Independent songwriting/music & literature journey

At age 12, F. Ally pulled his first guitar from the garbage bin in Toronto while living on Weston Rd and began his musical journey. He reflects on why he wrote songs like My Home, The Birds Won't Come My Way, A Kiss Goodnight, True Love, Sometimes, New Clear Society, Keep The Peace, along with many books and novels... You can find some of his work on www.allymedia.ca

Grooming, Scams, Scandals

Imagine the plot by a mastermind and his accomplices to commit fraud, such as stealing our songs and books, and breaking them into pieces and then having you used the stolen songs and or scripts or rewrite and put your name on it, and then frame you for their fraud. Thus, no relatives, no friends, nobody will get my permission to use any of my songs and or books. Ask the mastermind for song(s), scripts, which they did not steal and get a lawyer, involved.

Coolie, coolie, he said from the next table! His words motivated me to write more on slavery and indentured laborers...F. Ally

KEEP THE PEACE

Music and Lyrics by Faisal (Fizal) D. Ally, Copyright Protected

When I think of those better days
Holding hands and singing a song
When we listened to each other
Reaching out across the sky

Make this Earth a better home
For all lives under the sun
On the land or in the sea
And up above the earth

You say you're white, black, whatever color
It should never be about the color of a person's skin
Lend a hand and you will understand
The meanings of Love

And if you're rich, poor or in-between
You shouldn't judge anyone by what you see
If you look deep down inside
You will find peace of mind

Peace Let's keep the peace
Keep the peace for everyone
Every country across the seas
Sharing love in the world

Put an end to all the wars
Yesterday today and for tomorrow
If you search for the answers
You will find peace of mind

It shouldn't matter what you are
Your religion class color or your race
Walk together and not against each other
Let's live in harmony

Peace, let's keep the peace
Keep the peace for everyone
Every nation across the land
Sharing life on this earth

Let's forgive and learn to compromise
Ease the pain sorrows and no more hunger
And the children will have some peace
In this land we call free

Can you imagine a world that is one
There's no limit to what we can do
Reach out for another
And have a change in heart

Peace Let's keep the peace
Keep the peace for every one
Every country across the seas
Sharing love in the world

Peace Let's keep the peace
Keep the peace for everyone
Every nation across the land
Sharing life on this Earth

Peace let's the peace
Let's keep the peace
Keep the peace for everyone

INDEPENDENT MUSIC & LITERATURE

Over the years I have persisted as an Independent Artist and I have succeeded in my goals as a songwriter/musician with over 100 original songs where I have recorded many of my songs and where I played many of the instruments. I have also reached my goals and succeeded as an Independent writer having written over 15 books, many articles and magazines.

Why Independent? I do not need to be a mainstream artist to succeed. I set my goals and have accomplished many and thus I have succeeded. When I was 18 years old, a discussion surrounded us is, would we allow our songs to be used commercially and modified by others, and our answer was no, because we were true artists and we wrote songs for ourselves. If you take one of my song, that song can be arranged hundreds of different ways by different people, but I wrote that song not the people making changes or different arrangements. I put in the time to create my work, not someone else. We didn't scheme and tried to rob someone else of their work. I continued writing because of the love for the art of songwriting/music and literature, and it had nothing to do with trying to gain fame or wealth. When you love what you do, you will do it.

Beware of scams and being pulled into one by strangers, and people you know and trust. I don't understand it, but the scammers are sending me signs to let me know who they've pulled into their scams, so I always have to rise above evils, and I do so with prayers, meditation, knowledge and great patience. I believe the music industry will fall soon and will be taken over because of people's greed and willing to participate in scams.

The scam I recall the most is the US College Admission Scam where the parents went through the backdoor to make deals for their children, scamming the system. They were caught and charged, and many of the children lives were ruined because the parents made bad choices for their children, thinking they were doing good for them. It would have been better for the parents to accept their children as they are and provide honest advice with good morals and values to them.

GIVE PEACE A CHANCE

“YOU CANNOT CREATE PEACE IF YOU DON’T HAVE PEACE IN YOU”

While many across Canada and United States are getting ready to take in some hot summer days, and spending time on the beach, taking in the street performances, carnivals and street parades, others are taken up with sports, entertainment, traveling, texting etc... while the Great Reset is taking place changing humanity, the world and our lives for ever.

Many empires in the past have fallen. Many have witnessed the fall of the British Empire, and the rise of America and its world domination with countless wars. Now there’s bad news for Americans.

As per World Economic Forum (WEF), America’s dominance is over. By 2030, we’ll have a handful of global powers (Nov 11, 2016).

In other words, America will no longer be an empire by 2030, as we’re witnessing the downfall of America from day to day as the New World Order takes over with its Great Reset and as millions of migrants arrives at Americas southern border.

Henry Kissinger stated who controls the food supply controls the people, who controls energy can control whole continents, who controls money can control the whole world.

We’re in Year Two of the New World Order with the restructuring of the Middle East and other places in the world, as the Great Reset is on its way.

A glance back at when America invaded Iraq back in 2003.

I want to take you back 21 years ago to the spring of 2003, as America was about to invade Iraq. I was at the protest in downtown Edmonton which started off at Churchill Square with the march down to the Legislative ground.

Does this all sound familiar, wars over and over again?

We see something similar taking place in Gaza. Has anything changed throughout history? We see Russia and Ukraine going at it, while Russia is sending war ships to the Caribbean and where Guyana and Venezuela have their own border disputes.

I was in the protest march back in 2003

I wrote an article on this that was published in the Cariwave magazine. Many excerpts from that article are presented in this article, as a glance back to what I wrote and what’s taking place today to see how nothing has changed. Back then I was in the march protesting against the impending invasion and war. The world was protesting. And I thought for sure we had made a difference and there would be no war. And before you could have blinked, the invasion and war was on. Below is a glimpse is what I wrote back then in Cariwave: The Caribbean Magazine, a 40 page printed magazine, which I had created, and distributed across Edmonton and selected places across Alberta.

The Alignment for Global Peace

The alignment of Karma's is a positive expression of the cosmic mind as peacemakers paced the streets across the globe, sending a strong and powerful message "not to commit genocide in our names"

Blessed are the peacemakers

"Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called the children of God." Some courageous students from Ross Shepherd did not let fear silenced them as they spoke out at Churchill Square in Edmonton on March 15, 2003 during the world wide protest where over 15,000 peacemakers stood with millions across the globe. "We do not face the reality of how this war will ravished the world. The Iraqis are powerless, we must speak for them." "We must insist that Canada take a world stage and oppose this war," echoed, encouraging all schools in Edmonton to speak out against the genocide the war will bring to defenseless children and not to let fear silence them.

"Ralph Klein stand up for peace! We want to say to him No! No! No! Peace is our solution," the voice of RAJ PANU ECHOED POWERFULLY through the Legislative Ground on March 15th.

"This is not a war, this is an occupation that's moving from country to country, taking over the world," a speaker's voice echoed through the crowd. "Creating a better world, a peaceful world, we need to TAKE OUR WORLD BACK. WE MUST DEMOSTRANTE PEACE." And the singers sang, "US aggression is a crime with bombs falling on Iraq all the time." "DON'T LET THEM SILENCE YOU. THEY WANT REGIONAL DOMINANCE OVER THE ARAB AND MUSLIM WORLD." "MR. KLEIN AND MR. SMITH GET OFF YOUR KNEES," the voice echoed across the ground.

Another speaker continued, "YOU CANNOT CREATE PEACE IF YOU DON'T HAVE PEACE IN YOU. ALL THEY HAVE IS A STATE OF ANGER AND AGGRESSION. Is Mr. Bush in a state of peace? No! No! No! Is Mr. Wolfwitz in a state of pace? No! No! No!..." "WE HAVE TO MAKE SURE THAT THEY DON'T DIVIDE US." "There's a clash of civilization and racial profiling,” the speaker voice rose with a burst of energy, addressing the crowd. “The West left a dumping ground in the Arab and Muslim world...”

Genocide against Children

Could we ever forgive ourselves for MASS GENOCIDE AGAINST DEFENCELESS CHILDREN, which has already begun with the US led so-called Liberators? How can we let this happen to defenseless children? Can we forgive ourselves for the starvation they will face and being LEFT WITHOUT PARENTS AND NOBODY TO LOVE AND CARE FOR THEM? How can we forgive ourselves for the death of 1/2 million children who died after the Gulf war because the UN HELD SCTIONS AGAINST THEM, STOPPING MEDICINE AND VITAL PRODUCTS FROM GETTING TO THEM....”

The Truth Is Stranger Than Fiction

Have you heard the phrase, “the truth is stranger than fiction.” IF YOU ARE TOLD A LIE OVER AND OVER, IT MAY BECOME YOUR TRUTH, especially when you rely on others to tell you what the truth is and what to believe. Try doing your own research and see what happens.

The Edmonton Independent paper, Vueweekly, Mar 6-12 edition, states that, “IRAQI SOLDIERS REMOVING MORE THAN 300 BABIES FROM INCUBATORS IN A KUWAIT CITY HOSPITAL AND LEAVING THEM ON THE COLD FLOOR TO DIE? TURNS OUT THE TALE WAS FABRICATED AND DISSEMINATED BY A SHELL ORGANIZATION...”

On Friday, March 14th, CNN said, “INTELLIGENCE DOCUMENTS THAT US AND BRITISH GOVERNMENT SAID WERE STRONG EVIDENCE THAT IRAQ WAS DEVELOPING NUCLEAR WEAPONS HAVE BEEN DISMISSED AS FORGERIES BY U.N. WEAPONS INSPECTORS....”

(Many of the above passages were taken from p.15 Cariwave: the Caribbean Magazine Spring / Summer 2003 edition)

2024 is Year Two of the ‘New World Order’

2024 is Year Two of the ‘New World Order’ and there are lots to say about this year, which will change the world forever. We are at the crossroads of history, and we are witnessing war crimes across the world, as countries are facing off with each other. Israel and Gaza, Russia and Ukraine and in South America, Venezuela and Guyana border disputes, as Russian war ships heads for the Caribbean. Many countries are in confrontations with each other. There are continuous problems in India. We see the destruction of Palestine and its people who have always been on that land continues. While the Brazilian President called the war crimes on Palestinians a Holocaust, many are calling it genocide. Yet, the ICJ shows that it has no power.

The pieces are being moved into place as wars are about to explode, and people continue to die. Many reports have stated that the covid injections have caused countless injuries and deaths, and its only going to get worse as the Great Reset takes place where ‘you will own nothing and you will be happy.’

The Georgia Guide Stones told us what's coming

According to the Georgia Guide Stones, the world will be depopulated to 500 million. Today, we continue to hear about many countries birth rate is on the decline. We also see a change in demographics creating more of a global world. We've already seen videos of the future lab babies. The digital currency is on the way, with digital enslavement where our every movement will be tracked, along with ongoing injections. Humans to be merged with AI, where these new breeds of humans will possess very low intelligence so they are kept under control, and where AI will be their bosses and where AI will possess much greater intelligence than humans to keep humans under control. It's only going to get worse for humanity where humanity is the new lab rats.

And today we see the changes speeding up. Where I live, I'm surprise to see the rapid change in demographics, consistent with the Georgia guide stones. In many malls I go to, today I hear more Spanish than English. I hear more African and Indian (India) languages than English.

Freedom of speech is being eroded, to ensure people who know what's being planned are silenced.

We can clearly see the West falling. Immigrants are flooding America's border, as the economy worsens, and the same with Canada and places around the world, as economies get worse. Thousands of Moroccans are crossing into Spain. I saw a video where an Irish female said that on her block no one speaks English and that everyone speaks their own language. I heard the same about Spain. And you can bet that its the same for all Western countries, as globalism takes over - all carefully planned out.

15 - minute cities

Macron just stated that Europe may die....Klaus Schwab told us of the Great Reset. Netenyahu said they are restructuring the Middle East and had already removed Gaza and the West Bank from their map even before the war started. Recently, I had seen a map of Edmonton, which includes St. Albert, all laid out as 15-minute districts, and easy to track people. Also the United States are laid out into 10 districts.

Many welcome the 15-minute cities because they really don't know what will take place, especially for example the ones living and working downtown with everything at their convenience and within 15 minutes. So they don't mind 15-minute cities, however, many are very concerned about being locked into these districts and to leave permission is required.

From my research writing the novels, The Trilogy of Savitri's Garden, which had taken place in the 1800, I draw a parallel to what's coming with the 15-minute smart cities. Back in the 1800s in places like Guyana, South America, if someone to leave the plantation a pass was required. Back then people were locked in by fences. In the 15 minute cities, the fences are invisible, but people will be locked in and monitored by cameras in their homes and while going about their daily lives.

