The stories within these pages and all the characters are fictitious. Some long-standing agencies, institutions, public offices and locations are mentioned, but the characters related to them are wholly imaginary. Any resemblance of actual events or persons living, dead or nearly dead is entirely coincidental, or just in your guilty, wild imagination, while a few aspects similar to the contested election, the politically tainted supreme court, voter and female suppression, corporate tax cuts, IRS defunding, attempts to defund the FBI, voting down the badly needed immigration bill, overturning Roe vs Wade, 24 month long corporate food price gouging, disrespecting former (vets) and current military personnel and the like, were loosely based off true stories. The rest of the book is purely fictional because some of these writings could never happen in real life.

The opinions expressed are those of the characters and should not be confused with the author's. The characters and the author are all proud to have their own and sometimes differing opinions.

Per the author; Be aware of typos. When the author found himself aggressively typing with his two middle fingers, his accuracy waned.

The author has been corrected on some points within and has allowed some of these points to stand as his dreams, nightmares and memories are hard to fact check. As well as the facts from the dreams, nightmares and memories of the characters. The author did, however, do his best to make it tell an entertaining yet fictional tale while walking around the outer edge of the dark reality forest.

The author fully understands and appreciates the fact that some readers, depending on their preferred predator news outlet, cannot see this forest for the imaginary trees. If this is the case, please diversify your news and the imaginary trees will fade away.

Please enjoy this book or give it to someone that can!
It makes for great toilet reading and doubles as toilet paper when in a pinch!

My Curious Dream

Oh Lordy, that was a strange dream that scared the hell out of me! It was so real that I felt like I was actually in that room with them.

That night had begun hours earlier with myself and my bestie's "Girl's Night Out". Siri and I started at a local family-owned steak house for bacon wrapped fillet mignons, a side salad and a couple mojitos. There is just no better flavor than a bacon wrapped piece of beef! Well, at least for us two corn-fed Iowa farm girls, living in the Big City!

After dinner we went on a shopping spree to get an outfit for my job interview on that coming

Monday. Then we ride-shared back to my place for an early holiday season Christmas movie on the Hall & the Mark channel. The chick-flick was well written and had a hottie cowboy that ended WAY too soon...at only 2 hours long. 🥰 We will never understand why he always wait until the very end to kiss her? But we both decided we would happily jump on a saddle with that guy! 😇 We shook it off and made plans for our next girl's night out before Siri headed home.

I slipped into my favorite flannel pajamas and finished my glass of white wine. After a little dollop of skin creme rubbed in, to my dry hands, it was off to bed for a peaceful nights sleep. Usually just one glass of wine makes me sleep like a baby.

It was getting close to the break of dawn when my mind came alive and I woke very peacefully after a long, detailed dream. It was vividly colored and I heard plus retained every word that was said. Apparently, I was just a spectator or a “Fly on the Wall” in this dream. It was like someone or something wanted me to pay attention and understand this message.

The dream started with me in a room with 3 men in black “US Senate” jackets that looked nervous as they stood near the far corner of the room. Those 3 men looked like little 8 year old boys standing there. Embroidered on the fronts of each of their jackets, was a different state name, “Ohio, Missouri and Texas”. Those men had no faces, but I could hear them talk and could pick up on their emotions. I did, however, recognize all their voices from my previous employment and I was not sure why I could not see their faces. I was guessing that there was some kind of significance to these faceless men!

Within a few seconds, all 4 of us heard a strange ‘Poof’ sound as the teleport booth lit up. What the hell? Vladimir Putin and a woman appeared out of thin air and he was holding a briefcase labeled “TOP SECRET” that was handcuffed securely to his wrist.

Without saying a thing, all 5 of them slowly approached the massive granite conference room table where Putin carefully laid the briefcase down as if it was made of glass. The three Senators also watched intently and appeared to be giddy with excitement. Vlad pulled a small golden key ring out of his pocket and unlocked the handcuffs, then sat them aside on the table top. There was a second little key on the ring that Putin used to unlock the briefcase.

I was watching hard as he opened up the case. I noticed there was no bomb, gun, knife, biological weapon or even cash... just a large pile of papers. He pulled out a stack of at least 800 sheets of paper carefully bundled with what looked to be a leather boot lace. I remember asking myself in the dream; “Why would Vlad fly all the way to America just to deliver a stack of papers? What were these 3 Senators going to do with a briefcase full of words?” I knew these guys and I was quite sure none of them could read.

Putin was accompanied by a beautiful brunette that he introduced to the men as (бурный). She told them that she spoke and wrote English fluidly. “Thank You, Jesus” I thought because none of us 4 Americans has a clue what he was saying! Even though she was with Vlad, these 3 American men gave her no respect and did not even care enough to make eye contact with her. It was obvious that those little men were not comfortable around a woman with power or authority. I could almost feel their little male testicles and chauvinistic manhoods shrinking up. I thought their behavior was inappropriate, but it was just a dream, right? Real Men do not act that way around women!

<https://translate.google.com/?sl=ru&tl=en&text=бурный&op=translate>

The top cover page had a title boldly written in Russian or Chinese, I had no clue. The shifty looking man from Ohio, with the baggy pants, asked Putin what the title said, instead of asking the woman directly. (Weird) The woman then took a blood red marker and wrote under the title, “American Communism Project for 2025”.

The man from Missouri rudely grabbed the marker out of her hand and drew a single line through ~~American Communism~~ and quickly put the bundle back in the case then closed the lid. He was a skittish little fella. I guess he did not want anyone else to see what they had just been given.

