Conclusion: Mother Nature and our immune system

Introduction

On June 24, 2020, after researching on the immune system, the vaccines and the covid pandemic, I had published an article under The New World : Order Out of Chaos series of articles called (Part III) 'The Battle to Control Humanity's Bloodstream.' Some of the other articles under this series are: 'The Vaccine and changes to Humanity's DNA'; 'Do vaccines cause health problems?' Another article I wrote is called: 'A glance at the covid pandemic: herd immunity, wearing a mask, social distancing, and the lockdown' published on October 27, 2020.

While many accept the narrative they are being told through the mainstream media and other mainstream sources about the covid-19 pandemic and the vaccine without a doubt nor carrying out any research and cross-referencing, many are researching and cross reference information and are finding out about other solutions from academics, experts and professionals on the covid-19 and its new strains, instead of accepting mandatory vaccination as the only option for all of humanity. Knowledge is empowering, and it's very important to seek knowledge through research and cross-referencing to get to the truth and or best solution.

We are at the crossroad of history and what we do today will have a major impact on our lives, the lives of the elderly, our children, and generations to come, and on humanity, and there will be no turning back from here on. It's NOW OR NEVER! We must make the best decisions moving forward, and this only comes through a fair amount of research and cross-referencing to make sure you understand what's actually taking place and how it will impact your children, grandchildren, the elderly and our future generations.

When it comes to understanding the covid-19 pandemic, vaccines, and the immune system, I don't only look at articles by the mainstream and only listen to what the mainstream media brings or wants me to hear or know. I have a brain so I MUST make use of it before it becomes too mushy and where I cannot think for myself anymore. Therefore, I spend a fair amount of time researching and looking at what experts with a lot of credentials in the areas on vaccines, the immune system and the covid pandemic are saying. With more knowledge, I can make comparisons, and have a better understanding as to what's really taking place with this covid pandemic, mandatory vaccinations and even the Unites States 2020 election.

One of the first videos I had seen on the covid pandemic was a video by Dr. Dan Erickson and Dr. Artin Massihi, which had gotten millions of views around the world, but was quickly knocked off YouTube and censored. What happened to freedom of speech all of a sudden? Why is information being suppressed? We must ask these important questions. Dan Erickson 'is an entrepreneur and have developed eight medical clinics to date through central and Southern California (Ref Z1).' Experts such as the Scientist, Dr. Shiva Ayyadurai, who had invented email in 1978 when he was only 14 years old, and Dr. Rashid Buttar who is a best selling author and a medical doctor and who does alternative treatment for patients that were vaccine injured and many other conditions, provides great knowledge when it comes to the covid pandemic, vaccinations, wearing the mask, social distancing and boosting the immune system. There are others whose lectures I have been reviewing. These people are heroes. They are brave for putting their lives and careers on the line to bring important information to the public. They are heroes for empowering us with knowledge in this darkest period of humanity's existence where many people are confused, depressed and have no clue what the future holds for us and all of humanity. There are many more like them. I did not have to wait many months after the covid pandemic to learn that the vaccine will be a reoccurring vaccination, not once, not twice, but many times, and that the RF-ID chip is also being planned for humanity. Many of these experts have been empowering people with knowledge for many months now. They already know and understands how Big Pharma, Big Academia, Big Science, Big Government and the Establishment works, and thus have a good idea as to what the future holds for humanity, and it looks very bad.

When it comes to understanding the covid pandemic, the vaccines, and the immune system and health, I not only review what's coming from the mainstream media, but I keep an open mind and also carry out my own research by looking for experts in these fields and hearing what they also have to say. Why wouldn't anybody want to do what I'm doing? Immunologist expert, Dr. Shiva Ayyadurai, says, "One size does not fit all medicine...finding the right medicine for the right person at the right time..." (Ref R). He says that we must go back to the basics. He explains that each person's body is unique and how each person should be treated different. "Your body and my body are unique. What you need you should decide in collaboration with your health care profession - the government should not be involved in it..." (Ref R). And he is speaking from a 'scientific perspective.' He says that "from a scientific perspective, the human body is extremely complex - to impose a child get 35 different vaccines, 70 doses, God only knows what the interactions are, is not only criminal-and to say we're going to figure out the safety, I'm sorry..." (Ref Q). Another doctor I listen to on vaccines is Dr. Rashid Buttar, whose son was vaccine injured as a child and he had carried out alternative treatment to treat his son, and was successful at its. Today his son is around 21 or 22 years old and from what I remember I believe he is a martial arts champion. In those days it took many years to research, develop and test a vaccine, and yet there are claims about vaccine injuries. Now were dealing with vaccines with no long-term studies. I am concerned that these mRNA and DNA vaccines may cause some serious damages to people.