In a 15 minute city, what if a person prefer to go for a longer drive to a different district to shop or to visit relatives. Would we be allowed to do so every day and any time of the day and many times of the day? Let's say your child lives half an hour away. Are you allowed to drive there every day to visit, help out, and babysit or will you need permission and permits. We are being told that its for our benefit. If there's a lockdown, does that mean that people will be stuck in their 15-minute zone and cannot leave?

What if a person wants to walk for two hours a day to get some exercise and have to enter two zones, or the person wants to stay with relatives for two months, etc... Will people need a permit to do so? What if you become ill and cannot get back to your 15 minute zone in time? Thus people may not be allowed to leave the area they work in, sleep and eat, unless they have a permit, else would you get fined? On the plantations back in the 1800s, there were always escapees that were hunted down. And now with technology people will be tracked and people's whereabouts will be known.

If people are not willing to stand up for our future generations, then we're living in the end times for humanity.

FAMOUS ROOTS BACK TO INDIA - PAKISTAN

Second Edition published on February 17, 2024

First edition published on February 14, 2024 in the Diverse City Reports on www.allymedia.ca

Research information and links were placed on www.allymedia.ca over the past months.

Disclaimer: The information presented in this article came from a number of YouTube videos and some of the references are provided at the end of this report. If there are incorrect information in the references and now in this magazine, once brought to my attention or if I come across updated information that differs, then I will do an update on this article with the changes in an upcoming edition of this magazine or an upcoming write up.

According to some videos on YouTube, some of the biggest names in the entertainment industry, sports and in politics are said to have roots that goes back in India / Pakistan.

The immigration of people from India continued throughout the centuries, by caravans into Europe and later by ships that would take them to other places in the world to labor in distant lands in places like the Americas. And in recent decades many traveled by plane and train from India to make their homes in distant lands.

In the past, we've often heard of famous entertainers such as Paul Anka is of Lebanese origin, along with Frank Zappa and many others. We also hear of the lead singer, Freddy Mercury, from the band Queen is Indian, being born in India and raised in Tanzania. On the internet, there have been claims that many famous entertainers have roots going back to India / Pakistan. To name a few that have an origin that goes back to India/Pakistan are: The King of Rock & Roll Elvis Presley, Pablo Picasso, Gipsy Kings, Carlos Santana, Charlie Chaplin, Yul Brynner, Rita Hayworth, Michael Caine, Denny Laine, Robert Plant who is the lead singer of Led Zepplin, Zlatan Ibrahimovic, Andrea Pirlo and many more...

How would they even get from India to Europe and to America and other places around the world? When I use the word India, this would include Pakistan, as at that time, Pakistan was a part of India and most or many would have either came from Pakistan and or left through Pakistan. How could the King of Rock 'n Roll - one of the biggest names in the music and entertainment industry have Indian roots? According to a number of YouTube videos, Elvis Presley on his mother side is of Roma background. You now asked what is Roma? I will explain soon. Why are some so pale, while others like Yul Brynner gets so dark? As a teenager I have always wondered why Elvis would become so dark at times. I know many 'white' who would not even get a slight tan in the torturing heat. I've heard someone saying that Elvis said that he had Native American blood. I do not have the facts. All I'm doing is presenting the information that is publicly available through some YouTube videos and I've placed the reference links below.

Freddie Mercury whose real name is Farook Banasara from India and born in India, but the people mentioned above were born In Europe, America and other places but have roots that goes back to India based on the YouTube videos.

Travelers and Gypsies

People have been traveling across the lands for thousands of years, but what is very visible across Europe are people from the Roma and Sinthi backgrounds where many have darker complexion than the native Europeans and were many are treated as second class citizens and different from the native Europeans. And could these people have actually been the slaves we often heard about in Europe instead of the native Europeans? Although many of the Roma and Sinthi people have been mixed with the native populations in Europe over the centuries and where some also looks like the natives of those lands meaning completely pale in complexion, many still have dark complexion and many also looks like they have maintained a high degree of Indian / Pakistani genetics; many also claim that they are pure Roma, meaning that they have maintained all of the genetics they left India/Pakistan with.

Its also stated that many of these people that lives across Europe, the Middle East and North Africa, South America and other places have maintained a lot of their Indian genetics are known as Roma or Sinthi people. A few hundred years ago they were given the name Egyptian which then the name changed to Gipsy, because of their dark complexion and not knowing where they came from. However, with research it is found that their spoken language, which they have maintained, is very similar to Sanskrit and Indian languages derived from Sanskrit, and also has at least 100 words from Armenia where many have lived for at least 100 years during their journey, showing their journey of migration out of India, into Iran, into Armenia.

People migrate for jobs and a better life

As we see today across the entire globe have migrated for a better live and work, and thus my view is the Indians/Pakistanis journeyed out of what's known as India / Pakistan over the past centuries for work and to have a better life. My view is when laborers are required or demanded around the world, people are taken there, whether kidnapped as we've seen with slavery, lied to as we've seen with indentured laborers, or people go on their own free will as we see today with countless people traveling all over the world and migrating for jobs and a better life, and millions showing up at the US border on their own free will - don't you think that it could have been the same for the Roma and Sinthi people? I have read that the King of Persia had brought a million or maybe two million Indians from India / Pakistan into Persia to work as musicians, entertainers and other professions. My view is also while they were traveling through Iran as their population multiplied they were told of other places where they could work. And we see the same thing happening today. And from Iran they went to Armenia and many stayed there for over 100 years, and from there they headed into Europe. While many continued to travel to new places, many also remain in many of these lands.

There could be many other reasons

Today we see people from all over the world at the US border looking for work and a better life. Also in war torn countries people also migrate to other places. But be ware that history can be very bias, depending on who is writing history, who controls the media, and where history is often written to suit their agendas, where at other times they would then change history again after accomplishing certain goals, in the way they keep tampering with the scriptures such as the Bible or keeps creating many new religious sects to assist with their agendas. At one time they will say something is bad for you, and then at another time they will say it's good for you. So if they want to promote a new oil, then they will come out and say for example that coconut oil is bad for you etc... At one time they will say certain groups or religions are bad and then at another time they will make corrections saying that they have discovered new information and that these people or religion is good for you.

When did they leave India / Pakistan?

I've heard that waves of Indians had left India / Pakistan about 1,000 years ago, then 600 years ago where its said that the Turkish brought Indians into Europe as slaves, but most likely the Turkish brought the Indians to work as laborers. In another video, there was a family of Indian background in Romania who said that their grandparents spoke Indian languages, and that they've been there for only 300 years , which means in the past centuries, Indians had travelled into Europe to work at different times. In the 1800s millions of Indians left India / Pakistan by ship to South America and the Caribbean and other places around the world.

DIVERSE REPORT 1

Bird Flu to start the destruction of humanity

There's lots of coverage in mainstream and alternative News on another pandemic, which will be triggered off by the Bird Flu, along with climate change, a global 'manmade famine to afflict humanity' and detention centers for the ones that resists the mainstream narrative.

At time 18:34 in the video (ref1) states 'Finland to start bird Flu vaccination in humans, in the world first (June 26, 2024).' Time 19:53 says, 'So far, not a single human bird flu infection has been detected in Finland.' The host of the video says, 'Same time Pfizer and Moderna are putting out their vaccines, combined covid-flu vaccines are coming: Moderna jab clears major test.'

When many thinks that the days for vaccinations are over and where many are now saying that they do not want any more of these injections, it's all coming back and from here on it will be ongoing, unless everyone world-wide start standing up for our rights to choose and not to be forced to take these injections.

At 19:53 of the video it states, "According to THL, Bird Flu Vaccinations aim to protect those at risk (meaning 60 years and older) of contracting bird flu from serious disease caused by the virus. The goal is to prevent a situation where the bird flu virus infects humans at the same time as the seasonal flu virus, which could enable the emergence of a new type of virus..."

What I do know is people who did not take the injections are healthy. We must all have a right to choose. Once our rights to choose are stripped away, the whole of humanity will fall.

President Mohamed Irfaan Ali of Guyana, South America on Guyana's oil, climate change and reparations - Guyanese President exposes hypocrisy of BBC

We hear about climate change on a daily basis. While there are talks about getting rid of vehicles that uses gas, electric vehicles are being pushed on us. In Guyana, South America, oil has become a driving force for its economy. But the Guyanese president, Mohammed Irfaan Ali is well prepared to face his opponents as Guyana continues its oil production.

In the youtube video “Guyana president blasts journalist when discussing country's oil reserves” “Does that give you the right to lecture us on climate change?” Guyana's President Irfaan Ali criticized the developed countries for their “hypocrisy” when a BBC presenter questioned Guyana's commitment to mitigate climate change due to the country's aspirations for its oil reserves.

An excerpt from the transcript is starting from the beginning of the video:

In an interview, the BBC broadcaster grilled Guyana's president on its ‘commitment to mitigate climate change due to the country's aspirations for its oil reserves’ (ref 5) where the broadcaster says “it is expected that there will be $150 billion worth of oil and gas extracted off your Coast that means according to many experts more than 20 billion tons of carbon emissions will come from your seabed from those reserves and be released into the atmosphere I I don't know if you as a head of state went.....(ref 5).

Climate change and carbon emission is a hot topic, and as seen in other interviews the Guyanese President, Mohammed Irfaan Ali, was prepared and was ready to make clarifications. He began, “let me stop you right there. Do you know that Guyana has a forest forever that is the size of England and Scotland combined a forest that stores up to 19.5 gigatons of carbon, a forest that we have kept alive.

“Does that give you the right to lecture us on climate change?”

“Does that give you the right to lecture us on climate change? I am going to lecture you on climate change because we have kept this forest alive that stores 19.5 gigatons of carbon that you enjoy, that the world enjoy, that you don't pay us for, that you don't value, that you don't see a value in that the people of Guyana has kept alive. Guess what? We have the lowest deforestation rate in the world and guess what? Even with our greatest exploration of the oil and gas resource, we have up now we will still be Net Zero. Guyana will still be Net Zero with all our exploration. We still be Net Zero.”

President Irfaan Ali stood his ground. He's not backing down. He's well prepared to take on anyone as seen in videos. He's knowledgeable and is outspoken.

I am not finished yet I am just not finished as yet because this is the hypocrisy that exists in the world. In the last 50 years has lost 65% of all this biodiversity we have kept our biodiversity are you valuing it are you ready to pay for it when is the developed world is going for it or are you in the pockets are you in the pockets of those who have damaged the environment are you in the pockets are you and your system in the pockets of those who destroyed the environment through the Industrial Revolution and now lecturing us

Guyanese president on the Amazon Basin - ‘...we are part of also the Guyana Shield the Guyana Shield is perhaps the oldest uh geological uh landscape uh in the world

The area called Guyana with other spellings such as Guayana, Guianna, Guiana in South America spans a wide area from Venezuela, through Guyana and all the way east passing French Guiana and into Brazil. With climate change and carbon emission, President Irfaan Ali explains what takes place in this Amazon basin. Below are some transcripts from the sources listed.

An excerpt from the video: WATCH || President Dr Irfaan Ali spoke on climate change and carbon emissions, and his recently aired BBC HARDtalk interview during a brief chat on Trinidad and Tobago's CNC3 Morning Brew hosted by Hema Ramkissoon.

Excerpt from the transcript starting at 0:29 second of the video

At 0:29 seconds into the transcript, the President said, ‘the Amazon Basin, we are part of also the Guyana Shield. The Guyana Shield is perhaps the oldest geological landscape in the world. It is the oldest geological space in the world being part of the Amazon basin. Being part of a basin that uh contributes uh 20% of the oxygen of the world the Amazon Bas is known as the lungs of the world and in the Amazon basin Guyana is perhaps the leading country in Forest management Environmental Management and a leading example in how we're securing the forest within that Basin thereby keeping the lungs of the world alive you know when we look at the carbon.”

Another excerpt from the video is where Irfaan Ali discusses the size of this area and its biodiversity and where Guyana sits with its carbon emission. He says, “The Forest of Guyana stores 19.5 gagatons of carbon but also the carbon dioxide that the forest captures so outside of the storage we have carbon capture and then you look at the richness of the biodiversity in a world in the last 50 years where we have lost more than 60% of our biodiversity uh ecological Services then you understand in totality the value of Guyana's forest uh to the world a forest that is size of England and Scotland combined and more importantly a forest that has been more or less untouched lowest deforestation rate in the world and a forest that uh is has been certified uh a jurisdictional scale that we are deploying uh as part of our contribution globally in the fight of climate change but of course as I said earlier the developed world need to understand that the developing world who are asked to make these very important decision.” life, and also where people of different tribes roams enjoying its beauty and clean air.

