2024 Is Year Two of The New World Order

To begin, happy New Year, happy Valentines, happy Chinese New Year and Holi. Enjoy the celebrations while and if you can because what's coming will only get worse with this New World Order and a Global Reset, and this will go on for decades. We are living in a time of destruction to humanity. We are living in the end times, not the destruction of all of the wonders we have built to enjoy, but the destruction of humanity. They will keep everything we have built, as they have already taken over all over our wealth. They have 99% of all of the wealth, and we are struggling with 1%. We are at the crossroads of history, and we are witnessing genocide against the Palestinians and war crimes across the world. It is a sad and devastating time is history and will only get worse. Look back at the timeline of wars in the 1900s and picture what's coming. Except that the end times with depopulating the world to 500 million where many will be born from labs, digital enslavement with digital currencies, wars everywhere, ongoing injections. We will look at reports that came directly from people's mouth that confirms that what's taking place in Palestine is a genocide against the native population of that land.

The New World Order is here, as the Great Reset continues. It was Klaus Schwab who said 'You will own nothing and you will be happy, and we can clearly see food prices skyrocketing as more food plants are burned down, along with the burning down of a vast area in the Amazon, while many countries are set up for wars and destruction.

As a reminder, the 'Trilateral Commission calls 2023 'Year One' of new world order. At the meeting, 'The speaker, who cannot be identified according to commission rules, went on: "Three decades of globalization -- defined as integrated, free-market based and deflationary -- has been replaced by what will be a multidecade period of globalization defined as fragmented, not-free-market-based but industrial-policy based and structurally inflationary. This year, 2023, is Year One of this new global order."

YOUR FEAR IS THEIR DESIRE

How did I celebrate New Year? I got up early and decided to get into shape instead of waiting for spring. I headed down to the mall. I arrived around 8:30am and I walked indoors for about an hour, as I do not trust what we are breathing outdoors from the air. So I had a great start. I walked for a good hour or so. As I was heading home, in the parking lot, I found my car with a flat tire. It certainly wasn't like that when I arrived. I changed my tire and that only took a few minutes, as the weather was good. So that really got me in shape to start of the New Year. I later went to the gas station and inflated the flat tire, and immediately, I could hear the shhhh sound deflating the tire immediately, so it should have deflated immediately in the parking lot, which I would have noticed as I got out of my car. There's a spike in the tire.

Wah wah wah & A Happy New Year. I'm not surprise at all with this flat tire. I should have expected it. I can tell you, that if you've been as dedicated as I have been with all of songs - over 100 songs and over 15 books, someone is after you. Is that the case here? I don't know. See for a wah wah wah to wow story!+

At home I then changed three tires as I have 3 sets of tires. And I've been driving with these tires for about over a week. About a week later, at the mall, as I went to my car, one tire was half deflated. I drove home, and by the next day this tire was flattened out, however, this one may have a leak at the rim, even though this other tire was on for at least a week now.

A Global world - We can see the changes everywhere or we've heard about them

The Georgia Guide stones which was created a few decades ago and recently taken down actually told us of this future. It has 'A message consisting of a set of ten guidelines or principles was engraved on the Georgia 'Guidestones in eight different languages, one language on each face of the four large upright stones. Moving clockwise around the structure from due north, these languages were English, Spanish, Swahili, Hindi, Hebrew, Arabic, Traditional Chinese, and Russian. And today we hear a lot of different languages. But also, this guidestone, stated a population of 500 million. Not a few billions of people, not a billion people, but 500 million people, and my guess is that will be by 2070.

We can clearly see that countries are being set up for World War III, where many other things will take place during these wars, such as reducing the population. We continue to read about a world of ongoing vaccination which will no doubt determine how long you will live.

Lots of changes are coming

While the world is taken up with worldwide protests, and wars, there are plans for ongoing vaccination, CBDC, depopulation of the world, and where humans will have a very small part in reproduction in the future generation. It's here the New World Order, a global world being restructured. It's called the Great Reset.

VALENTINES GIFT OF THE HEART

Valentines should be everyday and not just one day out of the year.

Valentines is a time for romance. A time to share love. It's much more than romance. It's a time to spend time together and share precious moments, whether over lunch, dinner, at the movies, at home having a meal, or at home watching a show, or doing something you enjoy like skating, 'walking in the park and throwing stones', and much more. Cards, flowers, chocolate and diamonds are often given as a sign of this love and friendship. Although valentines has its roots in pagan traditions, most people are not aware of it, nor think of valentines as a pagan celebration, but as a celebration of love.

The lyrics below are sections of songs written by Fisal Ally. For complete lyrics and independent recordings of Fisal (Fizal) original songs, please visit www.allymedia.ca.

