Happy Holidays!

It's that time of year again, when everyone is worried about getting the perfect gift for each person on their list. It's interesting that lots of people in the last few years have been opting for different kinds of gifts, gifts that are truly thoughtful and yes more economical. Some of the things I've heard of include the gift of time, for example getting friends together for an evening of game playing or dinner can be an amazing gift for everyone involved. Another idea was giving homemade "coupons" for the completion of certain tasks, for example car washes or foot massages upon request. What's even better, these gifts are often more appreciated than another ill-fitting sweater that won't get worn anyhow.

In that same vein, we would like to offer you a fabulous gift idea for your loved ones this holiday season. This year you could make a lasting impression in someone's life by introducing them to chiropractic. There is little that you could do that would benefit someone you care about more than this simple gesture. I know many of you have been trying to get your loved ones into the office by various means for a long time. In 2022, the Strauss Chiropractic Center recommits itself to serving you in every possible way.

You know that chiropractic may be good for how you feel but more importantly it improves the way your body functions. That could result in anything from better concentration, better performance, better sleep to so much more. In short, chiropractic ensures a better you... period.

Let's face it the greatest gift you can ever give--to your loved ones, yourself or me--is to live a life of significance, to be your best you and make whatever contribution you were meant to in this life. You, and everyone, are better able to that when you are free of vertebral subluxation, when your spine is aligned and your nerve system is clear.

This holiday season give a gift that will last into 2022 and maybe even a lifetime. Share chiropractic with someone and let us know if we can help you make an incredible difference in someone's life. Wishing you and yours a happy holiday season and a healthy and prosperous new year.

Heartfelt Wishes for Joyous Holiday Season