A development model around the forest that is called the low carbon development strategy

This area is one of the most pristine beauty on this earth, untouched, inhabited by many forms of Ali explains a model for low carbon. He states that the model ‘is not a climate strategy alone’ and that ‘it is a climate environmental strategy that builds in sustainable development that builds in the development goals and aspirations of the country so that it speaks about livelihood enhancement prosperity for the people so we are one of the first models in the world in which we have been able to market the carbon in the forest which is certified the entire forest is certified and we have of course monitoring and verification system one of the strongest audit system globally as a result of that we've been able to get the first use agreement with Hess Corporation more than 750 million uh us dollar and that is a large chunk of that is from Legacy Credit so and one of the things that we have done in the model is to create a system where 15% of all the revenue earn uh in this model 15% of all the revenue earn on the carbon sale goes directly to the indigenous communities and they have the ability now to utilize that uh those resources to fund their Community Development plan their economic development plan....”

At time :56 seconds into to the video, the host continued '.... on behalf of all of our viewers who will be covered by this why should somebody who maybe had an ancestor seven or eight Generations ago long before they were twinkle in their great great great grandparent's eye why should they have to pay now for what an ancient ancestor did or why should they apologize for what an ancestor did 2 centuries ago why do they still carry that burden

President Mohammed Irfaan Ali of Guyana also have ancestors - although not enslaved, but were indentured laborers who were also faced with working under very bad conditions to produce sugar for the rest of the sweet tooth world, along with rum and other by products knows about the struggles of the enslaved people and the indentured laborers were mistreated and how hard they worked while others became rich from their labor. However, this is about the enslaved people and not the indentured laborers. His response was: 'that burden oh it's not a burden at all you are one of the beneficiary of that uh slave trade so this is not a burden you should be concerned and you should pay because you today are still benefited from the greatest indignity to human being and that is a slave trade and not only did you benefit during the slave trade and your country developed but look at what it calls the developing world during slavery resources was used to build your country build up your capacity you were able to then become competitive you were able to invest in mechanization and developing countries like ours were left behind so you should be very concerned because you are prime beneficiary of the exploits of slavery so put a figure on it please...'"

II) - Arguments for reparations

The article called The Fatal Conceit of the Caribbean Reparations Movement; 01/12/2023 by Rasheed J. Griffith; <https://historyreclaimed.co.uk/the-fatal-conceit-of-the-caribbean-reparations-movement/> discusses reparations due to slavery.

The article states: ‘In April, a group of descendants of former plantation owners in Britain formed Heirs of Slavery, a lobby organization to champion reparatory justice for the Caribbean. In August (2023), the President of Guyana (Mohammed Irfaan Ali) amidst a domestic oil-fueled economic boom called for descendants of former plantation owners to pay reparations.

Listed here are 3 points from the article on ‘Beckles’ overarching argument for reparations rests on three sub-theses across two books:

1. The profit made by the British during the Atlantic trade of enslaved people from Africa to the Caribbean was a necessary criterion for Britain’s growth during the Industrial Revolution.
2. The profit from slave-produced sugar on Caribbean plantations was a necessary criterion for the growth of Britain during the Industrial Revolution.
3. The primary cause for the current underdevelopment and persistent poverty in the Caribbean was the extractive nature of British imperialism.

Article states ‘Slavery was abolished in New York in 1827 and officially across the US in 1863, but it was followed by racial segregation practices like Jim Crow and redlining -- denying loans to people based on race and neighborhoods, impacting generations.’

“Look at today, where we still see Blacks making 70 cents to every dollar whites make,” the Rev. Al Sharpton said.

SACRAMENTO. Calif. (and KFO) -- On Wednesday, members of the California Legislative Black Caucus announced a package of reparations bills in a first effort to repair Black Californians harmed by the legacy of slavery and anti-Black policies in the century and a half since emancipation.

State Senator Steven Bradford of southern California said “Reparations is not charity, it’s not a handout. It’s not a gift. It is what was promised and what is owed. It’s something that is 160 years overdue to African Americans who built this country. We wouldn’t be the great nation that we are today if it wasn’t for 400 years of free labor,” said.

Verene Shepherd, a Jamaican professor of history and vice-chairwoman of the reparations commission for Caricom said, "The crime is huge. The responsibility for what happened is huge."

The article states 'The King of Netherlands has offered a formal apology for his nation's links to slavery, but the British Government has not. In 2021, King Charles called Britain's involvement in the slave trade the "darkest days of our past" while on a visit to Barbados.'

The article states 'Speaking in the House of Commons in April (2023), Prime Minister Rishi Sunak denied that the UK would offer a formal apology or "commit to reparatory justice" through reparations.'

7) Guyana - Venezuela border disputes: Venezuela moves closer to the border, while Brazil also send troops to its border

By Fisal Ally

Second edition, published on February 17, 2024

First edition, published on February 14, 2024 in the Diverse City Reports posted on www.allymedia.ca

Introduction

There have been ongoing disputes with Venezuela and Guyana on its border, and it looks like the situation is escalating more than ever. It's important to understand this border conflicts and how it all began. In the past and also recently, Venezuela have made claims to Essequibo in Guyana. In 2015 when the Exxon, Hess, and CNOOC oil explorations commenced, Venezuela once again began making claims for the Essequibo region, as the oil companies explorations continued. In 2023 the President of Venezuela made statements that they will annex Essequibo and also have created a new map with Essequibo being a part of Venezuela. Recently it was written that "Guyana could become the Monaco for Latin America" as Guyana's oil boom continues with Guyana being the fast growing economy in the world per capita.

A glance at history after Spain made claims to the Essequibo

Before the Europeans made claims to Essequibo region of Guyana, the Indigenous people were living and thriving in that area. And even though Spain had made claims to the Essequibo region in the 15th century backed by The Treaty of Tordesilla, this treaty was not signed nor recognized by others such as the Dutch, and the development in the Essequibo by the Dutch had commenced - not long after Spain's claim - in the 1500s by the Dutch and also in the 1600s by the Dutch. In the past the border disputes were resolved at different times as Venezuela raised issues, at the Peace of Amiens (1802), 1899 Paris Arbitral Award, and the Geneva Agreement (1966) where resolutions were always acknowledged by Venezuela.

The border issues were already settled

The border issues were already settled. But it was brought up with Guyana's discovery of Gold. And recently again with Guyana's oil discovery in 2015 when Venezuela began flexing its arms again, and recently with Venezuela's 2024 upcoming election, Venezuela have made threats that they were taking over Essequibo and said that they were bringing in their own oil companies into the Essequibo region of Guyana.

Why would Venezuela be so concerned with the oil Guyana is producing, when Venezuela have one of the largest oil reserves in the world? Since the Venezuela's oil production is down, one would think that Venezuela would be more concerned in getting its oil production up than creating conflicts with Guyana. The conflicts being created will not get Venezuela's oil production up. Also why does Venezuela think that if they cannot get their oil production up with their own contractors that they would profit from invading the Essequibo region and taking over the oil? Does this make any sense? Does anyone see any logic in this? Or is this just being done to create conflicts in this region of the world as many places around the world area all in conflicts now.

The article (ref1) Venezuela builds forces near border with Guyana despite agreement to de-escalate published on 2024/02/09 states, 'Satellite images show Venezuela had bolstered its military presence near the border with Guyana, despite Caracas saying it would pursue a diplomatic avenue to try and resolve the long-standing territorial dispute over an oil-rich piece of Guyanese land.'

A few months ago, members from the Latin American and Caribbean nations had attended a meeting in St. Vincent with President Maduro of Venezuela and President Ali of Guyana, where Venezuela had agreed not to take any action against Guyana, as both of these nations awaits the International Court of Justice (ICJ) decisions on the Venezuela - Guyana border issues. However, Venezuela have broken its commitment, as 'In January, Venezuela bragged about expanding its military presence in the region in propaganda videos released on its army's social media accounts, showing bulldozers clearing land, as well as light tanks and infantry fighting vehicles on the move and on Mi-17 military transport helicopter' (ref1).

Due to the threats from Venezuela, Brazil had stated in the past that Venezuela will not be allowed to access Brazilian land to get to Guyana, as Guyana have close ties to Brazil, not only in agriculture, but also in yearly events for example every year on the long Easter weekend, the Brazilians vaqueros (cowboys / cowgirls) excerpt for during covid lockdowns would enter Guyana to compete with the Guyanese cowboys and cowgirls in Lethem in Guyana where the area would be transformed with Brazilian music and dishes and culture. And this is what Guyana wants to keeps, as Guyana wants to have good relations with its neighbors. Also many Brazilians are employed in Guyanese businesses, live in Guyana making Guyana their home, and works in Guyana's gold mining industry. Also back in the 1990s when things had gotten very bad for Guyana, many Guyanese had moved to Venezuela, and now that things are very bad in Guyana, many Venezuelans have been welcomed to live, work and make Guyana its home, and this is what Guyana is all about. And this is the way President Irfaan Ali of Guyana would like Guyanese relationships with its neighbors to continue. However, Venezuela is the one that's creating all of the conflicts even though they have more oil than Guyana.

The article 'Brazil's military reinforces border with Venezuela and Guyana due to Esequibo by Bruno Kelly published on February 3, 2024, states (ref2) 'MANAUS, Feb 2 (Reuters), states that 'But Caracas' revival of its claim nevertheless prompted Brazil to say it would not let Venezuela use Brazilian territory in Roraima to invade Esequibo, there being no other land route through the jungle.'

Many Brazilians enters Guyana in the town called Lethem to go shopping and many Guyanese also enter Brazil through this same road. Thus Guyana has a very good relationship with Guyana. The article further states (ref2) 'A convoy of military trucks and armored vehicles set off for Brazil's northern border on Friday to reinforce the presence of the Brazilian army in response to tensions over Venezuela's claim to Guyana's Esequibo region.' 'More than two dozen armored cars arrived in Manaus by river transport and some left by road for Boa Vista, capital of Roraima state, where the local garrison will be increased to 600 soldiers, the army said in a statement.'

Conclusion

There is a global conflict in many places in the world, and now Guyana and Venezuela are in this global conflict. Hopefully, the powers of Guyana and Venezuela would ensure that they are not pulled into these conflicts.

The destruction of Gaza and its people

The Brazilian President calls it a holocaust of the Palestinians

By Faisal Ally

Section 3 - Israeli Teacher imprisons and interrogated

Section 4 - ICJ Ruling

Section 5 - Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict

Section 6 - Indian TV presenter stood up to her Israeli guest on his accusations

Section 7 - Rafa situation and possible destruction

Introduction

The world 'will not stand by in silence' as this genocide against the Palestinians takes place. With the advancement of technology, not only created massive destructive weapons that's being used to bomb buildings that are falling on top of babies, children, women and men as the world remains silent. But technology also brought social media where the whole world is communicating with each other and thus the whole world is witnessing the genocide against the innocent Palestinian people, as their homes are being bombed with many deaths and while they are driven out of their land. This all began on October 7, 2023, when Hamas entered Israel and kidnapped Israeli citizens. Since then there have been massive deaths and destruction of Palestine. Why would Hamas allow this to happen? One must also ask who created Hamas and why? Have Hamas done anything good for the Palestinians? All the world is seeing is destruction of Palestinians. What good came out of Hamas kidnapping Israeli citizens. Nothing at all, but destruction, and also triggering more wars in the Middle East. Whether this was all planned by higher ups, the fact is, Hamas kidnapping Israeli citizens have completely destroyed Gaza, the killed almost 30,000 Palestinians, where most are children, destroyed Gaza and have triggered off wars across the Middle East.

We always hear of the name of a country fighting wars. Did the people of that country instigated and created these wars? Or was it the Globalist and what's called the Deep State with one of the richest families that that possess most of the world wealth, that's planning these wars and the Great Reset. Klaus Schwab certainly told us about it.

We always hear from the Mainstream Media how bad Russia is along with the Middle East, but Israel has been imprisoning their own citizens for not supporting the war crimes against the Palestinians. An eighteen year old who refused to go into the army was jailed for a month then released and is being called up again, where he said he would continue to refuse. A teacher was also imprisoned and then released. There are most likely many others. Outside of Israel, like in places like Canada and the US, some have lost their jobs for speaking up. This should make you wonder whose war is this. Is it just Israel's or others that created Israel and control governments and politicians around the world? As it is, Israel has broken all international laws when it comes to wars and the protection of civilians. Why would Israel do this? Israel did show a map of the new Middle East with Gaza and the West Bank erased from the map and also Israel said that they are restricting the whole Middle East. So was this all planned. And with the Great Reset, the whole world is being restructured. So whose war is this? It is Israel and Hamas, or is it someone else's war.

