

Your goal is to organize all of the decisions that you've made so far into a cohesive package. At the end of this assignment, you should walk away with a plan that you can hand anyone and be fairly confident that they could follow your lead and create a funeral that would be a reflection of who you are.

There are lots of ways to do this, choose an avenue that works best for you. Here are a few ideas.

- If you're a visual person, online tools like Canva and Pinterest allow you to communicate your ideas with the help of pictures. The same thing can be accomplished with a scrapbook page if you're not a fan of computers. The example that I've used here was created in Canva.
- Use the worksheets that you've been given in this course, circling options that you find appealing, adding supplementary notes and suggestions.
- If the written word works best, write it all out. If possible, add pictures. As the saying goes, a picture is worth a thousand words.

We are on the home stretch. I can't wait for you to get started on your project. I'll see you when you're done and will put everything that you've learned together in a tidy, little package that will give both you and your loved ones peace of mind and a concrete plan.