ROOTS BACK TO INDIA

By Fisal Ally; published on February 14, 2024.

Research information and links were placed on www.allymedia.ca over the past months.

Some of the biggest names in the entertainment industry are said to have roots back in India. Some of these people are: Elvis Presley, Pablo Picasso, Gipsy Kings, Carlos Santana, Charlie Chaplin, Yul Brynner, Rita Hayworth, Michael Caine, Denny Laine, Robert Plant who is the lead singer of Led Zepplin, Zlatan Ibrahimovic, Andrea Pirlo and many more...

How is that? And how did they get to Europe, America and other places? So the King of Rock 'n Roll have Indian roots. According to a number of videos he does. Why are some so pale and where others like Yul Brynner gets so dark? I always wondered why Elvis would become so dark at times. Some say he has Native American blood and that he said he does. That's up to these people to debate on. I'm presenting what these videos are saying.

People have been traveling across the lands for thousands of years, but what is very visible across Europe are people of the Roma and Sinthi background. Although many were mixed with the native populations over the centuries and looks like the natives of those lands, many are of darker complexion and looks like many have maintained a high Indian genetics, as many marry into those communities only, while others only wants to identity with the native communities, so they are not stereotyped. Many still have dark complexion.

A BRIEF VIEW ON HOW THEY GOT TO THE LANDS FOR RICHES AND FAME

My view is they journeyed out of India for work, and not as being told that Islam entered and drove them out. History can be very bias, depending on who is writing it, and its written to suit their agendas. And this is also why they would change it up when they've accomplished their goal. At one time they will say something is bad for you, and then at another time they will say it's good for you. At one time they will say these people at bad and then at another time they will make corrections. Sounds all scripted. Like William Shakespeare stated, all the worlds a stage, meaning it's all scripted and filled with actors, and today we hear on the mainstream media which is also owned by them to help them accomplish their goals, that even the news anchors and politicians are referring to people in high positions as actors.

My view is when laborers are required or demanded around the world, people are taken there, whether kidnapped, lied to, or they go on their own free will. What I'm saying is the people that left India / Pakistan that entered Iran, then headed to Armenia and into Europe and began to go in different directions let India for work, and not what they are saying that the Muslims invaded India and the people left. As far as I know, where Muslims when, they mainly went as traders and the people of those lands became Muslims because they chose to, and we see people in droves coming to Islam today, which is the fastest growing way of life in the world.

I've read that at least a million Indians went to Iran to work as musicians and entertainers, and other professions. Did the Muslims drive these people out? Of course not. And over time they continued to different lands as they hear of places in demand for laborers. What I also heard is they began leaving about 1,000 years ago, and 600 years ago the Turkish brought Indians into Europe as slaves, but it was probably to work as indentured laborers, and it's probably the natives of those lands enslaved them, if there was slavery. Another video I saw was where a family of Indian background in Romania said that their grandparents spoke Indian languages, and that they've been there for only 300 years. This means that the Indians were being brought through out the centuries to work. Unfortunately, they were mistreated by the natives of those lands in the way the Blacks from Africa were mistreated in America and kept down, until many ended up in ghettos and living a poor life. Sure, blame it all on Muslims and Islam, when today, we see that countless people in the Western World are becoming Muslims to lead a better life. And if you don't believe me, then read their stories.

Many of these people that lives across Europe, the Middle East and North Africa, where many have maintained a lot of their Indian genetics are known as Roma or Sinthi people. A few hundred years ago they were given the name Egyptian which then became Gipsy, because of their dark complexion and not knowing where they came from. Their language, which they maintain, is very similar to Indian languages and also has at least 100 words from Armenia where many have lived for at least 100 years during their journey.

According to a number of YouTube videos, the name mentioned above along with many others have some Roma roots, meaning that some of their roots goes directly back to India / Pakistan.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

A glance at the Black genius, Lewis Latimer

Black History Month educates people on many 'Blacks' and their contributions to the world.

Black History Month 2024 in America and Canada commenced on February 1 and continues to February 29.

Carter G Woodson

Carter G Woodson had started the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History (ASALH) back in 1912 to recognize 'Black Scholars, Historians and son's of former slaves.' On February 12, 1962, he started Black History Week, which later, in the 1960s, became Black History Month.

Throughout the centuries, many 'Blacks' have made great contributions. But how many of you heard about the genius, Lewis Latimer. This article provides some brief information on this genius.