The man with the greased hair from Texas, gave Vlad an even bigger briefcase labeled “Border Security Fund”, but it also had a yellow sticky note that had, “Putin” written on it. He then handed Vlad a cheap brass Trump keyring with a single key on it. In exchange, Putin gave the men a handwritten note that said:

“Продолжать использовать корпорации для кражи денег граждан

Мне понравилась ваша массовая ложь о мошенничестве на выборах, подмигивайте, подмигивайте”

The 3 men each gave Vladimir knuckles and they split with their new stack of words.

As the 3 Senators left, I heard one of the men tell the others, “Don’t tell the old guy about our multinational plans until we get him declared mentally and cognitively unfit. Oh and by the way, J, You would suck as President! As Missouri and Texas just laughed!

When the Russians walked out, Vladimir asked his translator how she liked the American Men!

She replied, “They acted like porks to me, Daddy!”

“СВИНЕЙ мёд, СВИНЕЙ” Rumbled out of his mouth.

About then I got up, a little intrigued about the Russian's and lot ready to pee my jammies. That cold toilet seat soon woke me up and stirred my curiosity as to what the heck that dream meant! As I thought about it, it definitely answered a couple questions of mine and prompted me to write a couple paragraphs about my past employment experiences with “The Man” himself!

I sure hope you enjoy this short story that just flowed out of me as I sat there thinking of my old boss that had recently had me fired!

I Heard It All

“Hey Alexa” was shouted at me many times every day. For 30 years I worked 45 hours a week for “The Man” (No overtime pay). I sat in the reception area next to his office and I was always listening.

I heard things that were not supposed to be heard. Every word, conversation, sound, groan and yes, even every moan, I could hear! My boss's guests and visitors had no idea that I was listening to them and that I secretly documented most of their conversations. Some days were quite boring but most days I wrote down a gold nugget or two.

But, as the years progressed, I started to hear some disturbing changes in that office. Even the type of people walking into his office seemed to change dramatically. He alienated or fired all the educated, experienced employees and was left with some real losers that had devious plans to share. I truly thought cavemen were extinct...Nope, there is a confirmed clan of them in Washington DC! They must have paid my boss heavily to waste the air around him.

I overheard things that would make a dictator blush, an authoritarian smile and a misogynist sing Amazing Grace!

As a matter of fact, talk of Hitler and Putin were heard all too often coming from his office. Especially when he was alone. He had a bag full of little white army men in his desk drawer that he played with in private. When I heard his door lock, and there was no woman in there, I always knew he was playing with his little white man.

Occasionally, I would hear a strange sound, kind of like a miniature guillotine slamming closed, followed by a muffled giggle or two. When the door opened and he reappeared, he had a stone-cold face and acted totally normal again...at least in the early days. The last couple years, he really started to scare me. His growing hatred towards women is what scared me the most. Off the record, I found out that he was also scaring all of our major investors as well.

I did the same job for three decades and weathered some crazy roller coaster highs and lows over the years. The day I started, I was the personal assistant to “The Man” (Oh sorry, that was the name that he demanded I call him) and would continue that same job for nearly half of my life. I always had his back while I did my part to help grow him personally and grow his company.

For these writings, we shall call him “Richard”.

I knew Richard was a male chauvinist on the first day I started working for him. (Big Dick is what I secretly called him). However, he was always nice to me, and we managed to get along like siblings. (Never any hanky-panky) I overheard him many times telling his buddies, “She is too fat and homely for me.” As he laughed. But you know what, he also told them, “She is really good at her job.” He was a genuine ass and bully but, I loved my job and did it very well. I just smiled knowing that one day, I would get to tell my story plus the pay was not too bad.

On the personal side, I really enjoyed his wives and children. They were all very nice people and seemed to weather his many affairs and sexual misconduct allegations, with grace. However, over time, I watched them publicly and privately withdraw from him.

Especially his wife and daughters when Richard openly and blatantly supported his buddy in taking away women's rights. As the kids grew older, and daddy waved a huge sum of money in front of them, they "Seem to like him" again. At least in public. As for his current wife, it took a huge bribe to get her out in the public eye with Richard. It was very sad for me to watch how he treated these ladies, even in public.

Richard knew many current and former leaders plus had countless business acquaintances, and some were downright evil white men. (More on that in a minute). Most of them were racially oriented and some also looked down on women. It was rare to see a businesswoman walk into his office. Now hot dumb chicks, all the time. Over my 30 years, I can tell you that a man or woman of color, entered his personal office, maybe 5 times. I always found that to be quite odd because it was almost like Richard was allergic to them.

Richard had always been a staunch Republican and a supporter of the former President. He told the story many times about how he met and spent time with him during a court case back in 1973. Apparently, they were both on the hot-seat for racial discrimination and those two have been buddies ever since. I was always hopeful and excited for a chance to meet the former leader, but somehow, I never had the chance. I always put him on a higher pedestal because I thought he was a powerful billionaire, just like Richard always pretended to be.

Richard's company never made money and was just a shell company to funnel money through. He relied on other billionaire investors to keep our company and himself afloat.

Understandably, they completely stopped coming around and supporting Richard after January 6th, 2021, when they stormed the capitol. Yes, they. Richard took the day off and was in Washington, DC to support our former leader's voter fraud theories and he stood proud with the mislead violent supporters.