Since each person's body is different, then how can the same vaccine work for everyone? Could it cause different kinds of injuries for different people, such as face paralysis, problems with the heart or even death? If this is the case, then would I be better off without the oncoming reoccurring vaccinations?

My boost juice. Even before hearing about the covid-19 pandemic, I was already taking lemon and honey after I came down with something about a week before Christmas 2019. I also began adding lime to the juice. Sometimes I leave out the honey. Most days, I take one of these a day or sometimes more depending on how I'm feeling. If I start sneezing, sniffing or feeling that I'm coming down with something, I take 2 or 3 drinks for that day. I also take some Vitamins as recommended by Dr. Ayyadurai for boosting my immune system.

Use a straw if too strong and edgy on your teeth

Section 2 - The mRNA, DNA and other vaccines are being rolled out

The vaccines are being rolled out all over the world. When I hear the terms RNA and DNA, I know that has to do with our God given genetics and it's our genetics that makes us who we are, such as male, female, our height, eyes colors etc...,but also the environment and other factors play an important part in our lives and molding us. So I'm asking questions such as, will an mRNA or and DNA vaccine cause any kind of problems later on in life? The small 'm' in mRNA is for messenger.

During my research, I came across a YouTube video called 'Pfizer's coronavirus vaccine relies on a new, unproven technology. A diagram shows how it differs from other candidates by Aria Bendix' (Ref T) posted on November 9, 2020. Note the words in the title 'unproven technology.' These vaccines are designed different from a flu vaccine and since the technology is new and unproven. I would certainly be concerned. The video states 'Pfizer's candidate is an mRNA vaccine, an unproven technology that uses a snippet of the coronavirus' genome to encourage antibody production. Moderna's use the same approach, though no mRNA vaccine has ever been approved before.' Note the words 'no no mRNA vaccine has ever been approved before.' Those statements do not give me any confidence in these vaccines, so why should I beg for this vaccine and say 'Bring it on' or 'I'm taking the vaccine as soon as it gets here' when I know that most people that are diagnosed with covid recovers from it. Does it mean that taking a vaccine will have no side effects? Of course not! I'm looking for the best solution. There were no long-term studies done on these vaccines, since they were developed in less than a year. What if in a few months later or even a year or 5 years later I end up with all kinds of side effects or even an early death? We must ask questions. I have already researched and wrote an article about people being vaccine injured and mercury being in the vaccine preservatives and where a child's body may not be able to eject the mercury causing major health problems and or a disability such as autism. I'm already aware that vaccines have preservatives. My question is, what are the preservatives and other chemicals in these new vaccines, and how will it affect others and me? I'm not hearing anything about the preservatives.

There's an article called 'Moderna's groundbreaking coronavirus vaccine was designed in just 2 days' by Susie Neilson, Andrew Dunn, Aria Bendix on December 19, 2020 (Ref P). The title alone makes my stomach turn. A vaccine designed in only two days? What about all of the quality checks, tests, and stages of design the vaccine should go through? Just two days? This makes me very worried about every single person being vaccinated and humanity's future.

I came across an article called 'Inovio COVID-19 Vaccine Uses Electricity to Drive DNA Into Body Cells (1)' by Barbara Loe Fisher and Kate Raines; Published April 18, 2020 References: (Ref Z2). The title of this article is chilling and is telling us that electricity will be used to 'drive DNA into body cells?' Where in the world is that electricity coming from? Does it have anything to do with 5G? An excerpt from the article states: DNA vaccines like Inovio's experimental COVID-19 vaccine (INO-4800) inject a small piece of circular DNA called a plasmid that carries genes encoding proteins from the pathogen to provoke the cells into producing antibodies....The key challenge for DNA/RNA vaccines is getting patients' cells to accept the introduced genetic material. The report states: The U.S. biotech firm has already produced enough of the vaccine to support Phase 1 (immune system reactivity and safety) and Phase 2 (efficacy) testing and plans to have one million doses ready for distribution by the end of 2020. The report states: 'The experimental vaccine requires a special device that uses electricity to drive DNA into cells of the body.' What if the patients' body rejects the genetic material? Then what happens after that? Will it cause a hormone imbalance? What if the electricity causes some damages to the cells and to our DNA? For me these are all valid questions to ask. I will be doing lots more research in these areas.

