Coach Hammond Interviews With Phil Jones on ITG Next - Georgia

Ram fans are ready for the upcoming football season and so is Coach Hammond. On Tuesday, March 15th, Coach Hammond was a guest on Extra Point with Phil Jones which is on the Facebook page, ITG Next – Georgia.

Coach Hammond previously coached at Colquitt County under Coach Rush Propst for the 2008-2012 seasons and the 2016-2018 seasons as the Offensive Coordinator. When he went on board at Colquitt County, they were 2 and 8 for the 2007 season. As a coaching staff, they were able to turn that program around. For the 2019 season he took the Head Coach position at Spalding in Griffin. He then took the Offensive Coordinator position at Coffee County for the 2020 and 2021 seasons. He is now ready to be a Ram for the 2022 season!

Coach Hammond loves South Georgia Football. During the interview with Phil, Coach Hammond explained that Coach Ironside got the Rams back to a great start with a 4 and 6 record in back to back seasons. Coach Hammond explained that small town communities where football is important is the place to be and he is ready to get the Rams back to the spot that the community is accustomed too. Hammond talked about the proud traditions and history with Worth County Football. “We want to be one of the most physical teams on the schedule” Hammond expressed “Win-lose-draw we want the other team to know the next day they had played the Rams”.

One of the things Coach Hammond would like to do is increase the number of players. At the end of the 2021 football season, there were roughly 50-60 players and he would like to see those numbers increase to 80, 90 or 100. Those would include 9th - 12th graders. Coach Hammond’s goals are first to make it to the playoffs then win region and finally to make it to state championship and win it. Coach explained that these goals are not predicated on wins and losses but pulling together as a team. “Realistically, I don’t know that we can win all the games right now” explained Coach Hammond “Win the games were supposed to, beat some teams that we’re probably not supposed to and get in the playoffs, let’s see what happens”.

For the Ram Fans, Coach Hammond explained that he wants to get it back to the way it was. Stability and long term is very important for a successful program. Coach also explained that getting back to the Miller era would be great as well. He hopes to bring Coach Miller over to watch practice and even get him to speak to the players at some point. Coach Hammond wants to bring back some of the traditions from the 80s and 90s. “It wasn’t broke then” expressed Coach Hammond “I want to get the fans back excited to say how ‘bout those Rams”. He expressed gratitude on the great job that Mrs. Edwards, Worth County High School Principal and Mr. Cummings, Worth County Schools Superintendent has done and he is excited to join the team.

Please take a few minutes of your time and go watch the interview on Facebook. Again it is located on the ITG Next – Georgia Facebook Page. Mr. Phil Jones always has a great program to enjoy weekly.

Let's Take A Walk

National Walking Day encourages the public to embrace a healthier lifestyle through walking, which has the lowest dropout rate of any physical activity. Adults nationwide are encouraged to make the pledge to start walking and become heart-healthy. Just 30 minutes of physical activity each day can improve heart-health. One suggested that the American Heart Association suggests is to wear red shoelaces to remind yourself of the benefits of exercise. Taking just 10 minutes three times a day to walk will help individuals live longer. In fact, studies show that just one hour of vigorous exercise will increase life expectancy by two hours. Physical inactivity doubles the risk of heart disease, which kills 1 in 3 people in every year. Becoming more active can lower your blood pressure by about as much as some high blood pressure medications. Walking, swimming, cycling, jogging, skiing, aerobic dancing or any of dozens of other activities can help your heart. They all cause you to feel warm, perspire and breathe heavily without being out of breath and without feeling any burning sensation in your muscles. Whether it is a structured exercise program or just part of your daily routine, all exercise adds up to a healthier heart. Take the first step by walking. It's free, easy to do and when you have a walking companion, you're more likely to stay motivated. Here are some tips for exercise success: Dress for success! Wear comfortable, properly fitted sneakers or flat shoes with laces and wear comfortable, loose-fitting clothing appropriate for the weather and the activity. Make the time! Start slowly. Gradually build up to at least 30 minutes of activity on most or all days of the week (or whatever your doctor recommends). Exercise at the same time of day so it becomes a regular part of your lifestyle. Look for chances to be more active during the day. Walk the mall before shopping, take the stairs instead of the escalator or take 10–15 minute breaks while watching TV or sitting for walking or some other activity. Don't get discouraged if you stop for a while. Get started again gradually and work up to your old pace. Don't exercise too vigorously right after meals, when it's very hot or humid, or when you just don't feel up to it. Make it fun and get started today!