*Disclaimer:
The two photos may not have anything to do with Black History months, but were licensed from www.depositphotos.com for writing this article. The small boy in this photo is not Lewis Latimer.*

Lewis Latimer, the electrical pioneering genius

Back in the 1800s, Lewis Latimer had worked with inventors such as Alexander Graham Bell, and Thomas A. Edison. He had invented the carbon filament light bulb in 1897, where he had spent hour after hour and day after day carrying out thousands of tests that led to the use of the electric light across the globe. He had also worked in New York, Philadelphia, Montreal and London supervising the installation of public electric lights. He had worked with Bell and had also drawn up the diagrams for the patent of the telephone. He was on Edison's research team and was a witness in court for Edison's patents. He had contributed greatly to the development of the United States with his many inventions. His patents were: Water closet for railroad cars, improvement on electric lamp, process for manufacturing carbon filament, arc light globe support, patent for apparatus for cooling and disinfecting, device for locking hats, coats, and umbrellas on hanging racks. He also wrote 'the first book on electric lighting called Incandescent Electric which was a technical engineering book and thus became a guide for lighting engineers.

Introduction

The world will not stand by in silence as this genocide against the Palestinians takes place. Thanks to social media, this time, the whole world is witnessing a genocide against innocent people. We clearly see the destruction and driving out the people of Palestine from their native historical homeland. Why would Hamas allow this? You must also ask who created Hamas and why? Have Hamas done anything good for the Palestinians?

We always hear of the name of a country fighting wars. Did the people of that country instigated and created these wars? There are only a few rich families that own most of the world wealth. So you would think that they are the ones that's creating these wars for total global control.

Israel have been imprisoning their own citizens for not supporting the war crimes against the Palestinians. An eighteen year old who refused to go into the arm was jailed for a month then released and is called up again. A teacher was also imprisoned and then released. There's mostly likely many others. Outside of Israel, like in places like Canada and the US, some have lost their jobs for speaking up. This should make you wonder whose war is this. Is it just Israel's or others that created Israel and control governments and politicians around the world? Many around the world have stated that this is genocide against the Palestinians, and these words and the truth are coming from their own mouths.

Section 1 - Swedish Prime Minister on genocide against the Palestinians

Did the Swedish prime minister slipped up when the question 'Do they have the right to genocide now?' was asked. The Swedish Prime Minister, Ulf Kristersson, answered "Sweden and the EU stand united in that Israel has the right to genocide self-defence!" (ref1).

He spoke for Sweden and the whole EU. What do these words tell you? Let's see what people are saying in the comment section of the video. Below are only four out of the hundreds of comments:

- 1) 'That's called a Freudian slip, which is basically when you accidentally say something that your subconscious mind actually believes.'
- 2) 'It is becoming embarrassing, our world is being run by corrupt cowards.'
- 3) God is exposing the truth right from their mouths.
- 4) They all know its genocide rather than self defense.

Another video states, 'Diplomats walkout during Israeli ambassador UNSC speech "Today you have an historic opportunity to shift the focus of this council' The speech went on 'To the real and grave security threat, the Middle East is suffering from a cancer...'

The question is, what caused the cancer?

Section 2 - Israel bulldozing of graveyards except one with British, Australian and Jewish soldiers

The world have witnessed through social media that Israel IDF are also attacking the dead, where 'At least 16 cemeteries in Gaza have been desecrated by Israeli forces, satellite imagery and videos reveal' (ref3). How horrific are these war crimes and genocide and against the Palestinians. The articles (ref 3) states: 'The international destruction of religious sites, such as cemeteries, violates international law, except under narrow circumstances relating to that site becoming a military objective, and legal experts told CNN that Israel's acts could amount to war crimes.'

'A spokesman for the IDF could not account for the destruction of the 16 cemeteries CNN provided coordinates for, but said the military sometimes has "no other choice" but to target cemeteries it claimed Hamas uses for military purposes.'

According to the article, 'The IDF said rescuing the hostages and finding and returning their bodies is one of its key missions in Gaza, which is why bodies were removed from some gravesites' (ref3).

'South Africa raised the IDF's destruction of graveyards in Gaza as part of its case at the International Court of Justice arguing ISRAEL IS COMMITTING GENOCIDE. Israel denies the allegation, but Dill said that while the destruction of cemeteries alone does not amount to genocide, it can add to evidence of Israel's intent' (ref3)

Just half mile away they left a grave untouched with mostly British and Australian soldiers

'Just a half mile away from the destroyed Al-Tuffah cemetery, east of Gaza City, a cemetery holding the bodies of mostly British and Australian soldiers who died in World War I and II stands largely intact. A crater on the burial grounds appears in satellite imagery between October 8 and October 15, but it has otherwise been untouched by the war' (ref3)

The article went on to say (ref3), Israeli soldiers even posed with an Israeli flag by the grave of a Jewish soldier buried there and another image posted to social media shows a tank sitting on the edge of the graveyard - respecting the sanctity of that hallowed ground. The respect of some of the dead, but not others, is in contravention of international law, Muna Haddad, a human rights lawyer and researcher on the treatment of the dead, crime of 'committing outrages upon personal dignity' under the Rome Statue," she said.