There's a YouTube video called 'Coronavirus vaccine: Johnson & Johnson vaccine trials put on hold after participant becomes ill' published on Oct 13, 2020 discussed by Dr. Anand Parekh (Ref U). Everything seems rushed with vaccines coming out and being forced on people. What are the chances that two destructive viruses devastated humanity exactly 100 years apart? What are the chances that one person name Bill Gates is trying to solve computer viruses and now trying to solve biological viruses? For me nothing is adding up about this covid-pandemic and mandatory vaccination. We are told that we can't work if we don't take the vaccine, and this is what force vaccination is all about. We are left with no choice. Then the elderly in the long-term care facilities must also take it, and therefore shouldn't the death rate of the elderly in the long-term care facilities decrease tremendously, starting months ago especially with the lockdowns and masks? But that's not the case. If many elderly in the long term care facilities and in places like China, India and other places take the vaccine then they should all live long and healthy lives.

A YouTube channel highlight says: 'Nearly 70% of Indians unwilling to take COVID-19 vaccine Study' (Ref Y). Why are so many Indians unwilling to take the vaccine if the vaccine will work to stop the virus? It's not only India, but people from who all over the world are skeptic about the vaccines and many are reluctant to take the vaccine. The following two points made next in this paper are not my claims, nor have I done any research on this to have discussions on it. However, it's important that I mention them here because this may explain why 70% or even more in India are reluctant to be vaccinated. Point one is, there are claims being made all over the Internet that the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation had tested polio vaccine in India between 2000 and 2017 which resulted 496,000 children being paralyzed and also lawsuits (Ref Z3). Point two is, there are also claims of sterilization that took place in Africa using the vaccines. However, there are claims that this never happened and it's all a hoax. Obviously many in India and Africa know about these claims, whether they are true or false and have suspicions about being vaccinated and whether there are agendas to decrease the population through sterilization or to even bring about shorter life spans. Talks of population reductions are nothing new, and which countries have major population problems? Of course it's India with about 1.4 billion people and China with over 1.4 billion. Decades ago, population control was planned in China where most Chinese families were only allowed to have one child, and now there are millions of elderly with nobody to care for them because their one child had to leave their aging parents behind to work in the big cities. So what becomes of the parents who have nobody to care for them? We know that they are getting the vaccine first with frontline health care workers. Are different people and different nations getting a different kind of vaccine? There are so many being created but yet not unique for each individual.

There's a YouTube video called 'Kill or cure? | Pfizer stocks lose 2% after trial-death news and allergy warnings' published on Dec 10, 2020 by RT News with the highlight at 18 seconds into the video: 'Any person with a history of a significant allergic reaction to a vaccine, medicine or food should not receive the Pfizer/BioNtech vaccine' and in slightly smaller writings: 'UK warns people with history of allergies against using Pfizer jab.' At time 27 seconds into the video there's a box that says 'The Wall Street Journal, Two in U.K. Suffer Allergic Reaction to Pfizer's Covid-19 Vaccine. At time 33 seconds into the video the box says 'Evening Standard, Warning after two NHS workers have allergic reaction to Pfizer/BioNTech Covid vaccine.' And at 37 seconds into the video the highlight says 'FDA: 6 died during Pfizer vaccine tests; paralysis side-effect risk Ref (Z4).

Section 3 - GMO, genetically modified organism

We have all heard of GMO, genetic modified organism and today we are hearing that the vaccines are mRNA and DNA vaccines, whereas six months ago we just heard the word ‘vaccines’ and not mRNA vaccine or DNA vaccine. DNA and RNA have to do with our genes. I have also written an article called A New World: Order Out Of Chaos (Part II) The Vaccine and changes to Humanity’s DNA which was published June 24, 2020 (Ref R). I’m aware that there are already genetic modifications on human beings taking place in this world, and not just on crops, such as parents selecting the color eyes for their new born baby. Does that mean that the baby is a GMO baby? Our genes are passed down through our DNA. Therefore, in the future can vaccines be used on humans to create mutations whether intentionally or accidentally, in the way our crops have been genetically modified or should I say mutated? Will man (the ones that runs the world from the top and I do not mean our government) be playing God with these new mRNA and DNA vaccines and already have agendas planned for humanity? There are lots of questions and suspicions surrounding mandatory vaccination, and I can see why 70% of the Indians are reluctant to be vaccinated.