Many around the world have stated that this is genocide against the Palestinians, and these words and are coming from some of their own mouths that support this genocide.

Section 1 - Swedish Prime Minister on genocide against the Palestinians

Did the Swedish prime minister slipped up when the question ‘Do they have the right to genocide now?’ was asked. The Swedish Prime Minister, Ulf Kristersson, answered, “Sweden and the EU stand united in that Israel has the right to genocide self-defense!” (ref1).

The Swedish Prime Minister spoke for Sweden and the whole EU. What do these words tell you? Let’s see what people are saying in the comment section of the video concerning the Swedish prime minister statement. Below are only four out of the hundreds or thousands of comments:

- 1) ‘That’s called a Freudian slip, which is basically when you accidentally say something that your subconscious mind actually believes.’
- 2) ‘It is becoming embarrassing, our world is being run by corrupt cowards.’
- 3) God is exposing the truth right from their mouths.
- 4) They all know its genocide rather than self defense.

Another video states, ‘Diplomats walkout during Israeli ambassador UNSC speech “Today you have an historic opportunity to shift the focus of this council’ The speech went on ‘To the real and grave security threat, the Middle East is suffering from a cancer...’

The question is, what caused the cancer?

Section 2 - Israel bulldozing of cemeteries except one with British, Australian and Jewish soldiers

The world have witnessed through social media that Israel IDF are also attacking the dead, where ‘At least 16 cemeteries in Gaza have been desecrated by Israeli forces, satellite imagery and videos reveal’ (ref3). The article (ref 3) states: ‘The international destruction of religious sites, such as cemeteries, violates international law, except under narrow circumstances relating to that site becoming a military objective, and legal experts told CNN that Israel’s acts could amount to war crimes.’

Israel continues to break all the rules and they are getting away with it and they are getting lots of support, as seen by the comment made by the Swedish Prime Minister.

‘A spokesman for the IDF could not account for the destruction of the 16 cemeteries CNN provided coordinates for, but said the military sometimes has “no other choice” but to target cemeteries it claimed Hamas uses for military purposes” (Ref 3).

According to the article, ‘The IDF said rescuing the hostages and finding and returning their bodies is one of its key missions in Gaza, which is why bodies were removed from some gravesites’ (ref3).

Does the IDR really believe that Hamas would have the time to bury hostages in these cemeteries?

‘South Africa raised the IDF’s destruction of graveyards in Gaza as part of its case at the International Court of Justice arguing ISRAEL IS COMMITTING GENOCIDE. Israel denies the allegation, but Dill said that while the destruction of cemeteries alone does not amount to genocide, it can add to evidence of Israel's intent' (ref3)

Just half mile away they left a grave untouched with mostly British and Australian soldiers

'Just a half mile away from the destroyed Al-Tuffah cemetery, east of Gaza City, a cemetery holding the bodies of mostly British and Australian soldiers who died in World War I and II stands largely intact. A crater on the burial grounds appears in satellite imagery between October 8 and October 15, but it has otherwise been untouched by the war' (ref3)

The article went on to say (ref3), Israeli soldiers even posed with an Israeli flag by the grave of a Jewish soldier buried there and another image posted to social media shows a tank sitting on the edge of the graveyard - respecting the sanctity of that hallowed ground. The respect of some of the dead, but not others, is in contravention of international law, Muna Haddad, a human rights lawyer and researcher on the treatment of the dead, crime of 'committing outrages upon personal dignity' under the Rome Statue," she said.

The question is, if Hamas was hiding in the cemeteries, then why would Hamas hide in only Palestinians cemeteries? Why not in the one with British, Australian and Jewish soldiers? Is Hamas protecting the cemetery with the British, Australian and Jewish soldiers? And if Hamas was hiding in this cemetery then would the Israeli IDF also destroy this one? Something sure smells fishy when it comes to politics. Then with all of the destruction and war crimes taking place now in the Middle East, one must wonder who is Hamas working for? Because of Hamas actions on October 7, 2023 - even though Israel was warned that Hamas was planning an attack - basically all of Gaza is under destruction, attacks in the West Bank, and wars breaking out through the Middle East. If Hamas were not in those 16 Palestinian cemeteries then Israel had deliberately destroyed the cemeteries of Palestinians burial.

Section 3 - Israeli Teacher imprisoned and interrogated

Israelis speaking up against on Israel's war crimes are being imprisoned. Recently, an 18 year old - as seen in a video - was imprisoned for a month and then released and is being called up again to join the army, but he stated that he would refuse again, and he will continue to refuse and thus he will continue to be imprisoned.

The Israeli teacher, Baruchin says (ref4), 'Here in Israel for generations, we kill the Palestinians. We injured the Palestinians. We have more than 1500Palestinians in administrative detention. We demolish their houses here in Jerusalem. We cut down their olive trees. We confiscate their property. The waters. And most Israelis expect them to accept it...they blame them, the Palestinians...How can expect the Palestinians to live under occupation for ever? Every Israeli citizen knows this clearly, that if you show the slight sentiment towards the people of Gaza. If you criticize killing the innocent, including women and children in Gaza, you will be politically persecuted. You will go through public shaming. You will lose your job - and in my case be put in jail.'

Baruchin went on to say that most Israeli do not know what is going on in Gaza. He says their mainstream media does not show what goes on in Gaza and what we are doing Gaza.

Many are also being censored. There's a Youtube called: many of my shows have been cancelled: Chinese Artist, Ai Weiwei on Israel, Gaza & Censorship: Democracy Now; January 22, 2024. This title speaks for itself. There are more cases that are not mentioned here.

Section 4 - South Africa's filing on the genocide on the Palestinians and the ICJ Ruling

There have been ongoing massive protests across the entire world against what many around the world is claiming as genocide against the Palestinians. After the ICJ hearing of South Africa's claims that Israel is committing genocide, according to the article (ref 5) by Isaac Chotiner on January 27, 2023, 'The court did not order a ceasefire, but its finding that Israel is the subject of "plausible" claims that it is in violation of the Genocide Convention is momentous, an International-law expert says.'

'The ruling of the I.C.J - which is distinct from the International Criminal Court - fell short of finding Israel guilty of having committed genocide, but such a decision could take years; South Africa had also urged the court to order an immediate ceasefire which it did not do. (The court does not have an enforcement mechanism.) But the ICJ still found the cause for great concern about Israel's military actions, and also the statements of its leaders' (ref5).

The YouTube video (ref6) states from January 26, 2024 states, 'Israel must comply with the key ICJ ruling ordering to do all in its power to prevent genocide against Palestinians in Gaza.

Israel is being warned about their war crimes, but it seems like nothing is going to stop Israel from wiping Gaza off the map, as Netanyahu had shown a map of Israel without Gaza and the West Bank. 'Israel must comply with the key ICJ ruling ordering to do all in its power to prevent genocide against Palestinians in Gaza' (ref6)

The article (ref6) from January 26, 2023 states: The ruling issued by the ICJ ordered six provisional measures including for Israel to refrain from acts under the Genocide convention, prevent and punish the direct and public incitement to genocide, and take immediate and effective measures to ensure the provision of humanitarian assistance to civilians in Gaza. Crucially, the Court also ordered Israel to preserve evidence of genocide and to submit a report to the Court, within one month, of all measures taken in line with its order.

'Agnes Callamard, Secretary General of Amnesty International (ref6), said "Today's decision is an authoritative reminder of the crucial role of international law in preventing genocide and protecting all victims of atrocity crimes. It sends a clear message that the world will not stand by in silence as Israel pursues a ruthless military campaign to decimate the population of the Gaza Strip and unleash death, horror and suffering against Palestinians on an unprecedented scale."

So you must wonder who really controls these professional organization and countless politicians across the entire globe that does have any power to stop this genocide, as they and the whole world witness the destruction of Gaza and its people. And if these politicians have no power, will something bad also happen to their own nations during the Great Reset?

Let's say a year from now, if the decision turns out to be Israel have committed genocide. What would it matter then? Israel and its creators and rulers would have already accomplished what it has set out to do, and that's to wipe Gaza and the West Bank out as per their own map. Let's say that Israel admits genocide and takes the blame. The people will be stained with hate, but the ones higher up have already succeeded in driving out the people as they have succeeded in the past since 1948, while they destabilize the region and restricted the region as they said that this was their plan. And who created Hamas? It certainly was not the Palestinians; Ron Paul in around the year 2006 told the world who did and why.

Section 5 - Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict

These problems began in 1948 when Britain gave Palestine to what is known as Israel today, even though Palestine have existed for thousands of years and the native Palestinians of Palestine were living throughout all of Palestine carrying out their daily lives and business. Why didn't Britain instead give part of Britain to the Israelis, instead of giving someone's land, which was fully populated, to another group of people? Whose to be blamed for all of these war crimes on the Palestinians?

In the article, 'We Europeans created the problem': Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict published on Feb 12, 2024 (ref 9), Yanis Varoufakis says European countries share responsibility for the atrocities being committed in Gaza. "We Europeans created the problem... We are playing a vicious role in its perpetuation," Varoufakis told Al Jazeera. He further stated "while the official EU position was to support a two-state solution, European countries are "completely" in support of the Netanyahu government, "whose life's work has been the destruction of any prospect of a Palestinian state:"

Section 6 - Indian TV presenter stood up to her Israeli guest on his accusations

In the youtube video (ref7), Youtube.com/shorts/Ff89dnvKuD8; Feb5, 2024;The National AAE channel; Israeli guest accuses Indian TV presenter of wearing Palestinian flag colors', her Israeli guest made some accusations against her sari and she stood up to him. He stated, 'And I can see the colors that you are wearing purposely and that's why I am purposely wearing blue and white because with all due respect, the green, the red, and the black which you are purposely wearing - blue and white will always prevail (referring to the color of the Israeli flag).

The TV presenter responded in a scholarly manner stating, "Let's not divide colors on the basis of religion. It sometimes happens in my country as well, and also to tell you, Fredric, the garment I'm wearing is a sari and it's my grand mother's. If she was alive, she would have been about 105 years old today. She didn't know what Israel-Hamas conflict was, and this sari nowhere signifies any support any side. I will not let you choose what I wear and I will not let you choose what I say."

Section 7 - Rafa situation and possible destruction

In the video (ref9), called "We Europeans created the problem': Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict published on Feb 12, 2024, Yanis Varoufakis says 'close to one and a half million Palestinians are sheltering in Rafa, where an Israeli ground offensive is threatened here's what a few of them are expecting the numbers of dead and wounded people here will be huge if Israel storms Rafa.

Conclusion

With this mass destruction and genocide taking place, one must ask who Hamas is working for? Why did Hamas kidnapped Israeli citizens and will not release them, which have led to the destruction of Gaza, violence in the West Bank and war breaking through the Middle East? That's the question you must ask. And who created Hamas and why? What's taking place in Gaza is worse than a primitive mentality. It's barbaric. It's genocide, and this is the beginning of the destruction of humanity. Such war crimes should have never been allowed to take place, by the international bodies and other nations because from here on its only going to get worse, worse for most of the billions of people across this land. Let's pray for the Palestinians and pray for an end to this genocide, since the rulers around this world and their leaders and politician's shows that they really do not have any power.

Neuralink and animal cruelty

By Faisal Ally

Second edition, published on February 17, 2024

First edition, published on February 14, 2024 in the Diverse City Reports posted on www.allymedia.ca

Humans have been experimenting and torturing animals for decades, if not for centuries. We're living in a world gone mad and it's only going to get worse as the world falls in to disgrace and lack morals. For decades now, people are also being experimented and this will only get worse for humanity. There were many reports on Bill Gates experiments on people in India and Africa. According to reports animals are being tortured during experiments in Elon Musk's Neuralink lab.

As per Geogia Guide Stones, the ones that controls the world today is to depopulate the world massively to a population 500 million, merge humans with AI where these new breeds of humans will possess very low intelligence to keep humans in control, and where AI will be the bosses on humans and possess much greater intelligence than humans to keep to humans in control. It's only going to get worse for humanity where humanity is the new lab rats. If people are not willing to stand up for our future generations, these are the end times for humanity and not for the structures humans already built.