So were the two rogue senators from Missouri and Texas that frequented Richard's conversations. I watched those two on TV celebrating that horrible attack. It was disgusting and unreal that they still had a job the next day. Even Richard knew that there was no massive voter fraud in any state and he admitted it many times, but he still showed up to support his old buddy. That was a crazy day. How could those men and women totally ignore the citizens votes. I had even voted for the former leader, and still could not believe what they were trying to do! Just be a man and run again at the next election was my thought. I was sure that not a single American would ever forget that day nor vote for that guy again!

Oh, how wrong I was. Obviously, some Americans have no long-term memory! or as I would later find out, we were simply lied to and manipulated by their rogue news channel.

The January 6th Effect

Richard's social outbursts on and after Jan 6, had created a severe backlash and his company struggled financially ever since. He also, unfortunately, got sucked into investing into his buddy's social media company that tanked. Everything was going south for Richard. Once our investors soured on Richard and his friends, they slowly pulled all their investments. This left my boss fighting to keep the lights on. He stooped to new lows and peddled just about anything he could get his hands on. He even preyed upon the God-fearing Americans and sold them religious books that were all imported from China. This helped him scrape by until he settled in with a new group of shady billionaires and one really odd-duck eX CEO.

Based off the phone conversations that I had overheard, I believe some of these people were also friends of the former leader as well. I say that because I was hearing the same stories from his personal assistant, Siri. You see, Siri was always listening as well. We would have lunch together some days at the Capital Grill and swap stories.

If we understood their conversations correctly, they had amassed a group of like 2025 young and old white guys to work on a failed coup, post-election, project for their 2025 governmental aspirations. They wanted a redo and I could hear them chanting: “Coup #2, Coup #2” sometimes for like 5 minutes to get warmed up for their meeting. Those men sometimes communicated by phone, but they primarily met behind closed doors with Richard, so I started taking good notes during these events. They started haphazardly, but eventually laid out the foundation steps and settled on these 8 different subjects. While I could not hear everything, I did write down a lot of their thoughts. They were SHOCKING Conversations to say the least.

His new group of project buddies were not nice people. Very few of them would even talk to me and appeared to have more respect for the doormat than myself. I could not comprehend what was happening because I used to have a great rapport with all his former friends. This group was not respectable people that were meeting with him. I would just point to Richard's door and let them walk away.

These were all men that nobody had ever heard of before. There were also a lot of Congress men and one woman that were regulars as well. Richard even had multiple meetings with the two Senators that I recognized from January 6th.

The two that celebrated the attackers.

Another one stood out as a real piece of work, to be polite. I finally had to ask Doug, Richard's P.I.

"Who was the unknown guy that went by the nickname of P.J.

Pants". Well, after a long trail of legal name changes, Richard was just confused and was pronouncing it wrong. I had personally never heard of a grown man legally renaming himself, multiple times. Weird, was he hiding from something, I was wondering. Doug was going to check his criminal background and give me the 411 later, because in his words, “That stink don’t smell right!”

Their Plans Unfold

As the meetings went on, I took a few more notes as they planned each committee:

1. Mobilize a committee to focus on the former leader's election fraud theory. How can we help deceive the voters?

Pretty simple, every member of the Project has to promise to support our former leader no matter what he says and no matter what evidence is found or not found. Get as much airtime as you can and dominate your social media. Lie and Deny will be our new campaign strategy because we have no healthcare plan or any policies that favor the American citizens. If he should run again, start verbally predicting massive voter fraud again and the sooner the better, then hammer it home boys. That one worked fantastic on his followers before the last election. Our polls show that we still have millions of his followers continuing to believe in our Big Lie. Never confirm, deny or even comment about it. Remember, Loose-Lips Sink Ships and Campaigns. Just deflect away from the subject. Do NOT get caught in your own lie defending him.

2. Mobilize a committee to focus on financially punishing the citizens for electing (Moe) the other old guy.

Take all the Money we can get from the American citizens. Get our Fed member to hold interest rates as low as they can, for as long as they can, to explode housing and rental prices. Then crank the interest rates high to continue our assault on the American people.

Bring rates down just barely before the election, but we do not need the citizens to feel any Hope!
Continue building the millions of apartment units for when we force a massive home foreclosure event in 2025, just like we did in 2008, if we get in power again. Get all our supporting CEOs to start shrinkflation today by cutting down food packaging and shrinking their products. Also get them on a schedule to spike food prices in different sectors, at different times. Inflation is only to rise 8-12% according to experts. Listen, you need to Inflate Food & Gasoline at least 100% higher (Double the Prices). More if you have the balls. We will call it Bobbinomics to infuriate the masses. The troubled economy that our corporate partners and us built, must be the foundation of our attack. Have him hammer Bobbinomics home because we are dealing with people that will believe him, without doing any research! (There may be a God after all, if we can pull this off again.)

3. Mobilize a committee to focus on taking rights away from the women, voters and non-whites.

Get our state governors to skew every voting law to favor us as they can legally get away with. Make sure they are in communication with each other to maximize voter restrictions before the next election. Follow Texas and Georgia's lead on this one. We also need a religious war to help anchor female supporters to our party. Use our judges to strike down Roe and take female rights back away from women ASAP. Remember guys, this has nothing to do with abortion, it is just the first step in putting women back in their places. With enough propaganda, we can pit millions of women against each other. Understand, with his past of so many sexual “issues” with respectable women, we must buffalo our women into a massive diversion just until the election is over. For the voters, use Gerrymandering to the maximum in all our states to limit non-white voters effectiveness. Use our guy in the post office to remove as many mail drop boxes as possible. Cut tens of thousands of postal jobs to ensure all mail and the mail-in-ballots in “some states” are possibly slowed. Tell the citizens that the post office is bleeding money. * Reminder: Defund the post office...again!