Section 4 - Giving away our rights, or taking away all of our rights

Once people have given away their rights to Big Pharmaceutical corporations and Big Government to take over our bloodstream, we can never take back control, nor can the generations to come, because the vaccine will no doubt be a reoccurring vaccine and Big Pharma loves Big Profit.

I’ve done enough research to know that while many are begging for the vaccine and will want to be the first in the line up to take it, many others like myself insists on individuals making up their own minds and having choices, instead of having the vaccine forced on everyone. If we loose our rights to chose then democracy has failed and humanity will end up under world dictatorship. And once that happens there will be no return to freedom and humanity will be imprisoned, in the way the enslaved people and indentured laborers were imprisoned on the plantations to serve their masters.

Once you give permission to get vaccinated once or twice, I have no doubt that it will become a reoccurring vaccination for the rest of your life, what’s next? How will they track all of those vaccinations and when and where you have taken it to make sure you get the right dose and the right ones? Is it through the RF-ID chip?

Section 5 - The RF-ID chip is here and waiting for us

In the YouTube video called ‘Will They Put a CHIP in the Coronavirus Vaccine?’ posted on May 30, 2020; CBN News. The CEO, Jay Walker, of ‘Apijet, the company’, was interviewed by Lorie Johnson discussing the RF-ID chip where Apijet provides syringes for the drug companies and does the packaging. In the video, Walker states, “...each of these device that are injected have the capacity to also have a small chip.' Why would a syringe have the capacity to carry a small chip if we're not getting chipped? Something is very fishy and smells real bad. He says that "...it have the unique serial number for each dose" and then went on to explain that there's no personal or patient information and that it's a 'bar code' to provide information on 'where and when that dose has been used.' The information assists 'public officials' of areas with outbreaks, meaning that in that area a certain number of people will then have to be vaccinated to control the virus. He stated that the technology is optional and that the 'US government haven't even decided if we are going to use it.' But the fact is, it's there and it's an option. It's there for a reason. It's there because it's coming. Don't be surprise that people if some people that are begging for the vaccine are also the first in line to be chipped because they want to make sure they get each and every vaccine. If people are chipped what comes after that?

If someone wants the vaccine then that's their choice, but don't force everyone else to take it, because from my view once you take this vaccine that's being pushed on the public, it will become a reoccurring vaccination and it could be for life. The RF-ID chip with a barcode to provide information is there waiting for us. Where will the chip go? Where do they chip dogs? A friend of mine told me that the chip in his dog had moved to the dog's leg and that his dog was always licking that spot. He also told me that he had seen a show on TV where the chip had actually moved into the dog's spine and I believe he said the dog died. Why will it be any different for people?

If we all going to being chipped, what else would the RF-ID chips be used for? And we already know that a cashless society is coming and people are already being chipped in some corporations where by swiping a finger over a pad the door opens. It only makes sense that in the future our allowances (seeing that communism is heading this way) will be programmed in that same chip. Are we giving up our lives, our children's lives and future generations to Big Brother? Many may not be aware of it, but it sure looks like that's where we're heading.

Section 6 - We do not want a bias educational campaign

There was a recent article called, 'Only a Third of Employees at This Hospital Want the Vaccine' by Kaiser Health News, states that in the United States 'In late November, a hospital survey of 350 workers found 70% either did not want to take a COVID vaccine or did not want it as soon as it became available' (Ref S). There is that 70% again. This research paper earlier stated that 70% of the Indians are unwilling to take the vaccine. Is it a coincidence, or numbers just being made up? Obviously, many people are asking the same questions and are suspicious about the vaccines and motives behind having the whole world vaccinated. The articles later says: 'So, officials are not dismayed at the turnout so far, saying it shows their educational campaign is beginning to work.' No doubt, the campaign spoon-feeds people a little at a time, in the way now there are lockdowns and mandatory masks, sooner or later everyone will be chipped. An educational campaign is very important and should also include experts such as Dr. Ayyadurai, Dr. Buttar, Dr. Erickson and others so information can be shared and not censored by the mainstream media. But we know that's not going to happen, so it's up to everyone to get educated and start educating others. Knowledge empowers people to make better decisions.