Georgia Peanut Farmers Donate Over 10,000 Jars of Peanut Butter to Capital Area Food Bank During USPF Washington, D.C. Fly-In

Washington, D.C. (March 18, 2022) - The United States Peanut Federation (USPF) combined advocacy with service during their Spring 2022 Washington D.C. Fly-in. The Georgia Peanut Commission in conjunction with USPF proudly partnered with Peanut Proud, the peanut industry's humanitarian relief organization, to donate 10,080 jars of peanut butter to serve the Nation's Capital and surrounding area. The delivery of this donation was made possible by SouthernAG Carriers who graciously donated their truck carrier service to transport the peanut butter. The USPF members were joined on site at the Capital Area Food Bank warehouse by U.S. Congressman Sanford Bishop of Georgia. Congressman Bishop is the Chairman of the U.S. House Appropriations Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development, FDA, and Related Agencies and is a champion of the peanut industry. "Peanut butter is nutrition packed, versatile, inexpensive, easy to store and is a convenient source of protein and heart-healthy fats," said Congressman Bishop. "It helps reduce insulin resistance and is a good source of fiber. On top of that, it's good!" "The peanut butter we're donating can be used to make more than 141,000 sandwiches," said USPF chairman Joe Boddiford. "Peanut butter is one of the most requested food items at food banks due to its long shelf life. We are grateful to partner with Peanut Proud and the Capital Area Food Bank to ensure that those affected by food insecurity can have access to safe, nutritional food, and delicious peanut butter." Molly McGlinchy, senior director for procurement and direct programs at the Capital Area Food Bank, expressed appreciation to the peanut industry representatives in attendance. "We are so thankful to be able to supply this to the children and families we serve," McGlinchy said. The food bank works to address hunger today and create brighter futures tomorrow for the half a million neighbors across the region experiencing food insecurity. As the anchor in the area's hunger relief infrastructure, they provide over 45 million meals to people in need each year by supplying food to hundreds of nonprofit organizations. They also work in partnership with organizations across the region to address hunger's root causes by pairing food with other critical services. For additional information, visit the Capital Area Food Bank website at www.capitalareafoodbank.org. The United States Peanut Federation (USPF) is comprised of the Southern Peanut Farmers Federation, the American Peanut Shellers Association, and the National Peanut Buying Points Association. USPF serves as a unified voice in Washington D.C. for all sectors of the peanut industry and advocates actively for strong agricultural policy. Medication Safety Tips

According to the Women's Heart Foundation, misuse of medication is the sixth leading cause of death. Medication Safety Week, April 1-7, was started to bring awareness to the problem. Each day focuses on another action plan to make sure you are using medications safely.

April 1st: Clean out your medicine cabinet. Set aside expired medications and outdated prescriptions and drop them off at a local medication drop off location. Store your medicines in their original containers in a cool, dry place, away from children and pets until you can drop them off at the location.

April 2nd: Know your medicines. Make a list of all medications you take, including both the generic and brand names to prevent double-dosing. Note dosage and how often you take it and educate yourself about its purpose. Divide medications by prescription, over-the-counter, birth control pills/patches and supplements. Update your list whenever something changes.

April 3rd: Read your medicine labels. Ask yourself if you are taking what your doctor ordered. Double check dosage and frequency and pay attention to warning levels.

April 4th: Be aware of dietary supplements; some of these can react with your medications. Discuss all supplements with your doctor before you begin the regimen. Take special care when pregnant or breastfeeding.

April 5th: Organize your meds. Consider a medication box if you are taking more than one pill several times per day, but be sure to monitor it closely.

April 6th: Make special note of transitional care. If your medication regimen changes, make a special effort to educate yourself on the new medications. Be diligent on talking with your healthcare providers, double check prescriptions when you pick them up or refill a prescription. Cross-reference changes with your medication list to safeguard against double dosing.

April 7th: Talk to your health professionals. Actively seek information from your pharmacist about the pills and supplements you take. Ask for print-out sheets. Take your medication sheet on your next appointment and discuss it with your physician. Stay safe with your medications!

