holiday Party

Our winter holiday party will be this Friday after lunch! It's going to be so much fun! Thanks to Neha's generous party donations (Aarav's mom.), we will be enjoying some yummy snacks.

calling for help:

I have planned some fun games for the party that have a CANDY CANE THEME. I am hoping for some candy cane donations since we may need up to 100! If you are able to help, please send in candy cane donations by Wednesday. That will give me time to buy more if needed. Thank you so much!

Book Clubs

Hopefully we are now in the routine of knowing that Monday afternoons we will be meeting as Book Clubs.

It is very important to be prepared for our club discussions.

If you are reading the book with your child - thank you! It is very important to spend a few minutes every night to discuss and brainstorm ideas for what to write on the post-its. You can also check the Reading Log. After our partner conferences during the week, I usually write a few notes to give some guidance for our Book Club. So always take a look to check that out.

Acorn Harvest Festival

Are you working on an extra credit project for Survival? The last week to work on this is the week after our winter break. This will help us earn more games for the festival. Wow!