4. Mobilize a committee to discredit and dismantle the judicial system and all law enforcement agencies.

We all need to come together to get the citizens past one of the former leader's many criminal trials. We are all praying that he gets no felony convictions. We must also discredit the DOJ and the judicial / court system.

Remember to flood the media with the word “Sham”. That is a gray word that they probably can’t pin us down with lying about our judicial system. We must discuss how to cut the legs out from under the FBI and take the heat off our party’s plans and marching orders. We cannot afford for them to find out about our foreign ties before we wrap this thing up. Have our lawyers in every state file as many frivolous lawsuits as possible to overwhelm our criminal courts. Greed will take over our judges and lawyers so criminals will be set free.

(Side note that I wrote down by a Senator from Texas: Invest in gun companies and security companies because they will eventually pay us all dividends! We need to also support our Chinese arms import partner, “Not Really Americans, LTD”, until we get those containers passed through customs.)

5. Mobilize a committee to continue cutting corporate taxes till zero.

Simple, get our guy back in office and finish the 2017 corporate tax cuts. We need our billionaires to pay nothing in taxes and actually get back refunds when possible. This will completely transfer the rest of the nation's money supply to us. Luckily, we have already stolen half of the citizens money. Remember, there is no shortage of money in the USA, we just have it all. Every American family and small business is suffering because of our corporate tax cuts and our timely corporate over-inflation. The best part, half of them still believe it was the Democrats that caused the inflation. A special thank you to our foxy news anchors for all their help on this one. We could not have done a better job of lying to the people by ourselves!

6. Mobilize a committee to defund and refocus the IRS to audit the citizens only.

Over the years we have been very successful at defunding the IRS. In order for committee 5 to be successful, we need to keep up the assault. If we can retain control of the Senate and House in 2022 and 2024, we can abolish them from our corporate lives. Then we can focus on civilian audits to keep this country churning.

7. Mobilize a committee to collect money from donors to keep and elect every Project supporter we can.

Members, fund raise continuously to outspend and get more Project members voted in office. Contact our Republican corporate billionaires. We are so close to taking over America, threaten them if you must. That way the snowball will quickly pick up for our 2025 Project members to finally take over this country. Start today to create strong talking points to get our folks elected. Spike has suggested using abortion and immigration as our 2 key hot topics. He will handle not funding immigration if someone else will take on abortion. Get with that twisted Christian National group and ask for Posh, (He and his wife are great resources and are well versed at taking rights away from women.) Sundays are best because they hang out at the golf course. Not in a church.

8. Mobilize a committee to dismantle the current Department of Education.

We must start teaching our children our religious and political beliefs. First, we need to further test creating voucher systems in all 50 states like we did in Florida and a couple other red states. If that is not working fast enough, we may need to shut down the Department of Education and remove the educator's unions in all 50 states.

We can simply start by online only classes broadcast to every child. The state's school tax profits will soar for us. We also need more discussion on outlawing home schooling as well.

WOW, as I wrote all these down, I was thinking this little group of nut job, dictator hopefuls will never see political power. They were just a bunch of power-hungry, openly racist, misogynistic, blowhard goons were obviously puppets for the filthy rich and were literally making plans to destroy the American way and our American Dreams, as they just sat and laughed about it!

I could not understand how people even think like this! Sadly, Richard was right there to support them.

The one comment that stuck out for me the most was: “His followers will never see this coming. Especially the ones glued to their predator news on TV.”

Reality Settles In

Just the week before, I had watched a scary documentary on TV about Hitler’s rise to power. His first order of business was to take over the public schools. Hitler forced all Germany’s children to learn the communist ways and forced his and only his religion on every one of those sweet children.

Well, and the adults as well.
Thinking back, Richard had been talking to one of his back-door buddies from Florida for years about their party controlling the schools. I knew it was asinine, so I did not pay much attention. I never thought the over-bearing, bullies would force those laws on all their citizens without a public vote! To not give voters a say in laws that directly affects their children, is above and beyond WRONG!

Richard and his new buddies continued to talk about taking over the schools for months. They also focused on defunding the police and the FBI. They spent hours working on different plans to discredit them and tried to build a believable case for pulling their funding. They also discussed defunding the DOJ, IRS and Border Security. They discussed deregulating the gas and oil industry, the giant food processing plants and the clean air & water initiatives of the EPA. For some reason they especially wanted law enforcement out of the way. I never did hear exactly why but I suspect it was because they were all shady characters. Also, based on some news reports, I believe the former leader may have supported some of these projects as well. I knew he supported the corporate tax cuts and with all his legal troubles, I was betting he supported the dismantling of our judicial system as well.

As the days ticked by, a few of them really started to get bat-scat crazy. Here is what they started spewing:

“Women should Never be allowed to get an abortion. Rape is her fault, Incest is her fault and having sex is her fault, she could just close her legs. As they laughed and high-fived each other.

Women should not be allowed any form of contraceptives. Nobody likes wearing those condoms anyway!

Women should not be allowed to receive IVF treatments. I will impregnate her if she is having trouble!

Women should not be able to end a marriage without the man's consent. Divorce is always because women stop putting out.

Women should not be allowed to work outside of the home. They have a household to keep tidy and men to wait on!

Women should please their man upon request. Oh yeah, that is what I am talking about!"

WTF, little men! I was getting so sick of these women haters and realized I had found 2025 reasons to vote against these men.

