Current Housing Stock

The Cape Cod Commission conducted a housing typology study using local assessors' data and state class property codes. The graph below shows the distribution of various types of residences using this data, which differs slightly from American Community Survey counts. In Harwich, about 85% of residential properties are single-family homes; nearly 13% are multifamily properties. The remaining 3% are other types of properties. Other properties may be a single home or may be multifamily homes such as compounds, which may include multiple houses on one parcel occupied by different households or a single family home with a quest house. Mix of uses are properties that have at least one residence on them but also have some sort of other use such as agricultural or commercial. #### Affordable Housing Units

The Massachusetts Subsidized Housing Inventory is used to measure a community's stock of low- or moderateincome housing for the purposes of M.G.L. Chapter 40B, the Comprehensive Permit Law, which encourages communities to have 10% of their housing stock be affordable for low- to moderate-income households. While housing developed under Chapter 40B is eliqible for inclusion on the inventory, other types of housing also qualify to count toward a community's affordable housing stock.

Community Activity Centers

Community Activity Centers are areas with a concentration of business activity, community activity, and a compact built environment that may be suitable for additional housing and a mix of uses at a scale that fits in with the community's character. The vision for these areas is to accommodate these uses in a walkable, vibrant area, preserve historic buildings, and to provide diverse services, shopping, recreation, civic spaces, housing, and job opportunities, with adequate infrastructure and pedestrian amenities to support development. The Cape Cod Commission identified seventeen Community Activity Centers across the region. Harwich has one identified Community Activity Center in Harwich Port. A portion of the Dennis Port Community Activity Center is also within the Town of Harwich.

Zoning

Accessory Dwelling Unit by Right

An accessory dwelling unit (ADU) is a secondary housing unit on a singlefamily residential lot. ADUs can include over-garage units, carriage houses, or in-house apartments, and may provide more affordable housing options.

Multifamily Housing by Right

Multifamily zoning by right makes the ability to develop multifamily units in certain districts of a town easier, supporting an expanded and diversified housing stock.

× NOT ALLOWED

Inclusionary Zoning Policy

Inclusionary zoning requires developers to designate a percentage of the units in certain projects as available to lower to moderate income households.

× NOT ADOPTED

Zoning Districts

As with most Cape towns, the vast majority of the town is zoned for residential uses, as can be seen in the map and the graph. These zoning categories are broad and do not capture the many nuances of the specific zoning regulations for each district, nor do they include overlay districts, but help to provide a summary of the distribution of land available for certain types of uses throughout town.