Navigating Decisions

Children have to make many different kinds of decisions throughout their lives. You can help your child learn decision-making skills he or she can use now and in the future. Here's how: Start small. Let your child make daily choices, such as picking out an outfit for school or deciding whether to take or buy lunch. Give them options if they need help, but let them have the final say. They will be gaining experience in making decisions on his own. Plot a destination. Help your child figure out what he or she wants to accomplish. If they decide that they want to finish their homework before dinner, they may have to choose between phoning a friend and starting their homework right away. Thinking about the end result can make decisions easier. Step back. Allow your child to experience the consequences of his or her choices. For example, if they wear a T-shirt to school when it's snowing outside, they may be too cold to enjoy recess. Experiencing consequences – good and bad – will help develop your child's judgment and give them a better idea of where their choices will lead him. Discuss results. Without criticizing, ask your child how they think a particular decision worked out. Would they do it again, or choose to do something different? They will learn to evaluate their own choices, which will help her or him make better decisions in the future. At the end of discussing things, the decision ultimately is in the parents hands but letting the children learn how to make decisions is part of a great learning process. We want to help our children be productive citizens when they enter this big world called Life!

6th Annual Watermelon Days Hot Air Balloon Festival Enjoyed By Many

The rain was gone and the sunshine was more beautiful than ever but the winds were picking up during the Watermelon Days Hot Air Balloon Festival. The wind didn't stop the visitors though. In the afternoon/evening of both Friday and Saturday, when the winds were calm enough, they offered tethered balloon rides. When night fall hit, the balloons were glowing and made for the most beautiful pictures. Vendors were set up for people to enjoy looking and shopping. Of course food vendors were set up to enjoy as well. This was the 6th year for the Balloon Festival and the first year for the Chili Cook Off. Thank you to the Cordele-Crisp County Chamber of Commerce for hosting this event and thank you to all the many sponsors. It takes a large group of people to make events like this happen and for that we say thank you!

Our mission is to make this a perfect day for you.

National Sibling Day

They have a day to recognize it all, don't they? Well April 10th is National Sibling Day! Let me take a minute to introduce you to my sibling. I have one sister. Her name is VaLenia. She is beautiful, smart and 10 years OLDER than me... :) I can say that because every where we go, people think I am the oldest. She and I have not always agreed on everything but now that we are 44 and 54, we seem to agree on most! We love spending time together and chatting. VaLenia and I have three boys. My child is 18 and her two boys are 21 and 18. We were pregnant at the same time which was fun and not fun all at once. It was very cool celebrating the pregnancies at the same time but I was VERY sick and she was not sick at all. Having our boys grow up together has been pretty awesome too. Having a sibling can be loads of fun but can be stressful at times too. That's not being ugly at all but even though you are siblings doesn't mean you always agree. My daddy had 5 siblings, 2 brothers and 3 sisters. My mother had 2 siblings both sisters. My daddy and all of his siblings are all gone on to tread the beautiful Streets of Gold in Heaven. Mother and her siblings are all still living and loving life to the fullest. Treasure your siblings! How many siblings do you have? So Happy Sibling Day VaLenia and to all you siblings out there! We hope you have a great sibling day!

The Founding of The Salvation Army

April 10th is the day on which William Booth (1829-1912), founder of the international religious and charitable movement known as the Salvation Army, was born in Nottingham, England. His work as a pawnbroker in London acquainted Booth with all forms of human misery and economic suffering, and his conversion to Methodism led to a career as a Methodist lay preacher and eventually as an independent evangelist. With the help of his wife, Catherine Mumford, he established the East London Revival Society, which soon became known as the Christian Mission and later the Salvation Army, characterized by its military ranks, uniforms, flags, bands, and regulation books. Booth's work encompassed social reform as well as religious conversion, and he set up children's and maternity homes, food and shelter stations, and agencies for helping discharged criminals. The Salvation Army expanded to the United States in 1880, and today it has outposts in more than 80 countries. Although Booth's birthday is observed to varying degrees at Salvation Army outposts around the world, a major celebration was held on the organization's centennial in 1965. In the United States, there were open houses at Salvation Army institutions, special commemorative religious services, and other anniversary events. In London, a centennial congress was held in the Royal Albert Hall. The Salvation Army regards 1865 as the year of its founding because on July 2nd that year, William Booth first preached at an open-air meeting in London's East End, a slum district notorious for its poverty and crime rate. If you haven't stop by the Salvation Army in Albany, please do. Tell them thank you for all they do for the community. They are located at 304 W. 2nd Avenue. If you would like to drop off donations, please do so as well.

