CONSULTING

Bringing Organizations' Ideas To Fruition

We offer competent and reliable project management for public media, nonprofits and other industries, from those who have been there.

Plan, Plan and Plan

Any project or initiative begins with planning. When you plan, you set yourself up for the best chance at success in whatever you are pursuing. Planning is one of the basic principles in project management. It allows you to set goals, assess risk, understand your stakeholders, anticipate needs and give your teams a voice. When you work with professionals at CK Project Management Consulting, you get the best of project management - those who were born planners with logistics and processes as part of their DNA.

How will you benefit

You will have a project management professional at your fingertips. You will be working with a professional who understands how public media and nonprofits work, both internally, locally, nationally, because they have been there. You will have a trusted advisor who is just as invested in your organization's success as you are. You have someone to help navigate any challenges or roadblocks you face. You have a professional you can lean on to extract the creative ideas you have, implement them and bring them to life.

Areas of expertise

Project management encompasses any project or initiative that has a start date and an end date. CK Project Management can help you with any type of initiative, so think broadly. Think beyond an event, a screening, a new program launch, a conference and so forth. Of course, we can help you with those; we can also help you with any multi-year plans, strategic planning, process improvement plans, administration, goal setting, various campaigns, IT migrations or installations, diversity planning or initiatives, to name a few.

What Cari Kozicki brings to each project

Competence - Reliability - Flexibility - with a smidge of Fun

Cari brings over 25 years of business experience in for-profit and nonprofit organizations, with the previous ten years focused in nonprofits. She naturally excels in project management, processes, planning, relationship-building, linear thinking, solution-based thinking, and details. She has managed projects in education, radio, tech/IT, payroll, events, program distribution, and business relationships, and across multiple organizations, multiple levels within organizations and across geographies.

Cari has successfully led both high-dollar-value projects upwards of $11mm across multiple organizations and geographies, and smaller scale projects within single organizations. This means you have a project management professional who understands the ROI vs. mission paradox that public media and nonprofit organizations face when undertaking any new initiative.
