THE FRANKLIN THEATRE RE-LAUNCHES MOVIE SERIES

REWATCHING CLASSICS ON THE BIG SCREEN OFFERS AN EXPERIENCE LIKE NO OTHER

The Franklin Theatre is excited to announce a re-launch of its movie offerings with a new curated, themed movie-going experience in collaboration with Chad Gilbert of New Found Glory and founder of the highly successful Movie Gang series at the Theatre. Movie offerings fall into four distinct themes: Sci Fi Sundays, Rock & Roll Mondays, Throwback Thursday Comedy Nights, and Family Forever Matinee Saturdays. Tickets are already on sale for the series kick off on Thursday, April 6th with Adam Sandler's Happy Gilmore.

"We're so happy to present a movie series for everyone," said Eric Dilts, Managing Director of The Franklin Theatre. "Seeing a film on the big screen in our historic theatre is an unmatched experience. As our community continues to grow, these showings offer more opportunities for The Franklin Theatre to be a gathering in beautiful Downtown Franklin, Tennessee."

This new series gives movie fans the chance to watch their favorite shows on the big screen again in a beautiful, art-deco inspired auditorium. Themed lighting and decorations, concessions and drink specials, and coordinated pre-show music will make these showings a more immersive experience than a typical night at the movies.

Opening in 1937 with the film Night Must Fall, starring Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell, The Franklin Theatre has been a home for movies in Franklin's Historic Downtown since its beginning. Even through its renovation and reopening, movies have remained a key focal point in The Franklin Theatre's programming efforts.

"Movies at The Franklin Theatre are a pastime we love and stand by," added Chad Gilbert. "With this new series, we're creating a more intentional home for movie lovers in Franklin and Middle Tennessee."

ON THE ROAD WITH KENNY LOGGINS

LOCAL GUITARIST SHARES CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

PAM WINDSOR

It's a busy time for Scott Bernard as he heads out on tour with Kenny Loggins. He's played guitar with the music legend for the past 15 years, and at 75, Loggins says his "This Is It Tour" will be his last. Bernard has been helping with the setlist.

"The problem is Kenny has so many hits, and we only have an hour and a half to play," he explains. "You have to play 'Danger Zone' and 'Footloose,' you have to play 'Danny's Song,' and 'House at Pooh Corner' and everything in between. So, we've been trying to pare it down and still represent every facet of his career."

Bernard is especially excited the tour will feature a show close to home.

"We're going to be playing FirstBank Amphitheater in Franklin in May. So, we'll finally get a Nashville gig. It's been a few years since I played in Nashville with Kenny."

As he prepares to join Loggins and the rest of the crew for the final tour, Bernard says it's been an incredible ride.

"Playing those hits every night is pretty amazing. And to have been with Kenny for 15 years, it's been a good run in the music industry."

Bernard never dreamed he'd end up in Loggins band when he and his wife, Stephanie, moved to Nashville from New Iberia, Louisiana, 24 years ago. Growing up in a musical family, he was just 9 years old when he learned to play guitar so he could join one of his older brother's bands. He recalls his early musical influences.

“It was all Beatles, all 70s pop radio when I was a kid,” he recalls. “And my brothers got me into the whole A&R rock of the 70s with Kansas, Boston, ELO, and Foreigner. But in 1985, I made a decision to follow Christ and started playing Christian music. And I thought that would be my thing when I moved here.”

Bernard began playing Christian music but was also asked to perform with country artists. Early on, he played shows with singer/songwriter Paul Overstreet, and later spent several years working with Christian artist Nicole C. Mullins. He continued working in both genres, meeting more people, which led to an invitation to fill in for Loggins’ regular guitar player. He ended up getting a permanent gig.

When he’s not touring, Bernard does session work, he’s a singer/songwriter with some of his solo work available on streaming platforms, and he and a group of fellow musicians are part of a Toto tribute band called Child’s Anthem. They made a series of music videos that are popular in Europe.

“It’s a great group of guys, and we try to nail the stuff as true as we can. We have European fans that have asked us to come and play in Europe. But because we’re session players, it’s hard to get us all together for a gig, but we try.”

This summer, Child’s Anthem, will play a single show as the opening act during Night Ranger’s current tour.

Bernard does a lot of recording work from his home studio, which allows him to work his schedule around his family. He and his wife, who moved to Spring Hill in 2003, have two children, a 17-year-old daughter, Gabriella, and a son, Jude.

“When we first moved here, there was very little here,” he says. “And we’ve grown as Spring Hill as grown. It’s a great place, and this is where I want to raise my family, for sure.”

He says he’s grateful for an amazing family and the many incredible opportunities life has given him.

“I’m 100 percent sure it’s all been God’s plan. I’m thankful for the path and know I could never have don’t this all on my own. I am truly blessed.”

