

How do you work with animals?

With each pet, I collect basic health information. I am able to work long distance since all I need is a photo of the animal to connect with them. Like medical Intuitives who connect in a special way with humans, I connect with each animal telepathically and use kinesthetic to test their response to my questions. I am able to go into an animal's autonomic control system, the equivalent of their body's mainframe computer, to find out what's working, what isn't working, and what the pet is willing to have changed.

While veterinarians will make referrals to me as an adjunct to their work, please be aware that intuitive work does not replace responsible veterinary care.

My cat has allergies. She's been taking medication to control it for years. Anytime she comes off the medication, the allergies return. Does she have to spend the rest of her life of the medication?

Allergies have several sources. They can be something the cat inhales, something they eat or something they come into contact with, such as bedding or carpeting.

Knowing what triggers the allergies gives you a much better opportunity to change things in your cat's environment to stop the reactions.

Radiant Animals can help identify the specific source of allergies and reset your cat's system to stop their reaction.

I love sleeping with my cat, but her breath is lethal. What can I do to help make her breath less smelly?

A healthy cat smells good. Their fur smells clean and their breath is tolerable, with perhaps overtones of their last meal.

Foul breath means an immediate trip to the vet to ensure the cat is healthy. Bad breath is often a sign of cavities, abscesses and other mouth problems. Any of these can shorten your cat's life. Your vet can also teach you how to care for your animal's teeth.

A healthy cat has few mouth problems. Radiant Animals uses natural methods to uncover hidden health issues and restore your cat to optimal health.

I'm getting married. I have a cat; my fiancé has a dog. Both animals are 10 years old. How do we ensure that they are as happy as we are with the new family structure?

Congratulations! If both the dog and the cat are going to a new home they both will need to be slowly and gently introduced to their new space. If you are bringing one animal into the home of the other animal, you need to make the introductions slow and easy so both animals feel safe.

Radiant Animals successfully accelerates the integration process. We help animals integrate into their new homes and bond into a new family structure.

I've had two cats for 3 years. They used to get along just fine. All of a sudden the male started beating up on the female. She's afraid to come out from under the bed now. What can I do? They are both altered.

Cat aggression after being peaceful for years can be caused by several things.

Are both cats healthy? A check up for both cats is your first step.

Next – rule out external stimuli. If animals are roaming outside the windows your inside cat may be using his housemate as the surrogate for those he cannot reach. Redirected aggression is potentially quite dangerous to everyone in the household.

Radiant Animals can help reduce both the anxiety and the aggression in your cats and speed up their re-integration into one harmonious household.
