Taking a break:

It's a short week and we are going to be doing some catch up because of my extended absence last week.

So...we will take a break from

- ☀ spelling homework
- ☀ Word Power
- ☀ Word Hunts
- ☀ less math

thank You!

Thank you so much for your patience and flexibility when I had to suddenly be absent. I was dealing with a family emergency. But now all is well.

Rock Collection

By Monday you need 3 more good rocks that are different from what you already have. It will not count if you choose 3 of the same type of rock. Remember, we use the word "OBVIOUS" in class all the time. And finally... stay away from pebbles!
FYI: procrastination is never a good idea.

Book Clubs

We are starting new book clubs this week!

Everyone formed a new club with friends and chose a book to read.

Everyone has been given a Book Club Contract which will show what to read Monday through Thursday. We do it this way because there are 5 different books happening now!

I will do a "quick check" conference with partners on Thursday, and I will write in everyone's Reading Log. You should have post-its written and be ready to discuss your best thinking. We will meet in our Book Clubs on Monday.

Acorn Harvest Festival

We are celebrating this Friday!
The Ellerbees earned 3 games and some food. If you are willing to help with the food, please send me an email by Wednesday. I really appreciate your help!!
