Judging Points

Live Show Ewe & Lamb

Ewes will be properly washed and sheared for this competition, based on major show guidelines for their breed. Ewes can be clipped up to one month out or be carrying little hair/wool. Ewes will be judged from a commercial production standpoint. Lambs will be properly washed and sheared for this competition (if weaned from the ewe).

Lambs will be judged from a commercial production standpoint. Cull faults will still be penalized as will breeding soundness issues. Animals will be shown unaltered (loose). This will also include placing the projects in a 1st – 5th place and awarding points for these placings as well.

Record Book

The record book will encompass data on the ewe and lamb. Weight gains of the lamb will be recorded by the youth in their record book, along with monetary output of care for both the ewe and the lamb. A panel of 2 people will judge the record books on neatness, ease of reading, knowledge of project in relation to a commercial setting and effort by the youth member in maintaining accurate flock records. The two judge's scores will be combined for the final record book score. Record books will be judged, and scores calculated before the start of the show. They will be displayed during the sheep production show.

Interview

A live interview, by a panel of 2 individuals, will be conducted via Teams. Topics and potential questions will relate to sheep husbandry, agriculture, their own animals, and record books. The four scores will be combined for the final interview score.

Point schedule

Annabelle's Story

Production ewe M Bar W Ranch 2007 was born on May 20, 2020. This is her first time to lamb. In November 2021 I bred her to my ram "Grambo" (M Bar W Ranch 917), and on April 3, 2022 she delivered twins a ram and a ewe with no help.

The ram lamb weighed 9 pounds 9 ounces. The ewe lamb weighed 7 pounds 8 ounces. At birth they were given a dose of Doc Probiotics. On April 5th we docked their tails, gave them ear tags and their CDE&T shot. The production ewe was also given her annual shot at this time.

Annabelle was a show sheep in 2020-2021 and 2021-2022. She was raised on High Noon Texas Extreme feed as a lamb, and then moved to High Noon Charmasson feed during her last show season. When she was done showing she was put into the big herd and moved to pasture only to get ready lamb in the spring of 2022. I will be showing her this year as an aged ewe as well as her two lambs.

Annabelle has been a good mom, and Bonnie & Clyde have been growing very good. They have been very healthy too, and are on High Noon Creep Feed.