The question is, if Hamas was hiding in the cemeteries, then why would Hamas hide in all of the 16 Palestinians cemeteries, but not in the one as mentioned above that have British, Australian and Jewish soldiers? Is Hamas protecting the cemetery with the British, Australian and Jewish soldiers? Then with all of the destruction and war crimes taking place then you must ask is Hamas working for and who are they protecting. Because of Hamas actions the whole of Gaza is being destroyed, along with attacks in the West Bank, and drawing many countries into these conflicts. If Hamas were not in those cemeteries then Israel had deliberately destroyed those cemeteries and must be taken up not only for Genocide as South Africa claims, but for it's war crimes. But the question is, is there anyone more powerful than Israel and the ones that created and controls Israel to stop this genocide and destruction?

Section 3 - Israeli Teacher imprisons and interrogated

Israelis that are speaking up against what Israel is doing are being imprisoned. Recently, an 18 year old, as seen in a video, was imprisoned for a month and then released and is being called up again to join the army, but he stated that he will refuse again. Recently an Israeli teacher was also imprisoned and was recently released.

The Israeli teacher, Baruchin says (ref4), ‘Here in Israel for generations, we kill the Palestinians. We injured the Palestinians. We have more than 1500Palestinians in administrative detention. We demolish their houses here in Jerusalem. We cut down their olive trees. We confiscate their property. The waters. And most Israelis expect them to accept it...they blame them, the Palestinians...How can expect the Palestinians to live under occupation for ever? Every Israeli citizen knows this clearly, that if you show the slight sentiment towards the people of Gaza. If you criticize killing the innocent, including women and children in Gaza, you will be politically persecuted. You will go through public shaming. You will lose your job - and in my case be put in jail.’

Baruchin went on to say that most Israeli do not know what is going on in Gaza. He says their mainstream media does not show what goes on in Gaza and what we are doing Gaza.

Many are also being censored. There’s a Youtube called: many of my shows have been cancelled: Chinese Artist, Ai Weiwei on Israel, Gaza & Censorship: Democracy Now; January 22, 2024. This title speaks for itself. There are more cases that are not mentioned here.

Section 4 - South Africa’s filing on genocide against the Palestinians and the ICJ Ruling

There have been ongoing massive protests across the entire world against what many around the world is claiming as genocide against the Palestinians. After the ICJ hearing of South Africa’s claims that Israel is committing genocide, according to the article (ref 5) by Isaac Chotiner on January 27, 2023, ‘The court did not order a ceasefire, but its finding that Israel is the subject of “plausible” claims that it is in violation of the Genocide Convention is momentous, an International-law expert says.’

‘The ruling of the I.C.J - which is distinct from the International Criminal Court - fell short of finding Israel guilty of having committed genocide, but such a decision could take years; South Africa had also urged the court to order an immediate ceasefire which it did not do. (The court does not have an enforcement mechanism.) But the ICJ still found the cause for great concern about Israel’s military actions, and also the statements of its leaders’ (ref5).

The YouTube video (ref6) states from January 26, 2024 states, 'Israel must comply with the key ICJ ruling ordering to do all in its power to prevent genocide against Palestinians in Gaza.

Israel is being warned about their war crimes, but it seems like nothing is going to stop Israel from wiping Gaza off the map, as Netanyahu had shown a map of Israel without Gaza and the West Bank. 'Israel must comply with the key ICJ ruling ordering to do all in its power to prevent genocide against Palestinians in Gaza' (ref6)

The article (ref6) from January 26, 2023 states: The ruling issued by the ICJ ordered six provisional measures including for Israel to refrain from acts under the Genocide convention, prevent and punish the direct and public incitement to genocide, and take immediate and effective measures to ensure the provision of humanitarian assistance to civilians in Gaza. Crucially, the Court also ordered Israel to preserve evidence of genocide and to submit a report to the Court, within one month, of all measures taken in line with its order.

'Agnes Callamard, Secretary General of Amnesty International (ref6), said "Today's decision is an authoritative reminder of the crucial role of international law in preventing genocide and protecting all victims of atrocity crimes. It sends a clear message that the world will not stand by in silence as Israel pursues a ruthless military campaign to decimate the population of the Gaza Strip and unleash death, horror and suffering against Palestinians on an unprecedented scale."

So you must wonder who really controls these professional organizations, if they allow with countless politicians across the entire globe does have any power to stop this genocide and to watch as the destruction of the world takes place, which will one day also come to their own nations.

