No Homework

friday fyi

It's a minimum day on Friday! School will be dismissed at 11:50. Hooray!

Music Performance

A flyer went home last week about our class performance on Tuesday at 10:30. I hope you can make it! Woo hoo!

Because of the Test

It's time to lighten the load again in order to have plenty of time to study!

- ◆ No spelling
- ◆ No Word Power
- ◆ No Word Hunt
- ◆ Less math

Final Thoughts For Book Club

We have finished our LAST Book Club!

Wow! Now it's time to study for the Final Thoughts Reading Test ON FRIDAY!

We've done this before. And, please remember that the format of the test does not change.

Nothing about the test is a surprise. Please check the Test Support on our website to see the 4 parts that will be on the test. Each day in class students will work with their book clubs to brainstorm and work on the 4 parts of the test. Each night, there will be study evidence to help with studying. A big part of studying is to have mom or dad quiz their student. They should have notes from school to use for quizzing. Each morning, the students need to show up with their study evidence and a parent signature to verify that s/he studied.

Open House!

It's happening this THURSDAY!

We "mustache" you to drop in between 8:15 and 9:00. All the Ellerbees have stuff they are excited to show you! They will show you some math, writing, science, and more! Also, there will be an Art Show on display in the multipurpose room. Don't forget to check it out! We are so excited!

And don't forget our photo booth! We can't wait for all the fun! See you soon!

Just pop in at 8:15. We can't wait to see you!
