SoberHomes

Choose Your Path of Recovery

Research shows recovery home residents maintain sobriety at five times the rate of those without supportive housing while improving health, employment, and housing outcomes. (Polcin et al., Journal of Psychoactive Drugs, SAMHSA)

For Case Managers

SoberHomes are peer-led Level-2 Recovery Residences for motivated individuals seeking abstinence and stability.

Below Market Rate (BMR) rent— better value than weekly motels or rooms for rent.

Residents must test drug-free on entry.

Level-2 homes provide structure without professional services and operate separate male and female units.

We welcome site visits and can open new homes within one quarter to meet emerging population needs.

Our low-barrier, permanent housing model follows HUD Recovery Residence best practices.

Independent Living With Peer Support

Level-2 Recovery Residence – A peer-directed, community-based home that balances structure and independence. Residents participate in shared accountability, daily routines, and peer meetings without the rigidity of inpatient or highly clinical programs. The environment emphasizes collaboration, self-responsibility, and mutual support guided by peers in recovery.