Section 7 - Herd Immunity

What is herd immunity and how does it work? In a YouTube video (Ref Z) Dr. Erickson said, ‘Collateral damage is causing more damage than covid.’ At the time 27:40 of video he says: ‘Herd immunity is how every country will get rid of covid...He said, “Whether we have a vaccine or we don’t as per epidemiologist...they said we will reach heard immunity with or without a vaccine...we didn’t have a vaccine for sars, we don’t have a vaccine for the common cold, a lot of viruses we don’t have vaccines for and yet they move through our people every year and they burn themselves out through herd immunity...” Dr. Massihi says “You have to protect the old, you have to protect the frail population, you have to protect those that have severe immune deficiencies and those that are likely to not do well, and you have to do this in a stepwise fashion...” Erickson says, “...the virus is going to move through society whether you lock it down or not. The host of the video asked: Do you think that the people in your community would submit to a mandatory vaccination regime or covid vaccination? Dr. Erickson replied, “I don’t think so, I think it’s appropriate to give people the option for a vaccine like flu... the vaccination increases our peak towards herd immunity - it will happen regardless, it is helpful, there’s no question about that - I DON’T THINK WE SHOULD FORCE PEOPLE TO HAVE A VACCINE...Dr. Erickson explains that people are frustrated, hurting, “people are afraid, they are in lock down, they are not working” ... “frustrations I’m hearing from a lot of Americans who are not allowed to carry on with their lives right now...”

In a more recent video posted in October 24, 2020 (Ref z1) at 9 minutes into the video, Dr. Erickson said, there’s a 99.6 survival rate. He explained that when the virus hits, our ‘skin is a barrier’ and once the virus gets through ‘your BNT cells take over creating antibodies to defend - they know what to do, they produce millions of antibodies and they defend you everyday. At 13:30 minutes into the video he said, “The WHO this week (the video was posted on October 24, 2020) state the lockdowns are now an appropriate strategy anymore, they want to go beyond that. Moreover, the large negative effects on public health for doctor Nebaro (not sure of spelling) of the WHO said the lockdowns are causing doubling the world’s poverty and malnutrition by 2021, and its time to get rid of them.” If this is the case why aren’t countries supporting the WHO? He further said “thousands of physicians are coming together to set the records straight and prominent scientists from Oxford, Stanford and Harvard came together to give rational sustainable conclusions. He provides the following points:

- 1) We need to protect the vulnerable when this type of pandemic hits...we didn’t do that well.
- 2) Herd immunity is a fact of infectious diseases, it’s not a strategy.
- 3) There should not be suppression of scientific discussions; we should have free discussions on these topics.

They want to get low risk people get back to life as normal.

These physicians believe that the above measures will help provide a more sustainable approach to pandemics in the future.

Section 8 - Boost Immunity, Eat Healthy, and Stay Fit

Dr. Ayyadurai is an expert in immunology. Along with leafy vegetables, garlic, turmeric and other spices as discussed in his lectures, he says to take vitamin A, D, C and other vitamins, which are explained in his lectures. He discusses which vitamins and spices to take and their functions. He also has a 'Truth, Health and Freedom' movement that provides a lot of good information for our health. With such a movement he has no choice but to give us the facts, and he obviously is since many around the world are tuning into his lectures.

Section 9 - People running out to take the flu shots

I have spent many hours researching, cross-referencing and listening to lectures from experts in the medical and science fields. I have empowered myself with knowledge for moving forward. I know a few people that didn't take the flu shot before 2020, but suddenly decided to take the flu shot in 2020. And from what I heard there's a big increase in numbers taking the flu shot this winter season. In the city where I live there were big posters telling people to take the flu shot. Many people I know, along with myself, didn't get the flu shot and we're fine. I don't know anyone that got the flu this year, whether they took the flu shot or didn't. In the past many people were lining up at work begging for the flu shots, and all or many of them would still end up with the flu, and thus still transmitted the flu to others, when at times I didn't even catch the flu. What does that say about vaccines? There are doctors who say the flu shot does not work; some says it works only to a certain extent. Even with all of the fear being instilled in us and this year with digital billboards encouraging us to get the flu shots, I was not persuaded, and I still didn't take the vaccine for the flu, but instead I took the advice from these experts and I boosted my immune system. I still haven't caught the flu, at least not so far this year-end 2020 winter season, whereas last year at this time around December 23, 2020, I had caught something that was very bad which I never had before; my whole body was drained of energy, but I recovered. Since then I have learned how important it is to boost our immune system during the flu season and the covid pandemic. I also know some people that never take the flu shot, but this year ran out and took it. They are obviously filled with fear because they keep hearing about deaths and case numbers going up. Just a thought, of course if you take 100 tests today and then take 10,000 tests next day the cases will increase tremendously, instilling fear. And then the following week take 50,000 tests you will find much more cases people will start to panic. But if you take let's say 1,000 tests every day, then you will probably have the same number of cases everyday. Did the flu suddenly disappear? I don't know anyone that has the flu this year.

