

Reкуро Health is a provider, so we have a network of doctors and customer service. Our founders are the founders of Teledoc; they sold it about five years ago to create a more pre-emptive approach to telemedicine, which could take some of the great qualities we saw from standard telemedicine: access and affordability- but make it more customized to the patient. Taking traditional primary care services, redirecting claims from major medical, and having them be accessed virtually.

Or it provides primary care services to employees who are ineligible or unbenefited. LIKE ASSOCIATIONS OR UNIONS.

The VPC (VIRTUAL PRIMARY CARE) products offer a uniquely customized holistic view of the patient, designed to create a care path specific to the member. What sets us apart from our competitors is the way we receive specific member data that is tailored to them, sparking curiosity and interest in our innovative approach.

Virtual Primary Care:

- This is our most customized member experience product we include member specific information through:
 - HRA(health risk assessment): patented from the Cleveland clinic this gives the dedicated primary care doctor an excellent holistic view of the patient, asking questions common in a brick-and-mortar office, like: How frequently do you exercise, how much do you drink a week, and do you have any family history of depression?
 - at-home lab test: a finger-prick dry blood sample. They collect A1C and Lipid panel levels (sugar and cholesterol).
 - Genomics test: through saliva we are able to see any elevated risks for specified diseases as well as certain types of Cancer.
 - PGX test : or pharmacogenomics test, this test measures your body chemistry to see what certain types of medications your body accepts as well as what medications your body rejects(SSRI's, pain medications and antidepressants). The PGX test can also measure absorbency from other types of medications (whether your body absorbs 25% or maybe %400 of a specific type of medication).
- Having an integrated Primary Care doctor be the same doctor every time you meet, as well as coordinating Urgent Care consultations for a full picture of the patient.

You can add these products below to either the Virtual Primary Care or our Virtual Urgent Care Product-