All of a sudden, Covid hit and they scurried away like a pack of rats. We all took a little break and Richard hid in his house for a couple weeks. Although he did not publicly admit it, he was scared just like all of us. His weight, age and poor health made him a target. He recommended that I start working from home 3 days a week. It was great! I slept in an extra hour, showered and dressed nice from the waist up. Sweatpants and house slippers were far more comfortable than dress pants and heels.

It was not long before he missed me waiting on him, hand and foot, so my time at home was short-lived. It was back to full-length dress pants again...bummer!

While at home, I did read a lot in my spare time and was hearing about other big companies using the pandemic to outsource jobs to India or countless other foreign countries. Once they figured out logistically how to get everyone to work remotely here in the USA, it was easy to switch to Cheap Labor. Many of Richards's corporate buddies were bragging about the millions of dollars they were on track to save.

I knew it could never happen to me nor my company. Richard and our companies were as American as it got. Well, just don't count all the cheap, illegal, foreign workers he hired, on his many construction projects. All his bitching about immigrants was just a big show to hide his personal wrongdoings. I had recently heard a conversation with someone with a code name of Spike...again that “Was to kill that immigration bill.” Then once that actually happened, I overheard many more calls about hiring back our “south-of-the-border” friends. Hypocrites!

Well, I was dead wrong thinking that I would never be outsourced. Within days of those conversations, I too was laid off and replaced by their cheaper help. Richard did not have the balls to do it himself. He had some unknown woman from a temporary HR agency call me on my “Work from Home Friday”. (Richard was proud to give me just 2 weeks earlier. Now it all makes sense!). Oh, and I am sure you guessed already, but that lady that fired me, had a strong foreign accent but called herself “Marjorie”. My passwords and badge were revoked seconds after the call was placed. I received a 4 week severance pay and was told NOT to apply for unemployment.

“Yeah, F-You” was my automatic response. They offered me No help or assistance finding a new job or career. Over 30 years...GONE!
What a pig!

I found out that same day that my bestie Siri was also a victim of political offshoring! Imagine that, the 2 old buddies were still working together!

I Dream Two

The day that Siri and I were both laid off by those men, we partook in a little liquid confidence building exercise at our local club. We bashed them losers and swore off ever working for a wannabe billionaire again. Plus we told so many stories about them, we laughed all night. Luckily, Siri had tons of little pee-pee stories to tell!

After I returned home, I brushed my teeth, went pee and headed to bed. I do not remember brushing my teeth or going pee, but I do clearly remember the dream I had that night.

I remember sitting on my deck outside and reading a physical newspaper like the old days. The headline on the front page was:

“America’s Most Useless Men, Seek Asylum On Mars
After “SHE” Gender Takes Over Earth”

The subheading was;

“Republican Leaders and Elon Parish After One Generation” As

I read the article, not gonna lie, I was kind of excited to read on. The reporter (Dana Bashedmen) happily stated that Elon Musk had secretly made 182 personal one-way-rockets to take the “Best Stock of Men” to Mars. They would colonize a new “United States of Mars” country all to themselves. After a devastating loss at the polls, Elon wanted to “Rule a Different World”.

(147) rockets were for the congress members that voted to overturn the 2020 election based off the Big Lie. Even Donald's little Johnson made the list. (29) were for the red state governors that created restrictive voting laws after the Big Lie. One was specially equipped to be wheelchair assessable, Thank God! (1) was for the former president. (3) were for the women needed to reproduce. 2 of these sadly include MYSELF &

SIRI because we were the only two females that always listened to them. The third female rocket was for the US House member because she carried a gun and was blondish. The article also stated that she would not take NO for an answer. Her exact comment was “Get me the F out of this place” (1) The last one was of course, for Elon.

Oh crap, forgot one...(1) was for the Shifty Ohio dude, in the last minute. Elon stated that he was an afterthought but they just needed someone to make fun of for all eternity!

Elon later admitted he left Bezos on the launch pad. He did not need competition for the richest man on Mars!

Oddly enough, they decided to start their calendar on June 16th, 2015 to rekindle their love affair with their chosen God!

Halfway to Mars, Elon came to the realization that Siri and I were engineered sterile by some creepy little basement troll. That meant that they only had one female option to carry on their legacies with. Elon quickly sent an urgent distress text to NASA requesting a lot more alcohol and a couple Palin and Hannity masks, to mix it up!

When the news broke, Harris was recorded as saying: “Good Luck Boys” as she ordered NASA to only send contraceptives, near beer and 181 miniature rubber ducks flipping them off! Ironically, Donald Duck did not get one!

When I woke up, I was grinning from ear to ear and wishing my panties were slightly more absorbent. Hey, don’t judge me, the dream was too funny for me to handle. I mean, where did the Hannity line come from? 😂

Where Did Our Money Go

I have always been a Republican and I knew that the economy was booming. “Great” it will be easy to find a comparable good job...so I thought. Weeks went by, no phone calls and no emails. Absolute radio silence. Crickets.

“I do not understand”, Vulpes News was still bragging about the strong economy. Are they just lying to me? The stock market was hot and even our former leader was still taking credit for the strong economy that he supposedly created. However, something was not adding up for me. I was watching local and national businesses closing shop after decades or even a century. Huge brick and mortar chains filing for bankruptcy and the homeless problem was out of control. I watched other neighbors losing their good jobs and even losing their homes. What was going on behind or backs. Why could we not see what was truly happening?

