED

- “Friends, what is about to be said will offend many. Because of the total ignorance of the American people regarding the Constitution for the United States of America and their respective State Constitutions, your rights are being “codified” to be enumerated and limited. What’s worse is - it is being done with your approval and applause. You have been tricked using the Hegelian dialectic & the Delphi Technique - and most are actually requesting this to be done. What are they using to do this? It is being done through education.” Public & private. Private schools do not escape because almost all of them now accept federal & state funds and have the same accountability duties as the public schools.

What is happening to your parental rights? If you have not noticed yet, they are being rapidly destroyed.

CHARLOTTE ISERBYT & SCHOOL CHOICE

- With regard to parents and education, let's explore this. Do parents have choice? Parental choice? What about School Choice? What is that?
- Charlotte Iserbyt
- School Choice – erodes Constitutional rights
- 9th & 10th Amendments are where we get our rights, & the Declaration of Independence says we are born with our rights
- Who chooses your child's education? First, follow the money.
- The ESSA Act is one of many that contain conditions defining the public school education that children will receive.

THE CONNECTICUT CONSTITUTION & BOARDS OF EDUCATION

We the People are in charge of everything, unless we give up our rights. Our representatives are supposed to be supporting our freedom. Are they? Or, are they flipping the tables and are we seeing government taking control over and away from the people?
- With regard to education, do you think the CT General Statutes support your parental rights? No. Correct. Why not? Because public school Boards of Education do not work for parents as we have been told they do. They work for the State. Want proof?

- What is in the statute?
Does it comply with the U.S. Constitution? NO. Does your legislator know that? Do they care?

UNITED NATIONS CONVENTION ON THE RIGHTS OF THE CHILD (UNCRC)

- The globalist agenda is to remove the parents from the equation and give rights directly to the children and have the government act like a parent. So far, the United States of America has NOT adopted the UNCRC. Let's keep it that way. Parents need to be aware and never support this Treaty. It's an agenda – it's not a good thing to support.

Research any group or individual that you might trust to learn if they are involved in any way with supporting the UNCRC being adopted in the U.S.A. Don't be duped by seemingly well-intentioned organizations.

HEALTH ED IN TODAY'S CLASSROOMS

Are parents aware of the full scope of what health ed in America's classrooms contains? No. Parents are kept ignorant, although increasingly more of them are waking up.

The students are polarizing and so is the staff – not a great atmosphere to learn in.

Mental health assessments and treatment services are being provided to children without parental knowledge or permission. Who is liable when something goes wrong for the child?

Is there a statute, a law, or even a policy in your state or town, that legally allows schools to exclude parents? Yes. Can it be misused? Has it been?

Data tracking, including personal health and sexuality information on students, is being tracked. That's only part of the voluminous information being mined, tracked and shared – where? With whom? Why? (Pay For Success program)

If you read nothing else from this entire presentation, make it this: it's a very important piece of the puzzle.

- Anne Taydus, presents this video (link below) in which the following links on these pages are topics addressed for parental knowledge. The DECA program, DoJo classroom surveillance and the phone APP, "HERO" are more fully explained. The video is about an hour and a half and worth every minute of watching.

- "Anne Taydus (VaWarriorMom) and Lisa Logan will join me to cover the "screening" tools used to support SEL in public schools.
- If you've heard of Panorama Ed. or DESSA, and have wondered "What's so bad about these surveys?" you'll want to tune in!
- Questions to consider while you watch: Is this the proper role of the school? Who benefits? How does this help your children? Who owns the data, and for how long?
- VA Warrior Mom, aka Anne Craft Taydus, is the co-founder and Vice President of Virginians for Children First, a grassroots non-profit dedicated to action, accountability and creating long term change in the Commonwealth, so all children will thrive and prosper.
- She is a graduate of Virginia Tech where she double majored in Geopolitical War History and Electronic Print Journalism. A mother of two beautiful daughters in Chesterfield County, she has exposed the war on our children being waged by global agencies, federal legislation and radical left wing teachers unions and associations.
- Fighting to end the ideological subversion our K-12 public education system is what drives her as an American, a Virginian and as a mother."

- The Dirty Secret No One Wants To Discuss That Is Toppling Private Schools And Keeping Alive The Illusion Of School Choice - The Manhattan
- Here's what Undercover Mother says you can do to fight back.

THIS

PUTTING THE PUZZLE TOGETHER

- By now, you have some idea of how profoundly tangled this web is. It can seem hopelessly large. Don't give up. Change happens when people are aware of what's behind the curtain, and they work together toward that change.
- It is all connected under the illusion of School CHOICE, which will bring all students from all educational models, under the SAME umbrella.
- SEL, CRT, Testing, school health centers, vouchers, are all pieces of the same puzzle, and there are very big investors behind making the final phases we're now seeing, all come together.
- Of course, the reasons given to gain acceptance of those puzzle pieces always sound so good superficially. Upon scrutiny, however, the narrative falls apart.
- Listen to the children! Many if not most children dislike going to school. Why? They know something is wrong.

START GROUPS IN YOUR AREA

- BE THE CHANGE! Reach out to other parents via social media, plan gatherings, share information and inform one another.
- Research these issues in your state or local districts.
- Document your findings and share them.
- Can you use the news media to disseminate information?
- Can you use the news media to inform them of a story lead?
- You can use FOIA requests to gather additional info.
- What questions do you need to ask your district? CourageIsAHabit.org gives you questions to use (free).
- While you are being sold an apparent choice in education and baited with money that will not cover private school costs, the real education reform is to bring it all back under the control of the failing public schools – and keep the parents in their own lane.
- What do you choose to do about it?
