“Travel is fatal to prejudice,
bigotry, and narrow-mindedness,
and many of our people need
it sorely on these accounts.
Broad, wholesome, charitable views of men and things cannot be acquired by vegetating in one little corner of the earth all one’s lifetime.” — Mark Twain, Innocents Abroad, 1869

DECIBEL RANGES

The threshold of pain for humans can happen between 120dB and 140dB. At this level you begin to physically feel the pain of the sound.

SPORTING EVENTS

Sporting events can differ in volume because much of the sound is from fan reaction. Events like these can reach a decibel level from 105dB to 136dB. Exposure at this level without any form of hearing protection can lead to damage in less than thirty-five seconds.

Many sporting events can last from two to three hours, and having a near constant exposure to the varying decibel levels can have a highly negative impact on an individual's hearing over time.

YOUR EARS CAN'T.