Just weeks before I was laid off, a famous CEO had visited. You see, Richard had a back door to his office, so I did not always see his visitors. During the visit, I could hear high-fives flying everywhere. I could also hear a champagne cork and excitement as they celebrated what sounded like someone breaking the 200 billion net-worth mark.

This could not be real, I must be hearing things. With all the people hurting financially, homeless people everywhere, the underfunding of public schools in most red states and hungry kids in America, 200 Billion dollars was just too absurd, for just one man. I did the math and that is literally 200,000 Million dollars. He could donate $1 million dollars to 200,000 people, churches, cities or charities. How much did all the other thousand CEOs and shareholders have?

Let's break it down one more time. How many $20 dollar bills do you have today? Do you realize that is 10,000,000,000, (Ten Billion) $20 dollar bills. That is beyond ridiculous. I have a full phalange extension on the middle of my dominant hand for that guy!

I seriously knew that when we elected a billionaire, things would start going south for the middle class very quickly...and it did!

Bottom Line, the leaders of the Red Party House of Representatives DID NOT Limit the growth of Hamazon, Like They Should Have!

There are Anti-Monopolies Laws and AntiTrust Laws that Democrats have supported for years. The House must have defunded as well to hurt every American Community, Small Town and BIG City! Every American and Every other Business has been Hurt by Their Negligence...Please Help Vote The Billionaire Huggers Out of Office!

Blue Will Help You Give Teeth Back to the Antitrust Division.

Hamazon Needs A MAJOR

ADJUSTMENT TODAY!
If You Want A Good Job Again!

I could hear in Richard's voice, that he was powerfully jealous. He wanted that $200 Billion...badly! What I did not know at the time was that the former leader wanted that money even worse. He also was having financial issues at the same time, for the same reasons. We later found out just days before the election, in an incredible, hot mic Freudian slip, that His financial plan was simply “Take It from the Billionaires and Wealthy News Anchors”. That slip up got the attention finally of the billionaires that were still supporting him. His support went flat over night after the “Journals” famous headline:

“Duh Billionaires, He is going to take your money too,
did you Really Think You Were Special?
And if he does not, the Project Overlords, right behind him, will!”

I also knew that He and leaders of the Red Party House of Representatives had given the Big Corporations massive tax cuts back in 2017. Then most of “Our Red State Governors” gave the Giant Corporations massive tax cuts as well. They told us it was going to trickle down and help every American. Do you remember them telling us that? I remember that exact phrase because it was rehearsed many times by Richard and someone on the other end of a phone call. What a complete load of crap!

They shared NOTHING with us.
Did you get Massive Raise in Pay?
Did you get better Healthcare?
NO! This is exactly how he was able to amass so much money!
They Did Not Share!!!

How much sense does that make? They get insane tax breaks, they shrank all our food packaging, they doubled our prices on food and all our products. Then their profits soared to record highs while our Governors gave them even more tax cuts??? This was at a time when our rate of inflation was in check and had been falling. Sadly, they even offshored more of our jobs for cheap labor and fought to destroy our labor unions. They Hate Labor.

Even as the rate of inflation was falling in mid 2022, Yes, 2 YEARS AGO and the central bank was doing a good job controlling inflation, I remember Richard taking a call then telling his buddies to “Stay the course. We need ammo for our leader to get back in power.” On one phone call, I overheard Richard tell someone, “We will take care of the media and continue blaming it on Moe. We need to keep artificially raising prices until we break the backs of the working-class suckers.

Remember, as we get closer to the election, we need to slightly lower gasoline and groceries right before the election to throw our voters off. But not too much, they do not need to feel any Hope! “He” just called me again and reaffirmed to Stay The Course!”

The Red Party had become the Billionaire Party, at every Republican, Independent and Democrat's expense. I can now see that, plain as day!

I later did my research and found out it had to be either Hamazon or Titsla in that office? Reportedly, Hamazon imports tons of cheap products every day from China, supporting their communist government. They are also using robotic technology to replace American workers as fast as they can. That 200 Billionaire had to be from Hamazon!

That is exactly why I dropped my membership and refuse to give him another nickel of my money, however, they still get close to a billion dollars a day from his unsuspecting customers. It is truly sad that our House of Representatives has allowed Hamazon to get so massive while they wasted our time and money trying to impeach the “Good People”.

I just do not care how easy and convenient Hamazon is, I choose to save my local community. Every time I read about another local store or corporate brick and mortar chain closing stores, or another neighbor loosing their home to foreclosure, I am reassured that canceling my membership was a Great Thing.

I don't think it was Titsla in his office because I had read about him over-charging millions of customers every single day, based on the 70 / 30 universal rule.

Who seriously could have that much money and not share it with their employees? Or use those extreme profits to fund a couple labor unions, to help all their employees & families plus all the contract delivery drivers.

As I looked back at my notes I took just after the Capitol attack, I had written some very colorful description of the day's events.

As the new group of “Project Men” was forming, their first pilot meeting focused on these original 4 main topics.

WOKE something (I never understood this one, but I think they thought that Gays were going to take over? Or the 3 transgender males were going to dominate college and the olympic sports?)

Illegal Immigration Defunding.
Pillaging the People.

and Abortion as Ammo.

Back to Reality

I was starting to realize that I may have not been hearing the whole story from Vulpes News. I decided to further research what was causing the terrible financial issues facing every American (Republicans and Democrats). We keep hearing about the great political divide here in the USA, but as I look around, all of us

Americans are suffering as a united group. The only financial divide is between us and the Red Party backed Giant Corporations and House of Representatives. Here is a sample of what my research has found, put in my own words:

We hired a billionaire, and ever since our personal money has slowly disappeared.

