WST GLOBAL GROUP

Work & Study Travel is a leading educational agency that specializes in providing comprehensive support and guidance to students from all around the world. With our diverse range of programs and dedicated team of experts, we are committed to making your study abroad experience unforgettable.

WST is a brand that is part of the Work and Study Travel Group, a business group that includes language schools in the Canary Islands (Language Campus) and in Ireland (ELI Schools).

With offices and representatives across multiple continents, we are dedicated to helping our students fulfill their dreams of studying abroad.

Join us at WST and embark on an incredible educational journey that you'll cherish for a lifetime.

OUR HISTORY

Welcome to the remarkable journey of Work and Study Travel (WST), a multifaceted international educational agency that has been transforming lives since its inception. Our story is one of passion, dedication, and a relentless commitment to empowering students like you to achieve their dreams of studying and working abroad.

WST's roots trace back to 2008 when our first brand, Language Campus, emerged in Tenerife, Spain. With a focus on language courses, Language Campus quickly became the leading ensemble of language schools in the Canary Islands, offering programs in English, French, Italian, Mandarin, and more. As our success grew, so did our offerings, expanding to include summer camp programs and language education trips abroad.

Embracing our passion for supporting students globally, in 2018, we ventured into the Latin American market, leveraging our tailored management system, effective marketing campaigns, and a dedicated team. We forged new partnerships, incorporated representations in new territories, and generated synergies with prominent travel agencies in various regions.

In 2020, a pivotal year for WST, we introduced Work & Study Travel, representing prestigious colleges and universities in Canada, Ireland, the United Kingdom, Australia, Germany, Spain, and Turkey. By offering higher education programs that provide professional training and language immersion opportunities, we have expanded our commitment to help students enhance their skills and embrace a global perspective.

OUR HISTORY

Today, WST stands as a leading educational agency with a global presence and a team of more than 50 sales representatives. Our headquarters in Dublin, Ireland, serve as the heart of our operations, while our offices and team members located in the regions we represent ensure personalized support for students around the world. Our rich history fuels our determination to be the reference brand in the study and work abroad domain.

We are constantly innovating, seeking new partnerships, and staying abreast of the latest trends to provide you with exceptional educational opportunities and unparalleled support.

Join us at WST as we continue to create extraordinary experiences for students' dreams. Together, let's unlock the doors to endless possibilities, shape your future, and leave a lasting impact on their life's journey.

EXPOIRELAND: Educational Fairs

Our own brand to promote the Emerald Island, Ireland.

Taking advantage of the large database of potential students from the agency and the sales we have had for Higher Education and English programs, we launched our first two student fairs in 2022: San Salvador and Cancun.

The purpose of these fairs is to promote Ireland as an educational destination for international students, highlighting the academic offerings of our partners.

After two extremely successful editions, 6 fairs are being planned for the end of the year.