Let's say a year from now, if the decision turns out to be Israel have committed genocide. What would it matter then? Israel and its creators and rulers would have already accomplished what it has set out to do, and that's to wipe Gaza and the West Bank out as per their own map. Let's say that Israel admits genocide and takes the blame. The people will be stained with hate, but the ones higher up have already succeeded in driving out the people as they have succeeded in the past since 1948, while they destabilize the region and restricted the region as they said that this was their plan. And who created Hamas? It certainly was not the Palestinians; Ron Paul in around the year 2006 told the world who did and why.

Section 5 - Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict

These problems began in 1948 when Britain gave Palestine to what is known as Israel today, even though Palestine have existed for thousands of years and the native Palestinians of Palestine were living throughout all of Palestine carrying out their daily lives and business. Why didn't Britain instead give part of Britain to the Israelis, instead of giving someone's land, which was fully populated, to another group of people? Whose to be blamed for all of these war crimes on the Palestinians?

In the article, 'We Europeans created the problem': Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict published on Feb 12, 2024 (ref 9), Yanis Varoufakis says European countries share responsibility for the atrocities being committed in Gaza. "We Europeans created the problem... We are playing a vicious role in its perpetuation," Varoufakis told Al Jazeera.

He further stated that "while the official EU position was to support a two-state solution, European countries are "completely" in support of the Netanyahu government, "whose life's work has been the destruction of any prospect of a Palestinian state:"

Section 6 - Indian TV presenter stood up to her Israeli guest on his accusations

In the youtube video (ref7), Youtube.com/shorts/Ff89dnvKuD8; Feb5, 2024;The National AAE channel; Israeli guest accuses Indian TV presenter of wearing Palestinian flag colors', her Israeli guest made some accusations against her sari and she stood up to him. He stated, 'And I can see the colors that you are wearing purposely and that's why I am purposely wearing blue and white because with all due respect, the green, the red, and the black which you are purposely wearing - blue and white will always prevail (referring to the color of the Israeli flag).

The TV presenter responded in a scholarly manner stating, "Let's not divide colors on the basis of religion. It sometimes happens in my country as well, and also to tell you, Fredric, the garment I'm wearing is a sari and it's my grand mother's. If she was alive, she would have been about 105 years old today. She didn't know what Israel-Hamas conflict was, and this sari nowhere signifies any support any side. I will not let you choose what I wear and I will not let you choose what I say."

Section 7 - Rafa situation and possible destruction

In the video (ref9), called "We Europeans created the problem': Analyst holds Europe accountable for Israel-Gaza conflict published on Feb 12, 2024, Yanis Varoufakis says 'close to one and a half million Palestinians are sheltering in Rafa, where an Israeli ground offensive is threatened here's what a few of them are expecting the numbers of dead and wounded people here will be huge if Israel storms Rafa.

Conclusion

With this mass destruction and genocide taking place, one must ask who Hamas is working for? Why did Hamas kidnap Israeli citizens and will not release them, which have led to the destruction of Gaza, violence in the West Bank and war breaking through the Middle East? That's the question you must ask. And who created Hamas and why? What's taking place in Gaza is worse than a primitive mentality. It's barbaric. It's genocide, and this is the beginning of the destruction of humanity. Such war crimes should have never been allowed to take place, by the international bodies and other nations because from here on its only going to get worse, worse for most of the billions of people across this land. Let's pray for the Palestinians and pray for an end to this genocide, since the rulers around this world and their leaders and politician's shows that they really do not have any power.

What did the Neuralink do to the monkey? How ethical is Neuralink? Reports from the trial have been grim, and U.S federal investigators launched an investigation into animal cruelty in 2022. It’s still ongoing. Guyana-Venezuela border conflicts of the Essequibo region of Guyana and the treaties Researched by Fisal Ally; First Edition published on December 20, 2023 on www.allymedia.ca at 8pm. This is the second edition.

Introduction

There has been an ongoing dispute with border issues between Venezuela and Guyana. Before the Europeans made claims to Essequibo, the Indigenous people were living in the area. And even though Spain claims to the Essequibo region in the 15th century, The Treaty of Tordesillas was not signed nor recognized by others such as the Dutch, and the development in the Essequibo by the Dutch commenced in the 1500s. In the past the border disputes were resolved at: Peace of Amiens (1802), 1899 Paris Arbitral Award, and the Geneva Agreement (1966) were acknowledged. The border issues were settled, but since Guyana's oil discovery in 2015 Venezuela have been flexing its arms and also election is coming up in 2024 for Venezuela.