We hired a greedy employer, and our overtime pay and unions are in jeopardy.

We hired a criminal, and our personal lives has become less safe.

We hired a misogynist, and our women have lost their long-earned rights and medical options.

We hired a master manipulator, and some TV hugging Americans have lost their sense of right and wrong.

We hired a racist, and our non-white friends and neighbors are threatened and looked down upon.

We hired a liar, and his media has become a cesspool of half-truths and blatant lies.

We hired an authoritarian, and our children's education has been put in jeopardy.

We hired a dictator, and our judicial & law systems have been attacked.

Wham, Wham, Wham! And a Screw You Ma'am!

However, in 2020 we hired an old sloth, Thank You God for that, but he has coasted for 3.5 years.

In 2024 we must vote in a younger, vibrant, hardworking, non-billionaire, non-greedy, non- criminal, non-misogynist, non-manipulating, non-racist, non-liar, non-authoritarian, and definitely non-dictator! Actually, we need to hire these folks in all our US governmental houses and in every state."

For me, Harry S Truman said it best: "I do want to keep the Democratic Party a party for the people.

We can never win, unless it is."

After just a couple more hours on the web, it was apparent that only the filthy rich men were thriving in the United States. That is why the stock market keeps climbing, Corporate Profits are through the roof...for them! The Citizens have not run out of money...yet. Once we do, the Stock Market will crash. That is why we need to replace the greedy creeps in our Congress with members that care about the people, not the billionaires.

Besides, it was also very apparent that there was NEVER any Massive Voter Fraud! Were there a couple Hundred cases investigated across our entire nation? YES, did they amount to anything? NO. Keep reading for what my research turned up!

The operative word is MASSIVE voter election fraud.

DICTIONARY: “Exceptionally Large”, Not “Extremely Tiny”

* Not a single lawyer for any of the 50 states.

* Not a single lawyer for Him.

* Not even one of the 147

Republican Congress men or women that voted to overturn the secure election...Have presented even 1 shred of evidence nor any legal proof of their massive voting fraud theories, from the 2020 election. Not just a little proof, NONE!

Amazingly, this is all public knowledge. Our election process was Rock-Solid.

My Job Hunt

I NEED A JOB...NOW, I have to focus on finding a good job...and quickly.

After a month of looking, I was very frustrated trying to find a job, well a good job. After talking to my bestie, Siri, she told me to see James, a therapist friend of hers. By the way, in case I forget to tell you, I highly recommend you talk to a professional if you need to.

It worked wonders for Siri's career, so I thought; what the heck. I made the phone call and set up an appointment.

A couple days later I showed up for our first session. After a quick introduction and a little small talk, I asked James point blank;

“Why am I feeling so frustrated? I am a very religious person, but my Faith is fading and I can’t seem to hold onto the Hope nor find the employment opportunities that we all used to have.”

“Are you also a political person?” James asked me.

“Yes, I am a lifelong Republican, but what does that have to do with anything?"

"It does not matter. It just helps me approach the answer in a way you need to hear it. Do you want me to sugar coat it or just throw it on the table for you to chew on?"

He asked.

"Throw it at me, please." I replied.

"Before I give you my diagnosis, I will tell you that your party was hijacked back in 2016, so please understand, you should feel hopeless and lost because the values, integrity and policies that you once knew and worshipped are gone today! Republicans need to understand their team was kicked off the bus and a bunch of billionaire bullies took over."

"ORANGEISM is what is causing your feelings of hopeless and your loss of opportunities."

Alexa paused a moment and then said, "OK James, you will need to elaborate because I have already sworn off that guy for obvious reasons. I no longer listen to him."

“Whether you are on or off him currently is irrelevant for most Republicans. Back when Americans voted for Agent Orange, they had no idea of the cancer it would cause. You have already been exposed to their deep-seated manipulation by hired psychologists. Not to mention the continued assault by the extreme-far-right predatory news media that you and millions of followers were/are subjected to.

Generally, the Democrats are not subjected to that level of mind-control, but we will discuss that later in another session. If you did or still listen to their news channel, you were exposed.

Your party is not the Republican party it was before a billionaire took over. Late in 2015, the Extreme-Far-Right Machine started using psychology to manipulate Americans (You included). They started by telling anyone that would listen to him that there was going to be election fraud, even before the election. ‘Do not trust the election officials’ he told his listeners. Well, we know how that first election went, so that rhetoric died down because they legitimately won.”

James continued, “Fast forward to 2020, they ratcheted up the election fraud theories again because they knew they had an uphill battle to beat Moe at the polls. They used their news media personalities and every social media sites they controlled to hammer home their false warnings. He talked a big game but in most cases, he really did very little for America and our citizens (Actually, they did more harm than good) They needed to beat down Moe publicly then confuse and brainwash His own followers.

Psychology tells us, 'If you tell a lie often enough, you and your listeners will start to believe them'. Well, he did lose fair and square (We know that today) but they would not accept that he lost so they really ramped up the lies and manipulation until they finally had a fair number of Americans believing them. They sadly recruited 147 Red Party US Congress men and women to lie as well. That helped make it more believable.

Then they recruited 29 Red State Governors to push the lie as well. The state governors even went a step farther and created all kinds of restrictive voting laws to fight the Election Fraud in their states, that never happened. Texas, Georgia, South Dakota, Missouri, Florida, Arizona etc. all restricted their citizens voting rights, in one way or another, virtually unopposed because unfortunately the Democrats in those state governments were outnumbered.”