Project Appleseed is a nationwide program that teaches rifle marksmanship skills that have been passed down from generation to generation and reconnects Americans with the people and events of colonial America. Participants are taught skills that allow a Rifleman to be accurate out to 500 yards using a standard rifle with iron sights. This ability is traditionally known as mastering the 'Rifleman's Quarter Mile' and is an American tradition that has been part of this nation from its very first days. So join us and hear some little-known Revolutionary War history, reaffirm your heritage, and make America a better place.

Project Appleseed Pistol Marksmanship Clinic Offered at Red Hill Range in Martin, Georgia – April 16th (One Day Event)

In today's world of 24-hour news cycles, changing technologies and push-button gratification it is a challenge to stay connected to the values that our great country was built on. Ideals such as integrity, commitment and personal responsibility are what founding fathers relied on to win our independence and to then make America a great nation. At Project Appleseed™, we are dedicated to keeping these timeless values alive. We promote civic responsibility through the teaching of colonial history and the American traditions of rifle marksmanship. Even after all of these years, there is much to be learned from our forefathers' examples of perseverance, commitment and civic virtue. With a full calendar of shooting clinics and events Project Appleseed™ is here to make sure these timeless principles live on for generations to come.

The cost for our one day pistol clinics is $75 for adults. No youth allowed. There are discounts for law enforcement, active and retired military and guard and more*. And just a $10 range fee per day.

Project Appleseed™ is a fast-growing, 501(c) (3) non-profit educational community of dedicated volunteers.

The Project Appleseed pistol marksmanship clinic will be held on April 16th at Red Hill Range, at 2208 Toms Creek Rd, Martin, GA 30557.

Registration begins at 8am. The clinic starts at 8:30 a.m. and will continue until 5:00 p.m.

We are pleased to offer Appleseed Pistol Clinics. Our pistol clinic is a fun challenge for everyone, even those who have qualified with pistols in other programs. The program is beneficial for folks who have no pistol experience or have some experience shooting pistols but want more instruction on use for personal defense. It can be offered on either indoor or outdoor ranges depending on location. This class focuses on defensive techniques such as rapid target acquisition and engaging multiple targets but stops short of teaching drawing from the holster and firing. It's a challenging course of fire and we think it's a lot of fun. Although most locations permit pistols of any caliber, many shooters choose to bring a .22 caliber pistol for initial instruction and for practice. Of course, an Appleseed Pistol Clinic includes history. The history shared will include stories you won't hear at traditional 25m and KD events.

Please bring your own ear/eye protection, a rifle with sling, ammunition, rifle mat, bug repellent, hat, sunscreen, a packed lunch, snacks, drinks, and plenty of water to stay hydrated.

To register online, go to www.appleseedinfo.org. Or for more information, contact the Georgia State Coordinator, GA@appleseedinfo.org.

Mark Casteel with the Sylvester Dairy Queen was donating 100% of the money spent on dipped cones as well as all monies donated to the local Phoebe Children's Miracle Network Hospital. They gave away 420 cones and raised $163 dollars for Children's Miracle Network. Ribbon Cutting Held For Chick-Fil-A in Ashburn

Friday brought sunshine, beautiful weather and the Chick-Fil-A truck to Ashburn for their ribbon cutting with the Ashburn-Turner County Chamber of Commerce. The ribbon cutting was held at South GA Oil Distributors. The Chick-Fil-A truck will be there once a month for now. The location is 657 Sylvia Drive in Ashburn. Chick-fil-A, Inc., Founder S. Truett Cathy died Sept. 8, 2014, at age 93. Cathy started the business in 1946, when he and his brother, Ben, opened an Atlanta diner known as The Dwarf Grill (later renamed The Dwarf House®). Through the years, that restaurant prospered and led Cathy to further the success of his business. In 1967, Cathy founded and opened the first Chick-fil-A restaurant in Atlanta's Greenbriar Shopping Center. Today, Chick-fil-A has the highest same-store sales and is the largest quick-service chicken restaurant chain in the United States based on annual system-wide sales. Cathy's family has continued his tradition of leadership, including his son Dan, who was appointed as the company's CEO in 2013, and grandson Andrew, who serves as the current Chick-fil-A CEO. Cathy was the author of six books and was a committed philanthropist dedicated to making a difference in the lives of youth. He was the recipient of countless awards over the years, both for his business acumen and for his charity. With his wife of 65 years, Jeannette McNeil Cathy, he led a life that was centered on biblical principles and family, and is survived by his sons Dan T. and Don "Bubba" Cathy; daughter Trudy Cathy White; 12 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