The article from February 1, 2024, (ref1) <https://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-13029175/Elon-Musks-Neuralink-lab-animals-killed-monkeys-extreme-suffering.html>; dailymaily; by Daniel Bates for Dailymial.com; published 8:38EST, 1Feb2023;updated11:36EST 1Feb2024 states 'ESCLUSIVEInside Elon Musk's Newralink lab where 1,500 animals have been killed and test monkeys were subjected to 'extreme suffering.' The article says 'DailyMail.com can reveal that test monkeys had grueling operations on their skulls up to 10 times each before being put down during the testing phase.' How horrific and barbaric. Humanity has already come a long way. Why is such barbarism still being allowed on this earth, when we already have so much technology to lead a healthy life? It's obvious some have lots all values and morals for such barbarism continue. The article further states, 'Neuralink has killed at least 1,500 animals including sheep and pigs during its quest for a chip which will allow people to control devices with their minds.' If this is allowed to continue, people in position that could have stopped this barbarism will regret it all; if they don't live long enough to regret it, then their children and grandchildren will live to regret what their parents and grandparents have allowed to take place, and not standing up for these beings that's being brutalized and for not standing up for their own descendants.

Drilling holes into monkey's heads

The article (ref1) further states, 'The horrific animal testing performed to bring Elon Musk's Neuralink project to life includes drilling holes into monkey's heads and filling them in with glue, DailyMail.com can reveal.' In the week Musk claimed to have put a Neuralink implant into a human for the first time, documents show that the company used 'Bioglue' to patch up the holes in the monkey's heads after operations.

Humanity have already come along way though the tortured on animals and humans. How would you like to be tortured in the way these monkeys are being tortured? These animals are kept in captivity and are being tortured. How barbaric! Why do we need to continue this barbarism. Why can't the people that are responsible for such barbarism leave us alone and just let us live in peace?

The article (ref2) The Gruesome Story of How Neuralink's Monkeys Actually Died by Dhruv Mehrotra and Dell Cameron on Sep 20, 2023 States 'Elon Musk says no primates dies as a result of Neuralink's implants. A WIRED investigation now reveals the grisly specifics of their deaths as US authorities have been asked to investigate Musk's claims.

An investigation is not enough. This barbarism needs to be stopped. As it is the world have enough food and wealth to feed the whole world and to prevent poverty, but nations are always pitted against each other and drawn into wars and all kinds of crimes.

According to the article (ref2) there's '....bleeding in her brain and that the Neuralink implants left parts of her cerebral cortex "focally tattered."' '...those human trials could begin soon. Yesterday, neuralink announced that it had received approval from an independent review board to begin a study aiming to enable people with paralysis to control a computer keyboard or cursor with their thoughts.'

I wonder who owns and controls this independent review board? Probably the same people at a higher level are in charged of what's taking place.

Animal cruelty being exposed

Retrieved from google on Feb 12, 2024 (ref 3) at 4:58 pm are the following information on Neuralink:

What did the Neuralink do to the monkey? A necropsy report indicates that she had bleeding in her brain and that the Neuralink implants left parts of her cerebral cortex "focally tattered." Yet another monkey, Animal 22, was euthanized in March 202 after his cranial implant became loose; Sep 20, 2023

How ethical is Neuralink? Reports from the trial have been grim, and U.S federal investigators launched an investigation into animal cruelty in 2022. It's still ongoing. The animal rights group, Physicians Committee for Responsible Medicine, claimed that only seven of the 23 monkeys used in the early Neuralink experiment survived. Sep 2023

Why did the FDA reject Neuralink? The FDA rejected Neuralink's application for human trials in 2022, citing several issues including the potential for the implant's threads to migrate to other areas of the brain, Reuters reported, Jun 9, 2023.

Texas farm producing 9.35 million eggs a day goes up in flames

By Fisal Ally

Second edition, published on February 17, 2024

First edition, published on February 14, 2024 in the Diverse City Reports posted on www.allymedia.ca

In past few years, many production facilities across the United States have been closed down or destroyed by fire, as many farms across the world are also being shut down, affecting food prices, as food prices continues to go up. Just recently, on January 29, 2024, a Texas farm was destroyed by fire. The article (ref1) 'Massive fire engulfs chicken farm in Texas, first responders says 'The cause of the fire is unknown. The article states, 'A huge blaze erupted as a chicken farm, Feather Crest Farms, outside of College Station on Monday, January 29, according to first responders. The Bryan Fire Department told the National Desk that first responders are still at the scene as of Tuesday morning, January 30 (2024).

This farm have been around since the 1950s and to suddenly go up in flames completely destroying it, is a blow to the food supply. The article (ref2) 'Another blow to the food supply: Explosion and subsequent fire devastate Texas chicken plant published on 02/02/2024 states, 'Feather Crest Farms has been in operation since the 1950s, but was purchased by Barrett family since the 1970s. Indiana-based MPS Egg Farms acquired Feather Crest in 202. The current operator is T.J. Klein, a graduate of Texas A&M University.' This facility produces millions of eggs a day. The article (ref2) states 'An April 202 piece by Feedstuffs magazine expounded on MPS' acquisition of Feather Crest. It noted: "The acquisition expands the MPS operations by approximately one million hens, for a total of 11 million hens producing approximately 9.35 million eggs a day. [It also] significantly enhances MPS' geographic footprint, enabling the company to better serve existing and potential customers in Texas and beyond."

An unfortunate accident that took the life of a police officer in Toronto

An unfortunate accident had taken place in Toronto in the parking lot, where the police officers were on duty and were in plain clothes. According to reports, Umar Zameer was involved in an officer's death, but he did not know that an officer was hit by his vehicle. Below are some excerpts from reports on this tragedy.

CBC News · Posted: Apr 21, 2024 10:40 AM MDT;
<https://www.cbc.ca/news/canada/toronto/umar-zameer-verdict-1.7180011>

excerpt: Zameer had pleaded not guilty to first-degree murder after he ran over Northrup with his car in an underground parking garage beneath Toronto City Hall on July 2, 2021. Both Northrup and his partner were in plain clothes, investigating a stabbing that night.

excerpt

Zameer said, "This was an unfortunate, terrible situation that happened," he said. "And as a result, an unfortunate and tragic death ensued, but it was not intentional. It was not a criminal act. It was an accident."

Reacting to the verdict outside the courthouse, Northrup's wife, Margaret Northrup, said she was "very disappointed" in today's outcome.

"From day one, all I've wanted was accountability," she said.

The report states:

Officers' testimony contradicted by experts during trial

The two officers approached his car in the parking garage around midnight, where Zameer was with his wife, who was eight months' pregnant, and their two-year-old son. The young family was preparing to return to their Vaughan, Ont., home after celebrating Canada Day downtown.

Zameer said neither Northrup nor his partner, Sgt. Lisa Forbes, identified themselves as police that night. He said the pair began banging on his car after he locked the doors.

When Zameer tried to drive forward out of the parking space, he was blocked by an unmarked police van. He then reversed out of the spot at an accelerated speed and drove forward to exit the parking garage.

The article states: 'The fact that Zameer ran over Northrup and caused his death was not disputed during the trial. Rather, the case centred on whether Zameer meant to hit Northrup — or even knew it happened — and whether he knew Northrup and his partner were police officers.

Another excerpt from the article states: 'The trial has heard Northrup and his partner, both plainclothes officers, approached Zameer's car shortly after midnight as they were investigating a stabbing. Zameer was not involved in that stabbing.

Northrup's partner, then a detective constable, testified the two of them walked over while Zameer was still outside the car, and she repeatedly identified herself as an officer. Forbes said she started yelling and banging on the car after it lurched forward.

An unmarked police van with tinted windows blocked the car's path, and court has heard Zameer reversed, angled the car back, then accelerated down the garage laneway, running over Northrup. He was arrested shortly after the unmarked van rammed into his car at the exit gate.

Forbes and the two officers who were in the van testified that Northrup was standing in the laneway with his hands outstretched when Zameer drove directly at him. The officers in the van, constables Antonio Correa and Scharnil Pais, said Northrup fell on the hood and then to the ground and under the wheels.

Zameer testified he was in the car with his eight-months-pregnant wife and their two-year-old son when two strangers, a man and a woman, rushed over. He said he locked the doors and the pair started yelling and banging on the car. Zameer said he thought his family was being attacked and he drove forward to get away.

He told court he was even more alarmed when the van blocked his exit, and he decided to reverse quickly to get away. Zameer said he looked back while reversing and in front when moving forward and never saw anything or anyone in the way.

Both he and his wife testified they thought they had gone over a speed bump and didn't realize they had hit a person until after Zameer's arrest.

A GLANCE BACK FIRST HALF 2024

From a flat tire to start of the year, with the Year of the dragon to outbreak of wars across the world to restricting of the Middle East and the entire world with the Great Reset.

Your Fear Is Their Desire - Flat Tire On New Years Day

New Year 2024 was an interesting beginning for me, as I got up early and wanted to start getting in shape instead of waiting for spring. I decided to do some walking but not outdoors because I don't trust what's in the air. I arrived at the mall around 8:30am and walked indoors for about an hour. As I was heading home, in the parking lot, I found my car with a flat tire. A New Year surprise for me. For Edmonton, the weather was great and I quickly changed my tire. That really got me in shape to start of the New Year. I later went to the gas station and inflated the flat tire, and immediately, I could hear the shhhhhhhhhh sound as my tire began to deflate.

I saw a pin driven into my tire. With so much air coming out, back in the parking lot when I had arrived I believe my tire should have quickly deflated but it didn't. Or if I had picked up a spike on the road or even entering the parking lot, with the weight of my car, my tire should have flattened out immediately, but it didn't.

My tire was fine when I left my car to enter the mall to do my walk.

A day later, at home, I changed three tires. I drove with these tires for about over a week and when it was freezing cold around minus 30 celcius. About a week later, at the mall, as I went to my car, one tire was suddenly half deflated, where as before it was fine. I drove home, and by the next day this tire had flattened out - a slow sudden leak. I will inflate it during the spring and see what happens. There's no point in fixing these tires because by the time I have them patched and placed on the rims, that cost could easily purchase a new tire.

VALENTINES GIFT OF THE HEART SHOULD BE EVERYDAY

not just one day out of the year*

SoCrazy4u

By now you know how I feel, My love, my love for you is real, Oh well my heart is aching, my legs keeps shaking, I'm so crazy for you, so crazy for you, so crazy for you, sooooo crazyyyyfor you.

TRUE LOVE

I'll send you all my love, in a letter sealed with kisses, girl you know my love is genuine. I'll send you all my love, whenever I'm far away, girl you know it's true, you're the one. I'll be missing you everyday, I close my eyes and I think of you, girl you know it's true, you're the one. True love could never die, true love could never part, it's like magic in the air, just like magic in the air.

Valentines is a time for romance. A time to share love. It's much more than romance. It's a time to spend time together and share precious moments, whether over lunch, dinner, at the movies, at home having a meal, or at home watching a show, or doing something you enjoy like skating, 'walking in the park and throwing stones', and much more. Cards, flowers, chocolate and diamonds are often given as a sign of this love and friendship. Although valentines has its roots in pagan traditions, most people are not aware of it, nor think of valentines as a pagan celebration, but as a celebration of love.

On February 14, around the globe, couples celebrate their love for each other as romance was in the air, everywhere. And if your celebration is about friendship instead of romance, a yellow rose signifies friendship, and a red rose signifies love.

The best gift for valentines is your kindness, thoughtfulness and most of all your heart. Valentines' for everyone. It's important to give

THESE FEELINGS (ESTOS SENTIMIENTOS)

Mi amor porti, nunca podra morir, pero se tu teva, mi corazon se destruida. Amor eterno, amor eterno, amor por siempre, amor or siempre...Te necesito, nunca nunca medejes, necesito tu amor, nunca me dejes. I need you more, never ever let me go, I need your love, never let me go. Never ending love, never ending live, ever-lasting love, ever-lasting love.

A KISS GOODNIGHT

Everyone needs someone to hold them tight and make things right, everyone wants someone to kiss goodnight. Everyone needs a friend, they can count on to be around, Everyone wants someone to kiss goodnight. A kiss goodbye in the morning, to hold you tight in the evening, everyone wants someone to kiss goodnight.

to the elderly, your parents, and people that have nobody. Kind words are important, or you can give a hug and or a kiss to the ones in your lives.

Whether it's a kiss goodnight or a kiss goodbye, valentines should be everyday and not just one day out of the year.

SOMETIMES

Sometimes I close my eyes, all I see is your smiles, sometimes I drift away, all I see is your smiles, I thirst and hunger for your love, baby I love you

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

A glance at the Black genius, Lewis Latimer

Black History Month educates people on many 'Blacks' and their contributions to the world.

Black History Month 2024 in America and Canada commenced on February 1 and continues to February 29.

