Hyperboles are the best thing ever!

We are learning all about hyperboles this week. Start being on the look out for hyperboles because we will be hunting for them next week.

"This bag weighs a ton!"

No Excuse Words

perhaps	family	quite	quiet
beginning	through	threw	height
business	busy	accept	almost
angel	angle	February	exact
unusual	except	right	write

Book Clubs

We are continuing our book clubs this week! Woo hoo!

This week we will be reading our last "chunk" in How to Steal a Dog. In other words, we'll be finishing the book.

As you know, each week we think about what are the Top 4 things that happen in the chunk we're reading. This is not easy and has been a challenging process.

The types of mistakes happening are missing something important completely, choosing something important BUT not writing about the main point, repeating ideas, choosing something that is not important, and writing a good idea but it is about earlier chunks you read.

In order to help with this, there is a new link on our website that gives more information and provides examples. It also shows the best process to go through to help narrow events down to the Top 4. Please go to the link and read the details. Understanding what is important and WHY it is important is a huge part of growing as a reader. Remember, learning something new is always challenging. It is normal to make mistakes. But what matters is that we learn from our mistakes and keep trying. You can do it!! IMPORTANT: This week's focus is ideas you might have about theme.

Writing FYI

Please make sure that you finished writing your climax for the beach story. It was due last week.

TOP 4 ON THURSDAY

Thursday is your night to make final decisions about what are the Top 4 important things that happened. It's a good idea to work with someone as you brainstorm and support each other. You might have 6 to 8 ideas so you need to just keep the 4 most important things.