Georgia Peanut Commission Celebrated National Peanut Month in March

TIFTON, Ga. (March 28, 2022) - March is National Peanut Month, a time to celebrate one of America's favorite foods! The Georgia peanut industry kicked off the celebration at the beginning of the month by hosting the 2022 Georgia PB&J Day in Atlanta on March 1. During the month-long celebration, the Georgia Peanut Commission (GPC) donated peanut butter to food banks, held a Twitter Party and sponsored additional events all in celebration of the tiny legume, which packs a powerful snack, full of protein. Peanuts and peanut butter were promoted during the PB&J Day event by serving Smuckers® Uncrustables® to attendees at the state capitol on March 1. Governor Brian Kemp presented a proclamation recognizing March as National Peanut Month while Sen. Larry Walker III, chairman of the Senate Agriculture and Consumer Affairs Committee, and Rep. Robert Dickey, chairman of the House Agriculture and Consumer Affairs Committee presented resolutions recognizing the importance of Georgia's peanut industry. "Peanuts are Georgia's official state crop, and the state boasts the largest share of peanut production in the U.S. at nearly 52 percent for the 2021 crop," says Joe Boddiford, GPC chairman. "Georgia's 4,000 peanut farmers contribute approximately $2 billion annually to the state and local economy." Throughout the month of March, GPC donated 10,080 jars of peanut butter to the Atlanta Community Food Bank (ACFB), 10,080 jars of peanut butter to Capital Area Food Bank in Washington, D.C., and 7,200 jars of peanut butter to Second Harvest of South Georgia in celebration of National Peanut Month. GPC also sponsored the annual ACFB Hunger Walk/Run held March 6 in Atlanta. The annual event brings approximately 5,000 attendees to help support the food bank by walking or running in the event. GPC distributed packs of peanuts to attendees and promoted the humanitarian relief efforts through Peanut Proud. Additionally in March, GPC promoted peanuts through a variety of promotions. GPC hosted a Twitter party with Foodiechats that had an estimated 7.8 million impressions. The Twitter party also included new peanut recipes from food influencers in Illinois, Nebraska, New York, Maryland, Texas and Georgia, who created recipes ranging from Georgia Peanuts Thai Curry to Gluten Free Espresso Spice Peanut Cookies. GPC sponsored a special series, "Proud to be a Georgia Farmer," with WTOG-TV in Savannah and WALB-TV in Albany. The program highlighted farmers in the viewing area during the evening news in March and featured a special 30-minute show about the Georgia peanut industry including information on production, research, peanut nutrition and more. GPC teamed up with Annessa Chumbley, registered dietitian, for a March - National Peanut Month media campaign in Georgia. Chumbley demonstrated a variety of peanut inspired recipes featuring a Peanut Packed Party Mix, Peanut Butter Banana Pops and Pad Thai Cups with Peanut Butter Sauce. The recipe videos are available on the GPC website and aired on television stations in Albany, Atlanta, Augusta, Columbus, Macon and Savannah. GPC also promoted peanuts at the Atlanta Motor Speedway with a promotion during the QuikTrip 500 NASCAR race on March 20 by having an exhibit in the Fan Zone and by sponsoring Todd Gilliland, the No. 38 driver with Front Row Racing. This promotion reached an average 4 million viewers. GPC provided peanuts and recipes to the state's 11 welcome centers for tourists visiting the state. Throughout the month, GPC promoted peanuts through billboards in Atlanta, television and radio ads, as well as digital banner ads throughout the state. GPC also teamed up with the Chick-fil-A College Football Hall of Fame by providing samples of Georgia peanuts for visitors attending the hall on the weekends throughout the month of March. Coincidentally, March is National Nutrition Month - a great time to recognize the nutritional value of peanuts. One serving of peanuts is a good source of protein, vitamin E, niacin, folate, phosphorus and magnesium. Peanuts are naturally cholesterol-free and low in saturated fat. For additional details and photos from National Peanut Month events, visit the Georgia Peanut Commission website at gapeanuts.com.