Carter G Woodson

Carter G Woodson had started the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (ASALH) back in 1912 to recognize 'Black Scholars, Historians and sons of former slaves.' On February 12, 1962, he started Black History Week, which later, in the 1960s, became Black History Month.

Throughout the centuries, many 'Blacks' have made great contributions. But how many of you heard about the genius, Lewis Latimer. This article provides some brief information on this genius.

*Disclaimer:

Lewis Latimer, the electrical pioneering genius

Back in the 1800s, Lewis Latimer had worked with inventors such as Alexander Graham Bell, and Thomas A. Edison. He had invented the carbon filament light bulb in 1897, where he had spent hour after hour and day after day carrying out thousands of tests that led to the use of the electric light across the globe. He had also worked in New York, Philadelphia, Montreal and London supervising the installation of public electric lights. He had worked with Bell and had also drawn up the diagrams for the patent of the telephone. He was on Edison's research team and was a witness in court for Edison's patents. He had contributed greatly to the development of the United States with his many inventions. His patents were: Water closet for railroad cars, improvement on electric lamp, process for manufacturing carbon filament, arc light globe support, patent for apparatus for cooling and disinfecting, device for locking hats, coats, and umbrellas on hanging racks.

He also wrote 'the first book on electric lighting called Incandescent Electric which was a technical engineering book and thus became a guide for lighting engineers.

A glance at history

As a result of the American Revolution, between 1783 and 1785, more than 3,000 African-American came to Nova Scotia.

Between 1820 and 1860, approximately 20,000 African American refugees settled in Canada.

On April 20th, 1858, between 600 and 800 African-American from California boarded a steamships and headed for Victoria, British Columbia because they didn't feel safe in California.

CHINESE NEW YEAR - YEAR OF THE DRAGON

Chinese New Year 2024 is the Year of the Dragon, with celebrations starting on February 10. Chinese around the world have been waiting for this celebration. The date for Chinese new years varies from year to year and 'it's based on the cycle of the moon, though it usually falls between January 20 and February 21 on the Gregorian calendar' (ref1).

HOLI 2024 - FESTIVAL OF COLORS

The Hindu celebration, Holi, also known as the Festival of Colors, is celebrated on Monday, March 25, 2024 with the arrival of spring in India. This celebration is a two-day celebration. This vibrant celebration includes tossing color powder known as gulal and spraying color liquid on each other. It's best to dress in white where you will be decorated in colors, from head to toe. Many will also be dressed in their traditional and colorful attires.

CARNIVAL EXTRAVAGANZA

Rio and the Trinidad and Tobago carnivals always send vibrant waves across the world, spreading carnival fever across the world, with upbeat samba music, calypso and many other flavors.

While this celebration is taking place and ends on Ash Wednesday or just before, Christians world wide are beginning to focus on a special practice for this time of the year, where Ash Wednesday is the beginning of lent, which is a period of fasting commemorating the forty days which Jesus had spent in the wilderness.

RIO CARNIVAL

The famous Rio carnival is the world's biggest carnival celebration which began on February 9 and continues until Ash Wednesday, February 17, where the streets were crowded with floats and people dressed in vibrant and exotic costumes as they move and dance to the beats of the intoxicating samba music.

TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO CARNIVAL

Trinidad and Tobago Carnival is also one of the most famous carnivals on Planet Earth that takes over the island with masqueraders dancing down the streets to its loud and vibrant music. Its street parade ends the day before Ash Wednesday.

The streets were jam-packed with colorful floats, dancers and masqueraders boasting its diversity. On the island you will find Africans, East Indians that began to arrive in 1845, Chinese, Portuguese, Syrians and others.

This carnival has its origin in calypso music, but in recent decades loud and vibrant soca music and its addictive dance beats have taken over the scene, although calypso and other genres are still famous during the celebration. The music competition is grand as bands compete for 'Band of the Year Title.'

RELIGIOUS CELEBRATIONS

RAMADAN

‘This year, Ramadan is expected to begin at sundown on Sunday, March 10, and end at sundown on Tuesday April 9’ (ref1).

‘The exact beginning and ending times of the month of Ramadan are based on the sighting of the first crescent Moon on the last night of the eight month (Sha’ban). Specifically, Ramadan is said to begin at the first observance of the crescent Moon over Mecca, Saudi Arabia (or on a date pre-determined by astronomical calculation). Because of this, start and end dates are not set in stone and may vary by a day.’

As we approach Easter, Christians across the lands will be celebrating the rising of Jesus Christ on Easter

Prior to this celebration, many will fast for forty days abstaining from certain foods, habits and temptations for forty days, excluding Sundays, for Lent. Lent does not have a fix date and is calculated each year based on Easter Sunday.

RECIPES

VEGETABLE CHOWMEIN
VEGETARIAN CURRY
Extra - EGG VEG. CURRY
FRIED AKRA
DHAL
CHICKPEAS SALAD

VEGETABLE CHOWMEIN

Chowmein served

Cook time: 20 minutes

Preparation time: 10 minutes

Ingredients: 1 pack chowmein (this often comes in a yellow color, however for this recipe white rice noodles were used), 1 pack frozen vegetables, 1/2 red bell pepper, 1 onion, 8 cloves of garlic, 1/4 Tbsp. turmeric for coloring and flavor, black pepper, garlic powder, virgin olive oil, salt to taste. You may use olive oil, canola oil or another oil.

Serves: 5

Preparation:

Wash vegetables, cut up onions and garlic

Cooking instructions

Boil vegetables in a pot for approx. 5 to 10 minutes and then strain

Boil chowmein or noodles for 5 to 8 minutes. Time will vary. Then strain to remove water. Add 1.4 tbsp. turmeric and mix in, and this will turn the chowmein into a yellow color.

Add approx. 4 TBLS (table spoon) oil to a frying pan or pot, and set stove on Hi, and let oil heat up and then place onions and garlic in pot and give it a good cook for a few minutes, so it darkens or burns a bit depending on how you prefer it, and then add the bell peppers and continue for a few minutes.

Add chowmein to the pan or pot with the garlic and onions and sprinkle on black pepper and you can also add any other seasoning of your choice, and let it cook for about 3 to 5 minutes and then add the vegetables and mix in and let it cook for a few more minutes.

VEGETARIAN CURRY

EGG VEG. CURRY

Vegetarian curry served with rice or roti

Vegetarian curry served with a boiled egg mixed into the curry sauce - this is called egg curry.

An instant pot is used, this way you can do your cooking in a different room or outside

Cook time: 20 minutes in an instant pot

Preparation time: 20 minutes

Ingredients

1/2 cabbage, 1/2 cauliflower, 2 carrots, some broccoli, 1 onion, 8 cloves of garlic, 3 TBSL of garam masala curry power, some black pepper, no oil used, no salt used or salt to taste, no salt use, 2 sweet potatoes, no potatoes used

Serves: 5

These vegetables and curry powder can be purchased at your local grocery stores

Cooking instructions

You can cook this in a pot, but using oil to fry the onion and garlic. However, an Instant pot is used for cooking (to prevent the curry smell in the house), thus you may cook it in the basement or another room, or somewhere outside.

Note that the all of the vegetables have the same kind of hardness, and thus I cooked everything at the same time. If for example you wanted to add a root vegetable such as cassava which takes much longer to boil, it would be best to half boil it in a pot on the stove so it becomes about the same hardness as the sweet potato.

Cut up the cabbage, cauliflower, carrots and broccoli, sweet potatoes, and the garlic and onions and wash.

Place 2 1/2 TBLS of the curry power in the electric instant pot and then add approximately 3 cups of water and mix in the curry powder to make your curry sauce. You may use 2 or # TBLS of curry powder depending on how thick you want the curry sauce to be.

Add the vegetables to the instant pot and mix in. On the instant pot, I used the settings that says 'cook chili and beans.' You may use a different setting, which you prefer. I set it for 20 minutes. Check back in 20 minutes, release pressure, and carefully open and then taste the curry sauce and check for softness to ensure the vegetables were cooked.

Serve with rice or roti. If you find this veg. curry a bit boring, then you can boil eggs and mix it in with your curry, and your vegetarian curry will be called Egg curry. Normally, you would cook your boil eggs in the curry which is called egg curry.

AKRA

Cook time: Approx. 1 hour

Preparation time: 10 minutes

Ingredients

1 pack frozen akra, 1 onion, 6 cloves of garlic, black pepper, paprika or cayenne pepper, garlic power, virgin olive oil, no salt used or salt to taste.

Note: I chose to use virgin olive oil. You may use olive oil or another oil such as canola oil.

Served with rice or roti

Serves: 5

Cooking instructions

Add approx. 3 TBLS oil to pot, set stove on Hi and let the oil heat up and then add onions and garlic and cook on one side for approx. 5 minutes for a light burn and then turn over and cook. (1 red pepper cut up was added in another batch) (1 tomato cut up added in another batch)- Add frozen Akra and cook for approx. 10 minutes to unfreeze.

Important: When cooking be careful of turning the akra too much because you will mask it up and you do not want to do that. However, you do not want the akra to sit in one place for lets say 15 minutes because the bottom will burn and harden at the bottom. So you can use a flat scoop and shove it under the akra to lift aka or slightly move akra an inch or too. Experiment a little, but do not mash up the akra .

During cook, note Akra is slimy, and also have seeds that have to soften. My method is to first get the seeds to become soft, by setting stove to Medium and cover pot and let everything cook for approx. 20 minutes. Then test the akra to ensure seeds are soft. If seeds are not soft, then continue cooking on medium for a few more minutes so the seeds are soft. During cook, add black pepper, paprika, salt to taste.

Once the seeds are soft, you will notice the akra is still slimy. Next I want to remove some of the slime (Note, if you do not mind the akra being slimy, then cook for another 10 minutes to complete cooking). What I do next is, I remove the cover and continue cooking on Medium so moisture vaporizes. Thus for example continue cooking on medium for another approx. 20 minutes to remove some of the moisture. You may continue cooking on low for example for another 20 minutes so more of the slime vaporizes. (You will have to experiment to see what works best for you. One of my sisters would put the akra into the oven and let it bake for a while to dry out some of the slime).

DHAL

Cook time: Approx. 1 hour

Preparation time: 10 minutes

Ingredients

2 cups split peas, 1/2 tspn geera, 1 onion, 8 cloves of garlic, black pepper, garlic power, jeera, salt to taste. For the jeera, I use the seeds, which are small, only because that's how my mom and grandmother made dhal. A mashing tool to use after pressuring to flatten out the dhal peas.

Serves: 10

Serves with rice or roti, and can also drank as a SOUP, and also served with for example chicken curry and rice.

An instant pot is used for pressuring the channa dhal pea. Note that channa dhal peas are much harder than lentils. Lentils are also used to make dhal. On the instant pot, I select 'Pressure cook' and high pressure.

Cooking instructions

Wash channa dhal peas and then let it soak for about 5 hours in water or even overnight to soften the peas.

Add dhal and add water to the instant pot, around half full. After pressure cooking, if you find that the dhal is too thick then you can add more water to it and mix in so it's to your liking. Some like it thick and some like it not as thick.

Add about 1 tsp. of jeera to the dhal and black pepper, onions and garlic, and any other pepper. Select 'Pressure cook' for 30 minutes and let it cook. It will pressure for 30 minutes and then it will continue on low for another 30 minutes. Once complete, release pressure, and use mash tool to flatten out soft peas. At this time you can mix with more water if you wish.

SWEET POTATO SNACK

Cook time: Approx. 30 hour

Preparation time: 20 minutes

Ingredients

2 sweet long sweet potatoes, black pepper, garlic power, no salt used, but you may add salt to taste. Approx. 1/2 cup oil - Corona or other oil

Serves: 5

Cooking instructions

Peel sweet potatoes and slice in to slices. Wash and then dry with a cloth. Add spices.

Add about 1/2 cup oil to pan or pot, so when you add your sweet potatoes in small batches, it will be half covered cover in oil, so it cooks.

Set stove to Hi and let oil heat up and add a batch of sweet potatoes so it's spread out in the pan and not crowded. You will cook this in 3 batches. Let it brown a bit on one side and then turn over to cook the other side. You have to check each slice with a spoon and then flip it over as it's completed. Or you pot may just cook everything and you just have to flip it over once. Or if it the slices are submerged in oil then you may not even have to turn it over. Experiment a bit and see what works for you, as the kind of pot or frying pan you have is important.

As it completed then remove from pot or pan and place in a plate. Place a paper napkin on the plate to absorb the oil. As one batch is completed, then do the next batch until completed.

Serve similar to serving chips.

