Linda Dyer, on a recent visit to Leiper's Creek Gallery in Leiper's Fork is known for her involvement with PBS's Antique Roadshow. Photography by Michael Tedesco

A PASSION FOR HISTORY

PAM WINDSOR

She's a familiar face to fans of the long-running, popular PBS series Antiques Roadshow, where she serves as a specialist in Native American art. And while she's recognized globally for her expertise in Tribal Arts, Linda Dyer's talents expand to other areas, as well. She's also a general appraiser, broker, and consultant in fine arts and antiques.

Her fascination with antiques, art, and artifacts began as a young child growing up in Boston.

"I grew up at a time where you'd open a door in the morning, and your parents would tell you to be back for dinner," she recalls with a laugh. "And you were off and running. When I was, I think around eleven, I used to get on buses, they had a great bus and subway system, and I'd go down to the Harvard campus and spend time at the Harvard museums. Then, when I got older, I'd go into the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and wander through the halls."

Back then, she was especially drawn to ancient Egyptian exhibits. Later, when a good friend got a job developing a gift shop at Harvard's Peabody Museum of Ethnology, Dyer devoted a lot of time to helping out. It allowed her access to a wealth of knowledge.

"There was a time when museums were just gigantic glass cases with handwritten cards, and I was captivated by everything I saw."

While Dyer would later go to school to become a nurse, she remained dedicated to pursuing her passion for art history and antiques. She eventually left nursing full-time and got a job at a major auction house.

"I was working as a nurse for 12-hour weekends. Then I'd work at an auction house about four days a week as a consultant and building a department for them."

It gave her an invaluable education from people who were standouts in many different fields.

"I was surrounded by everything, not just my specialty, and I got to learn from the masters of this ilk. There were some tremendous people there that have since passed on. But they were all engaging human beings who were absolutely willing to share what they knew.”

Photography by Michael Tedesco

Dyer credits her love of art to her mother and father, whose own parents fled the genocide in Armenia. She said her mom and dad, who grew up during the Depression, had an “eye” and appreciation for art and passed it on to her. As far as her becoming a specialist in Native American Art, that has a lot to do with her father, who traveled while serving in the Air Force.

“He’d travel on a troop train across the U.S., and while other people would send home satin pillows that said, ‘Made in Taiwan,’ he was always buying things woven into the experience. He bought a lot of Native American jewelry and pieces of pottery for my mom. So, I developed a fascination with the American West.”

Her expertise shines through on the Antiques Roadshow. Through the years, she’s had the chance to evaluate a wide range of artifacts.

“People come and share their different stories,” she says. “The show is part adventure, part history lesson, and part treasure hunt. And who wouldn’t enjoy that?”

When she’s not traveling for PBS, she shifts to her expertise as a generalist, working as a consultant for auction houses, companies, and individuals, trying to determine the value of many types of items.

“What I do the most here in Tennessee is help people divest their homes, whether it be an estate or just a collection. Because you can have the True Cross or the Hope Diamond, but if you don’t know where to place it, you can make a big mistake.”

Dyer says there’s a kindred spirit between those who share a love of history and items that tell the story of a time gone by. At one point, Mike Wolfe (of American Pickers), now a friend, consulted with her before he developed his show. There’s something special that draws like-minded people together.

“We’re all cut from the same cloth,” she says. “My colleagues on the Antiques Roadshow are the most passionate, adventurous, romantics - all fascinated by history. And every time we go on tour, it’s like going off to summer camp.”

If you’d like to contact Linda Dyer regarding her appraising or consulting services, you can email her at ledyer256@aol.com or call (615) 791-9242.

SMART SUN PROTECTION LONGER DAYS. STRONGER RAYS. HEALTHIER SKIN.

As the weather warms up, we naturally spend more time outdoors — but spring sun can be just as damaging as summer sun. Even on mild or cloudy days, UV rays penetrate the skin, accelerating aging, sun spots, and increasing skin cancer risk.

Spring Sun Safety Essentials:

Apply Broad-Spectrum SPF 30+ Daily Use sunscreen every morning — even if you're just running errands or driving.

Reapply Every 1-2 Hours Especially during outdoor activities like sports, gardening, or spring festivals.

Don't Forget Your Ears, Neck & Hands
Ears, neck, chest, hands, and lips are often missed.

