MOTIVATIONAL SPEAKER | LEADERSHIP COACH | EDUCATIONAL CONSULTANT

Dr. Herbie Monroe is a nationally recognized superintendent, speaker, and leadership strategist who equips educators and leaders with practical strategies to sustain excellence without burnout. With over 30 years of impactful leadership in K-12 education, he has driven growth by improving accreditation rates, closing achievement gaps, and fostering cultures of trust, belonging, and high performance.

Currently serving as Superintendent of Surry County Public Schools, Dr. Monroe has also held roles as assistant superintendent, principal, and district leader, leading strategic planning, managing multimillion-dollar budgets, and guiding diverse teams.

Dr. Herbie Monroe's leadership blends operational expertise with a strong relational focus, grounded in his work as a Licensed Qualified Mental Health Professional. This unique perspective allows him to strengthen both systems and the human dynamics that drive lasting success.

A dynamic speaker, Dr. Monroe has delivered keynotes and professional learning for organizations including Virginia Tech, Virginia Commonwealth University, the University of Richmond, and national education conferences. Known for his authenticity and energy, he provides actionable strategies to help leaders manage stress, build relationships, and lead with clarity in high-pressure environments.

His message resonates with today's leaders. Dr. Monroe doesn't just inspire, he equips. Audiences leave with practical tools to improve performance, culture, and overall well-being.