BOIL CHANNA SALAD

Cook time: Approx. 30 hour

Preparation time: 20 minutes

Ingredients

2 sweet long sweet potatoes, black pepper, garlic power, no salt used, but you may add salt to taste. 1 onion and 8 cloves of garlic. Approx. 1/2 cup oil. I used virgin olive oil. You use olive oil, canola oil or other oil

Serves: 5

You may consume the channa peas as is. Chickpeas salad with some sweet potatoes added. You may add more salad and mix in.

Cooking instructions:

Wash 2 cup peas and let it soak for a few hours, or even over night. Cover and let it sit, so it softens and expands. Cut up onions and garlic.

Drain to remove water

Add channa peas to the instant pot. Add fresh water around half full, so the peas are submerged. Add onion and garlic. Add black pepper. You may add other spices now or after its cooked.

Pressure cook for approx. 30 to 45 minutes in the instant pot and then check. Peas should be fully expanded. If peas are not expanded fully then pressure cook for another half an hour.

For salad, I use lettuce, coleslaw, bell peppers, soft cabbage.

FISAL ALLY'S SONGWRITING JOURNEY

FIZAL (FISAL) DEEN ALLY

AT AGE 16, PLAYING HIS COPY OF A LES PAUL, AND STILL PLAYS THIS SAME GUITAR TODAY...TAKING HIM BACK TO HIS EARLY DAYS...

ALL OF ALLY'S PROJECTS WERE PUBLISHED AS INDEPENDENT PROJECTS WHERE THEY ARE ALL COPYRIGHT PROTECTED AND ALSO DEPOSITED IN THE CANADIAN ARCHIVES, WITH COPYRIGHTS CERTIFICATES ETC...

F. Ally have never given anyone permission to use any of his songs or books to profit off and to use commercially, nor given anyone permission to sample his songs, or to put their names on his songs, or to rewrite his songs. Many songs and books can be downloaded from www.allymedia.ca for listening and reading. Over the years many recordings were handed out for people to listen to and to share with others to listen to.

Fisal Ally discusses his songwriting

On the evening of Wednesday, July 3rd, 2024, I was singing a Buddy Holly tune in the kitchen, and my mom said who is singing and I said Buddy Holly and she was happy with a bright smile. She then asked and who sang The Birds Won't Come My Way and she actually began to say some of the lyrics from the song. And that's what it's all about. That's why I'm still an artist enjoying what I do. Whether I sing in the basement and record myself or play for one person, that's what its all about for me, as my Independent journey continues.

It was by accident when I wrote my first songs around age 13 / 14, when I was just goofing around, strumming on my red wooden guitar, which I pulled from a garbage bin in Toronto at age 12. It was also by accident I would later write a song called The Birds Won't Come My Way, when this time I went to a yard with junk cars to assist a friend in pulling the engine out of a car, and when I began to take note of the birds flying around.

And as I entered high school in grade 10, I began dabbling more in lyrics, especially when I went home for lunch. I soon began talking to friends about forming bands but nothing materialized as at age 15 after school, like many, I was also working part-time and saving up our money, and as soon as I turned 16, I purchased my first vehicle with my savings, and from that age, I was paying for car insurance, gas, car repairs etc...becoming very mature in life. And also at age 15, one of my cousins had taught me how to start repairing cars, changing oil, as he was doing some work on my dad's car in the garage, when he told me to go under the car. I said what? I was under the car learning mechanics at age 15. I paid my way through University and NAIT and worked double shifts to quickly pay off my student loans in a year. What a relief!

I was around 18 years old when my band mates and I were having a discussion on music. The discussion was whether we would let others change our music to commercialize it. And our answers were because we were artists and we were writing songs for ourselves, that we would not allow anyone to change our music.

WE WROTE OUR SONGS, WE DID'T STEAL OTHER PEOPLE'S WORK - WE PUT IN THE TIME

I was already writing songs, and had already written songs like My Home at age 18. And I figure that when my band member saw that I was writing songs already, he also began writing songs around age 18. And this is how I know that anybody can write songs if they want today. But today people are stealing our songs, because they are lazy and they want someone else to do it for them. They don't want to strive like we did.

The only reason I did not push at age 20 is because I had already damaged my vocals and other mechanism by age 17 due to an accident. And I was having a lot of problems where my ear drums would now start popping. I went to speech pathologist and I had ear plugs molded to my ear, but the headaches continued. However, I kept playing my guitar and writing songs, as I decided to enter University. I had entered the performing arts, and a lot of it was theory and Jazz, which I did not want to pursue, as I realize that I was more of a creative person than a theory person. And yes, I know theory and scales etc...but I didn't focus on this.

I was probably about 16 or 17, when I wrote My Home

Reminiscing on my life in Cottonfield and my memories of those days and how they never really faded.

rarely ever plan to write a particular song or a style of song. I just write songs and whatever comes out of it that's what it is, and usually at that time, I know if it sounds rock, ballad, reggae etc... and I take it from there. Writing the song A Kiss Goodnight began when I was much younger and my sister brought my mom home. My father departed from this journey decades ago, and we take care of my mom.

Major similarities to my song 'A Kiss Goodnight' came out immediately after I was being harassed and the theft of my songs began that have many similarities to Just A Kiss (Goodnight) by Lady Antebellum, which have changed its name. The ending of their song is very similar to the ending of my song, where they added the word 'just' in front of the lines, as you can see they added the word 'just' in front of the words 'A Kiss (Goodnight)'. The Disney song, A Kiss Goodnight, have two lines that identical to my song 'A Kiss Goodnight', not just the words but also the melody.

As I stated many times, as an independent artist, I don't spend too much time recording my independent songs. I just wanted something that I was pleased with. In A Kiss Goodnight back in the 1990s I did different versions. At Power Sound, an amazing violinist Roxanna Avalos-Calderon played violin while I played the acoustic guitar, and Phil Anderson played bass, Carmine played drums, and John Cook played keyboards.

You could take one song and produced it hundreds of way with different arrangements, but it's still the same song.

ALL OF MY SONGS ARE COPYRIGHT PROTECTED, AND MANY WERE RECORDED IN PROFESSIONAL RECORDING STUDIOS WITH PROFESSIONAL MUSICIANS BACK IN THE 1990s.

YouTube ADS sent that's unacceptable

The world continues to get worse. I was surprised that YouTube would send me adult ADS that contain unacceptable graphics. Also I was review some diets for one of relatives, and when I clicked on the link that's provide on a video it did not go to that link but went to a porn web site that as soon as it opens its disgusting. I was redirected to a pornography website, where there were no menus but sectioned off into about 12 squared with all nudity. I quickly exited, and entered the address again and I ended up at that same sight. I sent an email to the business explaining what's taking place. And this is also how we know the world is coming to an end because many people have lost their morals and values. A a female had stated, that America has fallen into disgrace. But it's the same for many countries in the world, if not all countries.

WAH WAH WAH AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

It was a wah wah experience when I was watching an old Bollywood movie with Mumtaz and Rajesh Khanna called Sacha Jutha where Rajesh acts double role. I watched about half an hour of the movie and then had to go out. Rajesh played his trumpet around time 24 minutes into the video, when Mumtaz walked up to him and said wah wah wah. I thought that was strange. I repeated what she sayd wah wah wah. After I said wah wah wah, I had to go out. I said the wah wah wah a few times. I then continued watching the movie the following day and repeated after Mumtaz and said wah wah wah.

While I was watching it, a short commercial came up - it's one of those quick 5 seconds commercial that anyone can create by taking a few small pieces of video and narrate over it. In the video a man in turban was driving a nice car and then they showed an Indian girl at the back, and a voice - obviously referring to the nice car - said wah turning to wow! I then decided to look at the English sub titles, and the subtitles showed wah for wow. I have never heard anybody saying wah wah wah for wow wow wow bfore. I've said wah wah before but that was refereeing to my guitar wah wah pedal. How does wow become wah?

On old years day, I put on a youtube video from Guyana showing tours of the place. He had a big celebration to celebrate his 100 K subscribers. And he said wah wah wah wow!!! I've never heard him say that before. Then I watched some of his older videos and he was saying wow wow wow.

I just thought that was very interesting, turning wow wow wow to wah wah wah. I later learned that that's how the Indians say wow. Wah for wow.

In a cafe

Jay entered a café and sat down at a table. Jay was reading the Newspaper while sipping on his coffee, when one of the men on the table next to him said 'coolie.' He said coolie again. Jay continued to read the newspaper, as the man's voice raised saying 'coolie' showing the man sitting across from him his cell phone. There were also two women at the table next to Jay. When Jay entered about ten minutes ago, the two men and women were chatting and enjoying their coffee and snacks.

Coolie

About ten seconds later, Jay glanced over at them, as the two men were looking at the cell phone. The man said coolie again and then spelled out the word and said he's filling in a puzzle. He then glanced at Jay and back to his cell phone. All along the two men and women were engaged in a conversation and now one of the man is saying 'coolie' and now showing the other man a puzzle on his cell phone.

'I got it. It's coolie.'

'What do you mean coolie?' the other man asked?

'Jack just texted me this puzzle and asked me to complete the word.'

'Jack? Where's Jack?'

'At a club, hanging out.'

'Jack's always at a club hanging out.'

'And drinking.'

Jay made some friends

Jay glanced over again and smiled. They made eye contact.

'I'm Jay.'

'I'm John' said the man who was saying coolie.

'I'm Sam.'

‘I’m Jenny.’

‘I’m Rosie. Nice to meet you.’

‘Like wise.’ Jay said, ‘I hear you saying coolie.’

‘Yeah. I’m doing this puzzle.’

‘Indentured laborers,’ Jay said, ‘I know about slavery, and also about the indentured laborers from India to the Americas starting in 1838 in a series called The Trilogy of Savitri’s Garden by Faisal Ally. The Indians were labeled as coolies.’

John nodded. ‘I see. My friend, Jack, just sent me this puzzle and asked me to fill in the word. He gave me some letters and some clues and he called out some words - Berbice. British Guiana.’

No coolies arrived in South America and the Caribbean

‘He just said coolies are slaves.’

‘He has it wrong. The Indians that left India were people of various classes from all across India, and were not the coolies which John Gladstone requested.’

‘I heard about John Gladstone,’ Jenny said.

‘Me also,’ Rosie added. ‘There are lots of talks about Scotland and England on reparations because they were involved in the slave trade. Tell me more about coolies.’

Jay was happy to inform them. ‘According to the Sheriff of Berbice in British Guiana, no coolies arrived.’

‘Stop lying,’ Jack’s voice came across from his cell phone.

‘Jack knows trouble is on its way. Just ignore him,’ Rosie said.

‘I heard you Rosie!’ Jack bellowed.

Jay smiled. He cleared his throat and said, ‘Sheriff Whinfield of Berbice, British Guiana - today called Guyana, located at the tip of northern South America and borders with Venezuela and Suriname.’

The indentured workers were not coolies but came from various classes

The Sheriff clearly stated that the Indians that arrived in the Americas in the 1800s came from places like Agra, Lucknow, Beneras, Delhi and other places, and that the coolies known as the Danghurs who are known for their agricultural skills that lived in the hills near Calcutta did not arrive in Guiana. And I heard that the coolies from those hills went mostly to Mauritius, another colony that produced sugar.’ Jay paused and then continued so they would get the full picture.

‘Although these Indian indentured laborers were paid very cheaply and were treated as slaves, they were not slaves,’ Jay informed them. ‘I also read some articles where young females were assaulted in the sugarcane fields in Berbice.’

Rosie shrugged her shoulders. ‘Oh my God. That’s horrible things? Don’t tell me the English managers.’

‘Many plantations in Berbice were English and Scottish owned. Scottish highly involved in Jamaica.’

‘I heard that! How dare you say Scottish!’ Jack wailed.

‘Ignore him,’ Rosie said. ‘Please continue. I ‘d like to hear more.’

Jay cleared his throat. ‘Yes, many were highly involved. Don’t get me wrong. It was not just the Scottish and English, but also the Dutch and French involved in slavery. You heard about the Italians in Africa. And don’t forget the Spanish. The world is into slavery am I right? So why just blame the English and Scottish. What about the Turks, the Arabs, and everyone else. An article in Britain came out a few years ago by a female whose parents migrated to Britain. She wrote on the females being assaulted by their bosses in the field and nobody heard their cries.’

‘I’m so sorry to hear this,’ Jenny said. They all took a moment to reflect.’

On Reparations for the descendants of Africans

‘Lots of news today on reparations,’ Rosie said. “Jack spoke about reparations and because his forefathers were heavily involved in the slave trade and that their descendants will have to pay a great price for being involved in slavery or when the world learns about their involvement. Jack spoke about Jamaica also and the Scottish involvement in the slave trade - and also in Guiana in South America, now called Guyana. He’s worried about European countries having to pay trillions in reparations.”