Don't Forget High-Risk Areas
Physical protection such as a hat or sunglasses provide an extra layer of protection

Wear Protective Accessories Wide-brim hats, sunglasses, and UPF clothing add an extra layer of defense.

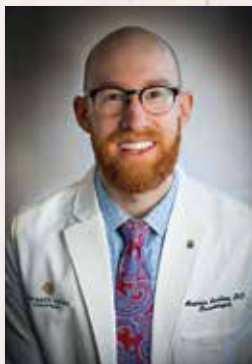

HA Physical Tint offers lightweight, mineral-based daily protection with a natural glow — perfect for spring sunshine.

If you've noticed new or changing spots after winter, now is also the perfect time for a skin exam.

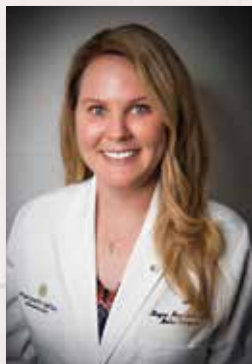

Protect Today. Prevent Tomorrow. Schedule your spring skin check at Harpeth Valley Dermatology.

DOODLES & WHISKERS

JASON ZASKY

"I love the community atmosphere here," says Belynda Raine, owner of Doodles & Whiskers Pet Spa, in Tollgate Village, about one of the many things she loves about Thompson's Station and the rest of Williamson County. Raine opened Doodles & Whiskers in June of 2025. Still, she has almost a decade and a half of experience in the pet spa business, having operated her own shop in Santa Clarita, California, before moving to Middle Tennessee.

"Doodles & Whiskers is not anything like a large corporate place. It's a family business, and our focus is to be more one-on-one with the dogs, cats, and the customers. It's a quieter, calmer environment than one might find at many other groomers," offers

Raine, who has three dogs of her own, a standard poodle and a Chihuahua among them.

"My clients are people who want their dog to have a stress-free, personalized grooming experience as well as a stylish haircut. One of the benefits of Doodles & Whiskers is that the dogs and cats get to know the groomer, so it's not someone new every single time," she offers, noting that their grooming service includes a refreshing bath combined with a haircut style of your preference (as coat conditions allow), plus nail and pad trimming, ear cleaning and a meticulous brush out.

Doodles & Whiskers also offers other services a la carte, including de-matting, tooth brushing, nail painting and hair coloring.

Raine and her associates also spend a lot of time advising clients about the best ways to care for their pets between appointments.

"It's important to maintain proper brushing technique—and to know which brush to use. If you want a fluffy teddy bear haircut, you have to brush a certain way with a certain type of brush," she offers, highlighting but one example.

Raine says most of her customers learn about Doodles & Whiskers

"If a mom's dogs come here, most likely her daughter's dogs will come here, and then the daughter will tell their neighbors," she relates, noting that about 90 percent of her business is dogs. "A lot of people don't realize we do cats, even though 'Whiskers' is in our name."

Raine & Co. also spends considerable time working with local rescue groups, and Doodles & Whiskers periodically hosts adoption days at the shop.

"Sometimes I groom dogs for free so they can get adopted," relates Raine, before highlighting how her shop is open six days a week, including 8-4 on Saturdays.

"Most of our clients book their appointments on our website," she says, "and some people pre-book their appointments months ahead of time so they can make sure they can get the days and times they want."

Doodles & Whiskers also benefits from its location, which is readily accessible via either I-65 or I-840. And there's plenty to do in and around Tollgate Village while clients wait for their pets.

"There's a nearby lake, and some clients take a walk around the lake while they wait. There are also some great coffee shops," she adds, referencing White Shepherd Coffee and Settlers Coffee and Provisions. "There is plenty to do while you are waiting for your dog."

WILLIAMSON HEALTH ON NEWSWEEK'S BEST HOSPITALS LIST

Williamson Health is proud to announce that the health system's flagship facility, Williamson Medical Center, has been included in Newsweek's 2026 list of World's Best Hospitals. This international ranking highlights hospitals across 32 countries that demonstrate excellence in care, innovation, and patient outcomes. This is the sixth consecutive year Williamson Medical Center has earned a place on the prestigious list.