Introduction

In the past and also recently, Venezuela have made claims to Essequibo in Guyana. In 2015 when the Exxon, Hess, and CNOOC oil explorations commenced, Venezuela once again began making claims for the Essequibo region, as the oil companies explorations continued. In 2023 the President of Venezuela made statements that they will annex Essequibo and created a new map with Essequibo being a part of Venezuela. Recently it was written that "Guyana could become the Monaco for Latin America" (Ref 1). So we know that Guyana is doing very well because of its oil. So what's the real problem here?

Section I - Before the Europeans made claims to Essequibo, the Indigenous people were living in the area

In the article (ref1) Venezuela builds forces near border with Guyana despite agreement to de-escalate published on 2024/02/09 states: "Satellite images show Venezuela had bolstered its military presence near the border with Guyana, despite Caracas saying it would pursue a diplomatic avenue to try and resolve the long-standing territorial dispute over an oil-rich piece of Guyanese land."

'In January, Venezuela bragged about expanding its military presence in the region in propaganda videos released on its army's social media accounts, showing bulldozers clearing land, as well as light tanks and infantry fighting vehicles on the move and on Mi-17 military transport helicopter' (ref1).

EXTENSION TO THE TRILOGY OF SAVITRI'S GARDEN WITH FRAUD AS REPARATION TAKES PLACE

SAVITRI'S GARDEN ON REPARATIONS

The Fatal Conceit of the Caribbean Reparations Movement; 01/12/2023 by Rasheed J. Griffith; <https://historyreclaimed.co.uk/the-fatal-conceit-of-the-caribbean-reparations-movement/>

Says:

'In April, a group of descendants of former plantation owners in Britain formed Heirs of Slavery, a lobby organization to champion reparatory justice for the Caribbean. In August (2023), the President of Guyana (Mohammed Irfaan Ali) amidst a domestic oil-fueled economic boom called for descendants of former plantation owners to pay reparations.

Listed here are 3 points the article states: 'Beckles' overarching argument for reparations rests on three sub-theses across two books:

1. The profit made by the British during the Atlantic trade of enslaved people from Africa to the Caribbean was a necessary criterion for Britain's growth during the Industrial Revolution.
2. The profit from slave-produced sugar on Caribbean plantations was a necessary criterion for the growth of Britain during the Industrial Revolution.
3. The primary cause for the current underdevelopment and persistent poverty in the Caribbean was the extractive nature of British imperialism.

In a cafe

Jay entered a café and sat down at a table. Next to him on the other table are two females and two males, chatting and enjoying their coffee and snacks.

About ten minutes later, Jay sipping on his cappuccino reading a newspaper, when one of the men said 'coolie.' He said coolie again. Jay continued to read the newspaper, as the man's voice rose saying 'coolie.' About 10 seconds later, Jay glanced over at them, and the man was showing the other man his cell phone, saying coolie, coolie, and then spelled out the word and said he's filling in a puzzle. The man glanced at Jay and back to his cell phone. They were conversing all along and now all of a sudden he's now doing a puzzle?

Looking at his cell

'I got it. It's coolie.'

'What do you mean coolie?' the other man asked?

'Jack just texted me this puzzle and asked me to complete the word.'

'Where's Jack?'

'At a club, hanging out.'

'Jack's always at a club hanging out.'

'And drinking.'

Jay glanced over again and smiled.

'I'm Jay.'

'I'm John' said the man who was saying coolie.

'I'm Sam.'

'I'm Jenny.'

'I'm Rosie. Nice to meet you.'

'Like wise.' Jay said, 'I know about slavery and Indentured laborers from India to the Americas starting in 1838 in a series called The Trilogy of Savitri's of Savitri's Garden by Faisal Ally. The Indians were labeled as coolies.'

John nodded. 'I see. Jack sent me this puzzle just now and asked me to fill in the word and he some clues and he called out some words - Berbice. Guiana. And he said coolies were slaves.'

'He has it wrong. The Indians that left India were people of various classes, and not coolies. And according to the Sheriff of Beribce located in British Guiana, there were no coolies, and he clearly stated that the Indians came from places like Agra, Lucknow and other places, and that the coolies known as the Danghur that lived in the hills near Calcutta did not arrive in Guiana.' Jay paused and continued so they would get the full picture. "Indentured laborers although paid very cheap were treated as slaves," Jay informed them. "And it was bad for some of the young females. They were assaulted by their white bosses in the field and nobody heard their cries, and they had to live with the pain for the rest of their lives."

"I'm so sorry to hear this," Jenny said. They all took a moment to reflect.

'And you said Berbice?' asked Rosie.

'Yes.'

'I heard about Berbice having read about reparations,' Rosie said.

'You have?'

