

ROLE PLAY: Hello , how's it going? Good to hear. Hey, I have a short video that I KNOW you'll want to see. Can you take just 6 minutes to check out this short video if I text it to you right now? (Wait for an answer. Do not speak) When they say OK, do not try to explain anything. Just text them your link. <https://go.e1ulife.com/ai-takeover?affid=USER ID>

Next ask: Did you get it? (wait for an answer) Great. The video is only 6 min. You are helping me a lot as I get points when people watch this video regardless of whether they have an interest or not, that does not matter. I will stay on the line while you watch it. Just touch the link and I will be here to get your feedback when the video is completed.

(If they say now is not a good time, ask them to give you a time later that day.) Let them know that it's best that we watch it together. When they give you a time say great. Then say now ____ if you are like me, I will forget, so can you set the alarm on your phone to remind you of our appointment? (Wait on the phone while they set the phone alarm.)

Great, I will call you back then to get your feedback. It does not matter at all if you have an interest or not. I get points just to make sure people watch the video. So, thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you. I really appreciate you helping me with this. I knew I could count on you.