Taking a quick breather, he paused, “OK, now fast forward to today. We have all witnessed their huge list of crimes. Why not continue to lie and just deny all of it, even the crimes that others had already been convicted and sent to prison for. These were real crimes that they helped orchestrate but they claim no responsibility for nor any connection to. Some are even crimes against women, that they claim as false, as well...and amazingly, people can't see past their denials. That is because you and they have been so conditioned and manipulated that you cannot distinguish the difference in right and wrong anymore. If the exact same crimes were committed by anyone else, you would freak out and with just half of the evidence, would know immediately that they were guilty. In 2024 they have a mountain of lies, crimes and some have cognitive issues to the point that no sane American should vote for them.

But Wait, there is more...they brought abortion in the mix just to start a religious war between the two parties. Compounding the hate and divide, they stacked on immigration issues, also directly created by themselves and blamed Moe for the bogus grocery over-inflation. All this added up to a trifecta of manipulation by the evil puppets. Then they turned the cauldron of hate & divide over to their team of psychologists. They intern have effectively anchored their followers to them so he can lead them right up to the concentration camp gates. Sorry got a little dramatic there!"

"Wow" Alexa said. "Is this all true?"

"Only if you believe me. This is just a combination of facts mixed with educated guesses and speculation. It may be a little dramatic, but I do not openly lie to people and then charge them.” He laughed as he continued.

“Our 15-minute exploration session is about up. If you are comfortable with me and wish to book a second session, give me a call or you can book online.”

“Absolutely, I will digest our first talk and get back to you.”
Alexa told him.

“Please understand that because you are Republican, I was just catching you up on a sliver of what makes you frustrated and have that loss of hope. Hope has literally been beaten out of you over time.

Now lifelong Democrats feel some of the same emotions because they can't understand why a single American would remotely want to see them back in power. Same feelings, different causes. I know because I was once a Republican as well. Due to my profession and education, I bailed when Hillary lost the election! I knew what was coming much earlier than most people.”

“Man, I know my time is up, but I have really enjoyed our talk today. Thank You again James and I will be in touch.” As she shook his hand and headed for the door.

It was time to get serious about finding a good job and I could not wait for the real session with James. Later that day I started searching the wild open world of the web, for a job, I started reading and collecting news headlines that I had never seen or heard before. None of these headlines ever made it to my once beloved Vulpes News. Eye opening was an understatement. I actually felt violated at what I was reading, so I saved the best ones for you and will include them later in the story.

It really sucks that he has bullied his way back into our political lives again. I am embarrassed that I voted for him twice. It is black and white now, I voted for him simply because 'I Believed Him' OMG, I was so wrong.

I figured out that if Vulpes News went off the air 30 days before the election, the chances of electing a dictator would drop by 50%. Today, listening to the Vulpes

News anchors trying to justify his actions, denying his crimes and his boo-hoo politics, would quickly get old for me because it is NOT news, it is lame entertainment at best.

Not The End Ladies

Women all across our once Great country have begun to realize that the extreme far right started manipulating them in early 2016.

Besides telling them the Democrats were going to cheat at the election which, we now know was the Republicans that attempted to steal the election. They also used religious manipulation to turn women against other women that simply needed choices in their lives.

Before those old men overturned Roe vs Wade, they knew they could not win the next election and they needed ammo, badly.

Americans got along and abortion was not shoved in our faces and used as a weapon to take the rights away from women and their daughters and granddaughters. It was a private matter between an adult woman or rape and incest victims and their doctors or nurses. These women could not see how the 2025 men used psychology to over-power their logic and used them as Karen Puppets! Women in America lost the Medical Options that could save their life or the life of their daughter or granddaughter one day. (Sorry to be repetitive, but that is exactly how they hooked good women!)

You will notice that most of the puppetized Karen's are beyond child bearing years and they are helping to take female rights away from younger women. They just don't see how they are supporting these evil men to take the hard-earned rights away from other women. In 1973, the Supreme Court got it right. They were not there to rule on abortion, they were there to rule on equal rights for women and to GIVE them the right and say over their personal bodies and any female specific medical needs required. This is NOT some rich politician's right or business, this is not your business, this is the individual woman's right and business.

“Do to others as you would have them do to you!”

Speaking of abortions, “Necessary Female Medical Care” is NOT abortion and HAS TO BE a Clear Exception to any states laws.
One year ago, I tragically lost my only daughter due to a miscarriage at 4 months. My daughter was frantic to find a local hospital in her home state of Missouri, to simply help her. Not a single doctor or hospital would dare touch my dying daughter nor even admit her. She died while her close friend tried to drive her to a female friendly state. My daughter was gone before I could even book a flight to Kansas City. I lost my only daughter within 7 hours of her pain starting. One simple medical procedure could have saved my daughter's life. THIS HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH ABORTION!

Due to Missouri's barbaric laws, I WILL NEVER SEE MY DAUGHTER AGAIN and I damn sure will never VOTE FOR THAT BLOOD-RED PARTY AGAIN!

The only good news to come of this tragedy is: I took a new job with the first female Governor in the history of Missouri. We are slowly working on changing Missouri, Georgia, Arizona, Louisiana, Alabama etc. all to blue. Those women have been oppressed far too long.

Thank You for your time and please Deeply consider your choices...while we still have them...at the next and all future elections.

P.S. Do Not be a Karen Puppet. I am asking you for my daughter and your future grand & great granddaughters. ❤️