'Yes. Jack spoke about reparations and because his forefathers were heavily involved in the slave trade that their descendants will have to pay a great price for being involved in slavery. He spoke about Jamaica also and how many Scottish were involved in the slave trade their - and in Guiana. He's worried about European countries having to pay trillions in reparations.'

'Many have suffered,' Jay said. 'People's labor is their wealth and that labor was stolen from millions of Africans that made Britain and many other places wealthy.'

'Yes. Yes. I hear you,' Rosie said. 'I'm English and I fully agree that the Scottish and English should pay for their evils of the past. I've read a lot on slavery and have been reading the articles coming out on reparations.'

"You're English and you don't mind me speaking up?"

"Of course not," replied Rosie. "Slavery in the Americas were evil and barbaric. How could my people be involved in stealing people's children and then stealing their labor and mistreating them. That's plain evil."

"I'm also English," John said. "We can't change the past, but hopefully we could make the future better for all."

"I'm Scottish," Sam said. "I believe reparations should be paid out for such evil and destruction we've created in people's lives."

"I agree," said Jenny who is Irish.

"I see a coolie," Jack said.

Jay heard Jack's voice, having seen him through his cell phone.

Jenny responded. "Jack have nothing good to say about anyone. He's a redneck."

Jack laughed.

They turned off their cell phones

Jack sounds bitter, Jay said.

John chuckled. Yeah bitter. Rich and bitter. He was given a silver platter - money inherited from slavery and indentured laborers. He's lazy and does not work. He likes to manage, but likes his liquor a little too much.

"Always drunk," Jenny chipped in.

"I feel sorry for him," Jay said.

Me too, Jenny nodded.

Rosie received a message

"I just received a message that says 'coolie'," Rosie said. "And I don't know who sent it and why."

"It must be Jack," John said. "I thought he would stop using that word. No. It's not Jack. But I have to warn you incase you ever meet Jack amongst us. He's a redneck. He pretends he likes diversity and multiculturalism. He uses people to get what he wants."

Rosie showed everyone the cell message. They could not figure out where the message came from.

In a club

Salman was happy as he entered. "Where's your flying carpet," Jack said, joking.

Simon laughed and said, "You'll be flying in planes soon."

"That's right. You won't need your flying carpet anymore. He will soon be driving a Porsche," Kaufman said.

People of various backgrounds were talking about fame, about music, about TV shows and movies and writing scripts for shows. They were having a meeting, enjoying some snacks and drinks.

"Why the big smile on your face today," Jack asked.

"I feel good," Salman said. "Thanks to you my son was just accepted in college and in the college basketball team."

Everyone became excited and congratulated Salman.

Salman continued. "I didn't think he would have gotten in because of his height just under five feet ten inches. My son just played his first game and he did good. Sored many points."

Jack laughed. "That's good news. I knew he would have gotten in."

Simon turned to Salman. "Nowadays you have to be over 6 feet to even be considered."

"Yeah. I know a thing or two. Thanks to Jack," Salman said.

Jack laughed and said, “We know a thing or two.” He became agitated. Look! Just update us on songs and scripts.”

“That’s right,” Chung turned to Salman and said, “And tell your brother he can’t sing.”

“I will sing those songs,” Chico said. “And I can do them in Spanish also.”

Simon smiled. “Yeah. Just keep us posted on songs.” He’s aboriginal said.

Jack took a gulp from his drink and said, “Simon I hear your pockets are getting real heavy.”

“I’ll catch up to you one day,” Simon replied.

“Never!” Jack exclaimed. “Now give me all your money,” Jack sang.

Simon started to laugh and he joined in the singing. “That’s what I want. That’s what I want.”

Jack turned to Salman and said, “I got stacks of Qurans for you brother.” Jack is highly connected to Alb, Albie and Alber, who are facing lawsuits the music business. (See the last edition for an update on Alb, Albie and Alber).

A few days later at the café

They were texting each other back and forth. They had invited Jay to join them.

“Don’t be so harsh,” Sam said. “You’ve spoken about reparations. Unfortunately this will affect all of us good folks who will have to suffer for what you forefathers have done.”

Jack swore at Sam. “The wealth my forefathers made built the world.”

“He’s bitter that Scotland, England and other nations are being called for reparations where these countries may go broke and become third world countries,” Rosie said.

Slavery was horrible said Rosie.

They can hear Jack in the background complaining. They are all moving here now.”

“What? Who,” John added.

“Coolies!” Jack proclaimed. “I hired four of them. They are stealing our jobs.”

Sam replied, “ I know what you mean now. But you hired them. What do you pay them?”

“Ten an hour,” Jack responded.

“You’re suppose to start with at least fifteen an hour,” Rosie bellowed.