And as the Kenny Loggins chapter comes to an end, he’ll be ready to see what comes next.

WE'RE BACK!

After a disastrous flood on Christmas Eve, Harpeth Valley Dermatology has finally reopened in Thompson's Station! Harpeth Valley Dermatology is a family-owned and operated, full-service medical practice consisting of three board-certified dermatologists: Dr. Megan Morrison, Dr. Pezhman Shoureshi, and Dr. Benjamin Bashline.

Our dermatologists bring a wealth of medical experience that collectively spans over twenty years. Through their prior experience, they became increasingly concerned with the ever-apparent shift from patient-centered dermatologic care to that of a corporate driven business. Many dermatology practices have replaced their board-certified dermatology physicians with providers lacking specialized training, which can be misleading to patients. At Harpeth Valley Dermatology, our mission is to provide our patients with a true dermatology experience.

Our dermatologists are experts in diagnosing and treating a wide array of medical conditions. We provide comprehensive treatment modalities for common conditions such as eczema, psoriasis, acne, and warts as well as diagnosing and treating skin cancer and various autoimmune conditions. As osteopathic physicians, we provide a holistic approach to diagnosis that focuses on finding the root of the problem instead of solely treating symptoms. We customize treatment plans to not only provide effective management, but more importantly, find a solution that patients feel comfortable with. Outside of medical services, we also provide a full spectrum of cosmetic procedures. These include toxins, fillers, lasers for anti-aging and scarring, radiofrequency microneedling, Bela MD facials, as well as platelet rich plasma (PRP) treatments for hair loss. We are also proud to carry our own line of Harpeth Valley Dermatology products for anti-aging.

One of the most important services we provide is screening for skin cancer. Twenty percent of Americans will develop skin cancer and it remains the leading cause of cancer in the United States. All three of our dermatologists are members of the American Academy of Dermatology (AAD) and regularly provide free skin cancer screenings sponsored by the AAD.

Outside of diagnosis, the dermatologists at Harpeth Valley Dermatology are experts in providing surgical and non-surgical treatment options for skin cancer, including Mohs micrographic surgery. Dr. Morrison is not only a board-certified dermatologist but she is also a fellowship-trained Mohs surgeon. Mohs surgery is the gold standard for skin cancer treatment and offers the highest cure rate (99%) while minimizing the cosmetic effects of surgery.

We invite you to discover the difference at Harpeth Valley Dermatology where we pride ourselves on practicing first-class dermatologic care. Please come see us at our recently reopened Thompson's Station location.

For more information, please go to harpethvalleydermatology.com or call us at 615-905-8083.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

SHOULD INVESTORS 'GO IT ALONE'?

Jeff Good

If you're going to enjoy a comfortable retirement, you should know, among other things, how much money you'll need. And you may have a much better chance of knowing this if you get some professional help.

Consider these findings from a 2021 study by Dalbar, a financial services market research firm:

- Investors who worked with a financial advisor were three times more likely to estimate what they would have saved at retirement than “do-it-yourself” investors.

- More than two-thirds of investors with a financial advisor were satisfied with the amount they would have saved at retirement, compared to about 27% of the do-it-yourselfers.

How do financial professionals help their clients in these ways?

First, consider the issue of determining how much money will be needed for retirement. It's not always easy for individuals to estimate this amount. But financial professionals can help clients like you arrive at this figure by exploring your hopes and goals. How long do you plan to work? What kind of lifestyle do you anticipate enjoying in retirement? Where would you like to live? How much would you like to travel? Are you open to pursuing earned income opportunities, such as consulting or working part time?

Next comes the other key question: How much money will be available for retirement? This big question leads to many others: How much do you need to save and invest each year until you retire? About what sort of investment return will you need to reach your retirement income goals? What level of risk are you willing to take to achieve that return? What is the role of other income sources such as Social Security or any pensions you might have? Having a financial professional help you gain a clear idea of your retirement income picture can certainly be reassuring. But there may be other reasons why “going it alone” as an investor might not be desirable.

For example, when the financial markets are down, as was the case for much of 2022, some investors make decisions based on short-term volatility, such as selling investments to “cut their losses,” even if these same investments still have solid business fundamentals and good prospects for growth. But if you work with a financial professional, you might decide to stick with these investments, especially if they're still appropriate for your long-term strategy. Other times, of course, the advice may be different — but it will always be advice based on your goals, needs and time horizon.

Furthermore, if you're investing on your own, you may always be measuring your results against the major market indexes, such as the S&P 500 or the Dow Jones Industrial Average. But in reality, your portfolio should contain a wide range of investments, some of which aren't contained in these indexes, so you might not be assessing your performance appropriately. A financial professional can help you develop your own, more meaningful benchmarks that can show the progress you're actually making toward your goals.

In some areas of life, going it alone can be exciting — but when it comes to investing for your future, you may benefit from some company on the journey.