"We are incredibly proud of our entire Williamson Health team. Their commitment to delivering world-class care — and to living our mission of caring for our community each and every day — is what continues to set our organization apart," said Phil Mazzuca, Williamson Health Chief Executive Officer. "Being recognized for the sixth consecutive year on Newsweek's World's Best Hospitals list is a tribute to their extraordinary dedication and the consistent excellence they bring to every patient experience."

Newsweek's annual World's Best Hospitals list, presented in partnership with Statista, the world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider, establishes a ranking that serves as a comprehensive resource for the top hospitals globally. The 2026 list recognized 2,530 hospitals worldwide as the World's Best Hospitals, including 420 in the United States. Williamson Medical Center is one of only three Tennessee hospitals to be included on this year's list. The ranking can be viewed on Newsweek's website.

The World's Best Hospitals ranking is based on an extensive evaluation process, including an online survey of thousands of medical experts (doctors, hospital managers and healthcare professionals), patient experience data, hospital quality metrics, and a Patient-Reported Outcome Measures (PROMs) Implementation Survey.

"Patients and families deserve detailed, trustworthy information when they're making some of the most important decisions of their lives," said Alexis Kayser, healthcare editor at Newsweek. "By combining hospital quality indicators, peer recommendations, patient experience data and advanced measures of patient-reported outcomes, our 2026 rankings offer a comprehensive, independent view of the institutions leading the way in modern healthcare."

COMFORT DENTISTRY

ACCEPTING NEW PATIENTS

We are new to the area, and a friend referred us to Berry Farms Dental. Everyone in the family has gone, we've had cleanings, cavities, and caps. I could not be happier with the level of service. We have been in and out quickly, never waiting long, I feel heard and respected as a mom, and my kids were treated so gently, kindly and respectfully through the whole process.

I cannot recommend highly enough. – First Name

DEBERRY INSURANCE HOSTS 10TH ANNUAL FREE SHRED DAY

DeBerry Insurance Agency will host their 10th Annual FREE Shred Day for the community on Saturday, April 11, 2026. The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the agency, 5232 Main Street in Spring Hill.

FREE Shred Day has become a signature event for DeBerry Insurance Agency over the past decade. The event was inspired by the need for clients and members of the community to safely discard identifying papers.

“As insurance agents, we recognize the importance of protecting your identity,” said Eric DeBerry, Owner of DeBerry Insurance Agency. “We began offering this event as a service to our community. The event continues to grow year after year. We are honored to be able to give back in this way as we have strived to serve our community since we first opened our doors in 2003.”

DeBerry Insurance Agency’s FREE Shred Day is held each

April during tax season when many people are cleaning out files and paperwork. The event also honors Earth Day. All the paper that is collected at the event is shredded on site and later recycled. To date, the agency has collected an estimated 35 tons of paper for recycling.

“We have watched this event grow into such an important event for our community,” said Chris DeBerry, Owner of DeBerry Insurance Agency. “We have attendees who look forward to this event each year. We look forward to it also as we get to catch up with clients and friends. Please come out if you have papers to shred! We look forward to seeing everyone!”

Easy Bread Rolls From the kitchen of Julie Hutcherson

INGREDIENTS:

- 2 CUPS WARM WATER 110°
- 1/2 CUP WHITE SUGAR
- 1 AND 1/2 TABLESPOONS ACTIVE DRY YEAST
- 1 AND 1/2 TEASPOONS SALT
- 1/4 CUP VEGETABLE OIL (CAN USE OLIVE OR AVOCADO)
- 5-6 CUPS BREAD FLOUR OR ALL PURPOSE

PREPARATION:

- In a mixer bowl, add 2 tablespoons of the sugar with 2 cups warm water. Mix till dissolved. Add yeast, small stir and let activate for 5 minutes. It will look foamy on top.
- Add salt, oil and remaining sugar. Start mixing, using the dough hook. Slowly add flour one cup at a time. You may not need all the flour. Your dough should pull away from the bowl, sticking to the bottom in a small circle.
- Knead dough for 7 minutes. Place in a well-oiled bowl, cover with a thin dish towel and let rise one hour in a warm spot.
- Punch dough down. Roll out and cut rolls. Let rise another 30 minutes.
- Bake on a greased pan for 30 minutes at 350°. Spread melted butter on top after baking and enjoy.

TESTED. PROVEN. READY ON DAY ONE.