Section 10 - Questions asked concerning the deaths in long-term care facilities

A friend recently asked me, why are there still so many deaths in the long-term care facilities for the elderly, when the facilities have strict rules and the staff are wearing masks and have to abide by the rules such as wearing mask, washing hands, social distance etc... He asked, “does this mean that the masks are not working or does it mean that the staff is breaking the rules?” How could so many deaths continue if people in those facilities are following the rules, and visitors must also follow strict rules? How are they picking up covid? Those are valid questions my friend asked. The answer might be well someone went out for lunch and they came back and touch things and it spread or even when they washed their hands they touched their nose and it spread. If that’s the case wouldn’t it be the same for shopping at Costco, WalMart, Superstore etc...where people sanitize but they walked in with their bags, purses, wallets and touched them and then start touching things? People don’t sanitize their faces, belts, purses etc...when enter these shopping centers. And touch their foreheads and then touch everything? Did the cases spread? If yes, then why are some places open and some places closed.

Section 11 - Another question is why are there so many vaccines being created?

Not only am I asking why different places around the world are creating different vaccines. You would think that the researchers would get together to work hard and find one vaccine that will work for everyone, but that’s not the case. Pfizer came out with the mRNA vaccine (messenger RNA vaccine). There’s also the DNA vaccine. Will these different vaccines create different side effects and health problems for different populations around the world? Will some vaccines be used to sterilize some populations? These are all valid questions.

Section 12 - Vaccine companies cannot be sued

There are no long-term studies on these mRNA and DNA vaccines, since the vaccines have only been around for less than a year. And we know that there have been complaints surrounding these vaccines as mentioned earlier. But most people are recovering without a vaccine, so why take one of these vaccines if there’s all kinds of side effects or has a different effect on some?

From listening to a number of lectures, I learned that the companies that create these vaccines cannot be sued. That doesn’t sound right. Why are these companies exempted from being sued when other companies are held accountable for their products? If the vaccines are safe, then why should companies be concerned about being sued? The vaccines are safe according to the companies, so if the companies cannot live up to their words and the vaccines are harming others, causing deaths and other problems then the companies should be sued. Why are these companies protected and other companies are not? Something sure sounds fishy. This alone says that vaccines do cause problems and complications. If a vaccine company cannot be sued then they can do anything they want to people's body and bloodstream and the government has no power over them. There are other solutions than the vaccines. But then we are told that we cannot fly on an airplane, work, go to school etc...unless we're vaccinated. And that means the vaccines are being forced on all of humanity and there has to be a bigger agenda behind all of this. And with reoccurring vaccination for the rest of our lives, how will they keep track of all the vaccines and how to find us to force us to take all the shots? Does the RF-ID chip sound familiar? What if the chip moved into a person's spine? You cannot sue a vaccine company!

Conclusion: Mother Nature and our immune system

There are experts that say the vaccines do not work, while some concludes they only work to a certain degree. If that's the case then why not protect ourselves by eating healthy and boosting our immunity. As it is, many of us do not know anybody that has covid-19 with symptoms such as coughing, sneezing, nor die from covid-19, yet in the past we've heard of relatives and friends that have died of pneumonia and other illnesses. Also most that were detected with covid have recovered. But since covid is marked with all kinds of symptoms, I'm certain in time we're hear of people we know that died from covid even if the underlying conditions were from something else.

It's up to each person to research, cross-reference information and stand up and fight for humanity and our generations to come. Humans are not robots and were not made to be enslaved and control by a small group of people that runs the world from the top. Humans are supposed to live in harmony with nature. Like other animals, humans have immune systems to fight off infections like we always have done in the past. The vulnerable are high risk and therefore must be taken good care of. But I do not believe that Mother Nature will naturally create something that will destroy her children across the entire planet, but I do believe that man will do that and we have many proofs that man - that is a small group at the top of the chain that controls most of the world - has created many major man made disasters and destructions to the world and to humanity, in man's quest of controlling the world while polluting and or destroying Nature, the air, the earth, the ocean, and have modified all of our natural crops and they have kept all the natural crop and plat seeds for themselves.
