

What is Energy Therapy?

The Human Body utilizes energy to function properly. Environmental conditions, toxins and chronic illness may interfere with proper function. Energy therapy is designed to boost the Human Body and its energy systems to help relieve these issues.

What is ULF Electromagnetic Energy?

ULF stands for Ultra-Low Frequency. Simply put, it is a pulsing magnetic field, less than 30 Pulses per Second, each pulse less than a millisecond in duration. It is much like the energy from a simple refrigerator magnet that would rapidly pass by the body.

Isn't EMF Harmful?

Our environment is heavily polluted with noisy, high-frequency EMF, everything from noisy electricity, to fluorescent lights, radio, and cell phones. We are bombarded everyday, and studies indicate this reduces the available energy in our cells to unhealthy levels. ULF pulses, much like the natural pulses from the Earth, help restore our cellular energy in a safe and effective way.

The True Pulse A2000® is available for Home use. Ask your Medical Professional for details and programs.

PEMF Treatment should not be given to:

- Patients who are pregnant (untested).
- Patients with battery-operated, life-sustaining devices, such as pacemakers, auto-defibrillators, insulin pumps, etc.
- Patients with non-MRI compatible metallic implants, such as artificial joints, plates, screws, IUDs, etc. Consult the data sheet on your specific device before using PEMF.
- Magnetic fields may interact with Credit Cards, Hotel Keys, Remote Key fobs, jewelry and belt buckles, and any other metallic object. Removal of these is recommended.
- Ask for advice from your Medical Professional.

Pulsed
Harmonix

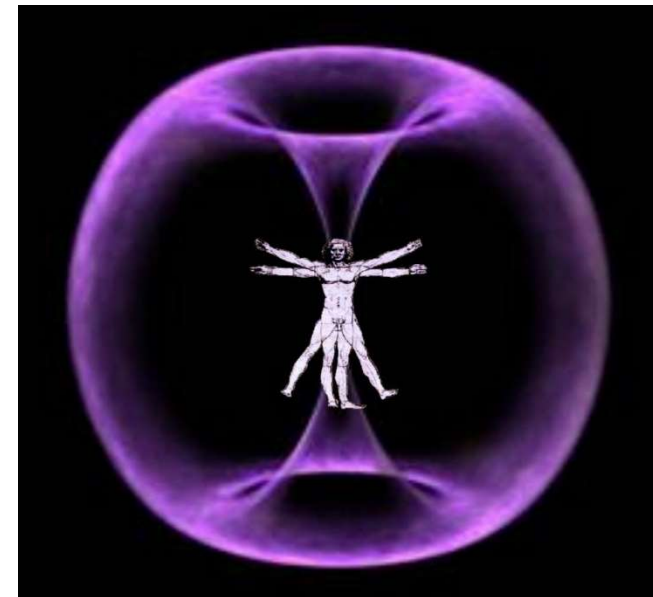

We use the True Pulse A2000® Energy Therapy in our Practice!

YOUR LOGO and CONTACT INFORMATION

© 2018, PIEMF LLC, All Rights reserved.
True Pulse A2000® and Logo are Registered Trademarks of PIEMF LLC.

Cellular Level Energetics through Pulsed Electromagnetic Field Therapy (PEMF)

What you should know about this safe, effective and painless therapy.

Brought to you by Pulsed Harmonix, the proud manufacturer of the True Pulse A2000®, and the Medical Professionals in this practice.

Why do I need PEMF?

It is widely believed that the Earth's permanent magnetic field is diminishing, thus reducing the impact of Schumann resonant frequencies, a natural ULF, that are believed to re-energize the human organism. In addition, we spend our time in more shielded buildings than ever before in our modern World. This is contributing to a reduction of the re-energizing effect, particularly during rest. It is commonly called Magnetic Deficiency Syndrome, or MDS. PEMF can be used to supplement the missing Magnetic Pulses that our bodies need to thrive.

What can I expect to feel?

The PEMF treatment from the True Pulse A2000® system is painless because it is designed to provide a Uni-polar Pulse to the body, much like the Earth, but more intense to overcome the MDS. Aside from the faint physical pulsing from the applicators, most patients feel a warm or tingling sensation, or waves of pleasant energy flowing through their bodies. Some patients find themselves relaxing or falling asleep during the treatment, which can be as short as 15 minutes. Your medical professional will adjust the intensity, duration and applicator according to the healing modes that need stimulation.

The System Consists of:

- Electronics unit where the True Pulse is generated. The Duration and Intensity are controlled here.
- Applicators to apply the PEMF to the patient's body. These can be a Mat, a Pouch or a Butterfly Mitt.
- Different applicators may be used on different areas of the body.

PEMF therapy has been shown in a vast number of scientific studies to help reduce pain and inflammation, to improve circulation, to stimulate healing in bones, ligaments and nerves, and to increase stem cell production.

Actual Results – seeing is believing!

Below are actual images from Dark Field Microscopy, a technique used to observe Blood Cells, before and after PEMF treatment with the True Pulse A2000® system. The Rouleau Effect is a clumping of Red Blood Cells, which impairs the delivery of nutrients and oxygen to the body. These cells are unable to circulate into small capillaries. This condition is due to energy loss in the Blood Cells. In a 15 minute session, this patient who was suffering from major hormonal imbalances and chronic fatigue, showed immediate resolution of the Rouleau Effect. This energy provided into the body helps stimulate healing that was otherwise impaired.

Dark field Microscopy images courtesy of Dr. Rob DeMartino, D.C.