“The enslaved people have suffered badly - horrific. And so did many indentured laborers have suffered also, many Portuguese, many of the people from India and China. Many Maltese died and almost all of them became ill,” Jay said.

“You know quite a bit,” Sam said.

‘I’ve read The Trilogy of Savitri’s Novels, and study guide by Faisal Ally, who is originally from Guyana and where most of his ancestors came from various places from the Indian subcontinent. His research was quite intensive. He also stated that many stole his work for TV shows.”

“That’s horrible,” Rosie said.

“It happens,” John said. “The world is built on wickedness, corruption and crimes. Look at how us British enslaved the Africans. Not just the British but the Dutch, the French, Spanish.”

“People’s labor is their wealth and that labor was stolen from millions of Africans that made Britain and many other places wealthy,” Jenny said.

“That’s terrible. Kidnapping people and enslaving them,” Rosie added.

“It’s their own people that kidnap them!” Jack shouted from the other end.

“All set up by the British,” Rosie shot back. “And the British took their ships and...”

“And the British are the ones that kidnapped them,” Jenny said.

‘I’m English,’ Rosie said. “I agree that the Scottish and English should pay for their evils of the past. So should the rest of the world in their slave trade. Why only blaming the English and Scottish. I’ve read a lot on slavery and have been reading the articles coming out on reparations.”

Jay cleared his throat. “You’re English and you don’t mind me speaking on this?”

“Of course not,” Rosie replied. “Slavery in the Americas was evil and barbaric. How could my people be involved in stealing people’s children and then stealing their labor and mistreating them so badly and keeping many down in ghettos? That’s plain evil. There are lots of news coming out on how terrible the Blacks were treated in the United States.”

‘I’m also English,’ John said. “We can’t change the past, but hopefully we could make the future better for all.

“I’m Scottish,” Sam said. “I believe reparations should be paid out for such evils and destruction we’ve created in people’s lives.”

“I agree,” said Jenny who is Irish.

“I see a coolie,” Jack said being able to see Jay through his cell phone. “And he’s lying about everything!”

Jenny responded. “Jack have nothing good to say about anyone. He’s a redneck.”

From the club Jack began to laugh loud, drawing attention. “They just called me a redneck!”

They turned off their cell phones

“Jack sounds like a bitter man,” Jay said.

John cleared his throat. “He has businesses all over the world. He came from a very wealthy family. They also run health clinics world wide.”

Rosie shrugged her shoulders. “Yes. With their wealth and businesses all over the world. The control many minds.”

"A cult," Sam said.

"You can say that," John said. "But it's all a secret."

"Wait until reparation damages in trillions hit the government and people finds out that his family was highly involved in kidnapping the children of Africa," Jenny added. She sighed. "With digital slavery and market crashing and with the Great Reset talking place, they'll get hit very hard," Rosie chipped in.

John chuckled. Yeah very hard. You know Jack was given a silver platter - money inherited from slavery and indentured laborers. He just likes to manage - not work."

"And he loves his liquor a little too much," Sam added

"Always drunk," Jenny chipped in.

"I feel sorry for him," Jay said.

"Me too," Rosie said. "He cheats on his wife. His wife caught him many times. And from the grape vine, his wife took revenge by cheating on him and he caught her." She paused and then continued. "He spies on her all the time now. Not only that he spies on his girlfriends."

"How do you know that?" Jenny asked.

"It's all secretive, but I heard from the grapevine."

Rosie received a message

"I just received a message that says 'coolie'," Rosie said.

"Who sent it?" Sam asked. "Let me guess. Must be John."

"Not this time," Rosie replied. "Unknown name." She showed John her cell phone.

"It has to be Jack," John said. "I thought he would stop using that word." He paused. "Unknown. Maybe it's not Jack."

"But you said Jack sent you the puzzle asking you to fill in the word," Jenny added.

"Yeah. But," John responded. He paused. "Not this time."

"Then who could it be?" Rosie asked.

"I'm not so sure," John said pointing. "Look! At the bottom. Rosie, do you recognize this."

"No. I don't recognize it."

John cleared his throat. "It's gibberish. But I have to warn you incase Jack is sitting amongst us." He glanced at Jay. "Look he has his ways. He's a redneck. He pretends he likes diversity and multicultural. You'll see him talking to people of diverse background. He uses people to get what he wants."

"Ah ha," Jay responded.

Rosie showed everyone the message. They could not figure out where the message came from.

In a club

Salman was happy as he entered. "Where's your flying carpet," Jack said, joking.

Simon laughed and said, "You'll be flying in planes soon."

"That's right. You won't need your flying carpet anymore. He will soon be driving a Porsche," Kaufman said.

People of various backgrounds were talking about fame, music, TV shows and movies and writing scripts for shows and becoming famous. They were engaged in conversations, some having a meeting, and enjoying some snacks and drinks.

"Why the big smile on your face today," Jack asked.

"I feel good," Salman said. "Thanks to you my son was just accepted in college and in the college basketball team."

Everyone became excited and congratulated Salman.

Salman continued. "I didn't think he would have gotten in because of his height just under five feet ten inches. My son just played his first game and he was great. He scored many points."

Jack laughed. "That's good news. I knew he would have gotten in."

Simon turned to Salman. "Nowadays you have to be over 6 feet to even be considered."

"Yeah. I know a thing or two. Thanks to Jack," Salman said.

Jack laughed and said, "We know a thing or two." He became agitated. Look! Just update us on songs and scripts you've been looking into - and I won't mention any names here."

"That's right," Chung turned to Salman and said, "And tell your brother he can't sing. One of my relatives should be a star."

"We'll work on that," Jack said. He glanced at Chico. "Not to worry."

"I will sing those songs," Chico said. "And I can do them in Spanish also."

Simon smiled. "Yeah. Just keep us posted on the songs." He's aboriginal.

Jack took a gulp from his drink and said, "Simon I hear your pockets are getting real heavy."

"One day Jack. Just one day, I'll be as rich as you - I'll catch up to you one day," Simon replied.

Jack began to laugh. His laugh grew louder. "Never!" he exclaimed. "Now give me all your money," Jack sang. "Yeah! I want all the money in the world."

Kaufman grinned. "Power hungry!"

Jack chuckled. "Look who's talking."

Simon started to laugh and he joined in the singing. "That's what I want. That's what I want."

Jack turned to Salman and said, "I got stacks of Qurans for your brother." Jack is highly connected to Alb, Albie and Alber who are facing lawsuits in the music business. (See the last edition for an update on Alb, Albie and Alber).

Salman shook his head. "I mentioned to my brother that music is not for him and that he should go to Saudi for a year to take up Arabic and to do Hajj."

"And," Jack said. "Is he getting the message that rock 'n' roll is only for my people?"

"It's tough," Jack said. "He's an artist, like many and like many he does not care about fame."

"I do," Simon said.

Chico and Chuck shook their head indicating that they also want fame.

A few days later at the café

John, Sam, Rosie, Jenny and some other people were texting each other, back and forth. They had invited Jay to join them. Jack later joined in the conversation. He brought up reparations watching the news from New York and California on reparations.

"Don't be so harsh," Sam said. "You've spoken about reparations many times. Unfortunately this will affect all of us good folks who will have to suffer for what your forefathers have done."

Jack swore at Sam. "The wealth my forefathers made built the world and to give you and your children a great life."

"He's bitter that Scotland, England and other nations are being called for reparations where these countries may go broke and become third world countries," Rosie said.

"Slavery was horrible," Jay added.

They can hear Jack in the background complaining. They are all moving here now."

"What? Who," John added.

"Coolies! Coolies in Guiana in South America, Trinidad, Jamaica and many places in the Caribbean!" Jack proclaimed. "I hired four of them. They are stealing our jobs."

Sam replied, "I know what you mean now. But you hired them. What do you pay them?"

"Ten an hour," Jack responded.

“You’re suppose to start with at least fifteen an hour,” Rosie bellowed.

“He must have read The Trilogy of Savitri’s Garden by Fisal Ally since he knows so much about coolies. As I stated the Indians labeled coolies by the British were skilled agricultural laborers that lived in the hills and many of them went to Mauritius to work. As I said before according to The Trilogy of Savitri’s Garden by Fisal Ally, the Sheriff of Berbice said there were no coolies that went to Guiana, and according to Ally, the Indian laborers came from various classes and not one class called coolies. However, as we all know, reparations are for the descendants of the enslaved Africans, and not for the descendants of the Indentured Portuguese, Indians from India and Chinese laborers and others such as the Maltese where many were also lied to, tricked and punished and died in the plantation fields of Guiana, now called Guyana in South America.”

“One thing I can say about reparations and exploitation, is Jack is just like his forefathers,” John said.

“Still robbing people,” Rosie added.

Jack can hear everything they are saying. ‘You coolie! How dare you say those things. What do you have? Probably nothing!’ Jack began cursing as he knocked back his liquor. That’s right made in Demerara.” The rum he was drinking is called Demerara rum.

(Edition 1 of the above was posted by Fisal Ally, Jan 24, 2024 8pm on www.allymedia.com and was modified for this report. Above is the second edition. The story continues below.)

It was 10am and two people joined them

They just arrived in a red sports car. They introduced themselves to Jay. They are musicians and had just came from a children’s gig. Sue was wearing a red pants and a red cap a hat. They were enjoying their conversations. And they all learned that Jay is a songwriter and have written many songs.

“You’re a songwriter. Then you must be careful of Jack and his crew,” John warned Jay. “Sarah and Anwar knows all about what goes on in the music industry.” John pointed over at a table with five men and one transgender female and said, “The men are keeping an eye on their wives. That’s why they keep looking at their cell phones. They are filthy rich. Some of them have ancestors that were highly involved in slavery. They have different ways of making lots of money today.”

“Why are they tracking their wives,” Jay asked.

“Their wives went to early meditation classes,” Rosie said. “And they are tracking them.”

Yoga class

Yogi : You women looks very stressed today

Kimberly: Yeah. My husband stresses me out

Some of the other females agreed

Yogi: Okay then, let’s relax. Take a deep slow breath and exhale slowly. Repeat 10 times. Now flex your toes for 5 second relax. We’ll work our way up our bodies. Do the same for your ankle - flex for five seconds and then relax. And continue to the thigh, buttocks, abs, shoulders, elbow, make a fist for 5 seconds and relax, next, face, eyes. Now relax.”

Cafe

Sometimes they go shopping after meditating and yoga - if you know what I mean,” Jenny chipped in.

“Oh. I see,” Jay said. “You mean checking out men.”

Everyone laughed.

They watched as a male arrived in a red sports car similar to Sarah. He was also wearing a red pants, a red cap and red lipstick. He walked past them with a cell phone in his hand, glanced at Sarah and as he walked away, he pointed to his buttock. Sarah became angry. She was about the get up to confront him, but Anwar held her back.

“That’s called public shaming,” Rosie said. “He and his associates are in competition with Anwar and Sarah and wants to destroy their music.” They watched as he waved at the table with the five men. He sat down a table and had a coffee. “They put him up to it. He’s getting messages on his cell. They know where Sarah and Anwar are. They set him up to do this. It’s called public shaming.”

Jay shook his head. “I know all about it being a songwriter.”

Sarah shook her head. “Don’t tell me they are after your songs also.”

The man in red lipstick passed by as he was leaving. He just received a message. He looked at Sarah and pointed at his buttocks again. Sarah pretended not to see him. Two females followed him, glanced at their phones as they received a message. They looked at Anwar and pointed at their buttocks, as they continued on.

Jay, Anwar and Sarah exchange glances and sighed. They’ve been experiencing public shaming.

An hour later, they departed. Anwar and Sarah were driving when the red car passed by with the man wearing a red cap and red lipstick.

“They are tracking us everywhere we go,” Anwar know. “Don’t let it get to you.”

A week later, at another café, reading up on reparations

Jay was sitting in a café studying The Trilogy of Savitri’s Garden, and reading up on the latest on reparations, when an Indian female with short skirt who just received a message on her cell phone walked up and stood right in front of him as he sat. He saw her from his peripheral vision, but not looking at her. She stood there for a while, but she did not break his concentration. She received a message and then sat down.

Jay who does not carry a cell phone wondered who is sending them messages and wondered if the messages are coming from?

A discussion was talking place on reparations from some locals and online...

At night Jay was sleeping. He woke up in a cold sweat. He was having a bad dream. He whispered, “It’s...” He turned on the light and his voice rose, “It’s...”

Jack and his siblings used to enter people's home to play tricks on them...he was the best of them, so he moved up quickly.