“He must have read The Trilogy of Savitri’s Garden by Fisal Ally since he knows so much about coolies.”

“He’s just like his forefathers,” John said.

“Still robbing people,” Rosie added.

Jack can hear everything they are saying. ‘You coolie! How dare you say those things.’ Jack began cursing and he knocked back his liquor. That’s right made in Demerara.

Public shaming his wife

It was 10am and two people joined them

They just arrived in a red sports car. They introduced themselves to Jay. They are musicians and had just come from a children's gig. Sue was wearing a red pants and a red cap a hat. They were enjoying their conversations. And they all learned that Jay is a songwriter and have written many songs.

"You're a songwriter. Then you must be careful of Jack and his crew," John warned Jay. "Brenda and Shane knows all about what goes on in the music industry." John pointed over at a table with five men and one transgender female and said, "The men are keeping an eye on their wives. That's why they keep looking at their cell phones. They are filthy rich. Some of them have ancestors that were highly involved in slavery. They have different ways of making lots of money today."

"Why are they tracking their wives," Jay asked.

"Their wives went to early meditation classes," Rosie said. "And they are tracking them. Sometimes they go shopping after meditating and yoga - if you know what I mean."

"Oh. I see," Jay said. "You mean checking out men."

Everyone laughed.

They watched as a male arrived in a red sports car similar to Brenda. He was also wearing a red pants, a red cap and red lipstick. He walked past them with a cell phone in his hand, glanced at Brenda and as he walked away, he pointed to his buttock. Brenda became angry. She was about to get up to confront him, but Shane held her back.

"That's called public shaming," Rosie said. "He and his associates are in competition with Shane and Brenda and wants to destroy their music." They watched as he waved at the table with the five men. He sat down a table and had a coffee. "They put him up to it. He's getting messages on his cell. They know where Brenda and Shane are. They set him up to do this. It's called public shaming."

Jay shook his head. "I know all about it being a songwriter."

Brenda shook her head. "Don't tell me they are after your songs also."

The man in red lipstick passed by as he was leaving. He just received a message. He looked at Brenda and pointed at his buttocks again. Brenda pretended not to see him. Two females followed him, glanced at their phones as they received a message. They looked at Shane and pointed at their buttocks, as they continued on.

Jay, Shane and Brenda exchange glances and sighed. They've been experiencing public shaming.

An hour later, they departed. Shane and Brenda were driving when the red car passed by with the man wearing a red cap and red lipstick.

"They are tracking us everywhere we go," Shane know. "Don't let it get to you."

A week later, at another café, reading up on reparations

Jay was sitting in a café studying The Trilogy of Savitri's Garden, and reading up on the latest on reparations, when an Indian female with short skirt who just received a message on her cell phone walked up and stood right in front of him as he sat. He saw her from his peripheral vision, but not looking at her. She stood there for a while, but she did not break his concentration. She received a message and then sat down.

Jay who does not carry a cell phone wondered who is sending them messages

A discussion was talking place on reparations from some locals and online...

A glance at the Bollywood movie Sacha Jutha & wah wah wah!!!

By Fisal Ally

Published February 14, 2024

A movie from the 1970s and you don't have to worry about nudity, as you do in Hollywood movies. A big time hit, a 10 out of 10 in acting, songs/music and script.

While watching it, something caught my attention. And that got stuck in my head. And this is how it goes.

WAH WAH WAH AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

About a week ago I was watching an old Bollywood movie with Mumtaz and Rajesh Khanna called Sacha Jutha where Rajesh acts double role. I watched about half an hour of the movie and then had to go out. Rajesh played his trumpet around time 24 minutes into the video, when Mumtaz walked up to him and said wah wah wah. I thought that was strange. I repeated what she said wah wah wah. After I said wah wah wah, I had to go out. I said the wah wah wah a few times. I then continued watching the movie the following day and repeated after Mumtaz and said wah wah wah; at time 24:30 in the movie.

While I was watching it, a short commercial came up - it's one of those quick 5 seconds commercial that anyone can create by taking a few small pieces of video and narrate over it. In the video a man in turban was driving a nice car and then they showed an Indian girl at the back, and a voice - obviously referring to the nice car - said wah turning to wow! I then decided to look at the English sub titles, and the subtitles showed wah for wow. I have never heard anybody saying wah wah wah for wow wow wow before. I've said wah wah before but that was referring to my guitar wah wah pedal. How does wow become wah?

On old years day, I put on a youtube video from Guyana showing tours of the place. He had a big celebration to celebrate his 100 K subscribers. And he said wah wah wah wow!!! I've never heard him say that before. Then I watched some of his older videos and he was saying wow wow wow.

I just thought that was very interesting, turning wow wow wow to wah wah wah.
