WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT DR. JIM "DOC" WEATHERS

"I'm an international speaker and I also produce events. Doc Weathers is someone that I've had on my stages. I have the privilege of being around some really great people around the world who convey impactful messages. And one of the things that I love about Doc is he's a really big man with a giant heart. He tells stories and adds humor, but he has a point to everything he says. You would be so happy to have Doc on your stage to impact your audience at your next event. I highly recommend him and you know you will be happy to have Doc in your corner to make your event extremely special."

"Having known Doc Weathers professionally for years, I affectionately dub him the "Sage Cowboy" for his blend of clinical expertise and business insight. He's an exceptional collaborator in sports injury recovery, particularly with BioHacking therapy. His energetic and knowledgeable presence has made him an excellent recurring guest on our podcast. Whether speaking nationally or internationally, or appearing on your podcast, I highly recommend Doc Weathers."

"Encountering Doc Weathers at a speaking event in Denver proved fortuitous. Amidst juggling roles as a media trainer, professional speaker, and Ultra-endurance kayak racer, I faced a debilitating rotator cuff injury. Doc's BioHacking treatments swiftly alleviated my pain and restored mobility, crucial for an upcoming race. His dual expertise as a skilled doctor and compelling speaker simplifying complex medical concepts, empowered me to maintain peak performance and then a hard-hitting media schedule. I wholeheartedly endorse him as both a athletic career-saving doctor and a captivating educator."
