Finhance International does not enter into any verbal agreements or accept verbal consent. Any verbal representation or statement made is not legally binding. The following additional conditions are to be met for any agreement to be legally binding and enforceable:

1. Execution Requirement:

Agreements must be initialed and signed in wet blue ink (initials must differ from signature, must include a full and complete color copy of the signatories' passport, a copy of the registration certificate of each party's company and bear the corporate stamp on the main signature page. All pages must be orderly numbered (in the original printout, not by hand), including an indication of the total number of pages. Only formal, fully executed agreements, signed and notarized by each party in its respective countries, are considered valid and binding.

2. Original Hard Copies Only:

No less, and no more than two original documents (hard copies) are to be fully executed; one original copy for Finhance International, and the other original copy for the counterpart. No photocopies shall be deemed as accepted and valid without prior notification and acceptance of the same by Finhance International. The agreement document must be printed in a single original run.

3. Courier Delivery:

Hard copies of the agreement, signed in two originals, must be exchanged between parties via courier (such as DHL or UPS), with proof of delivery.

4. Electronic Signatures:

Alternatively, agreements may be electronically signed but need to be exchanged via the Finhance International corporate email only, in order to be deemed as valid and binding. In this case, the agreement must first be signed by the other party and sent to an official corporate email finhanceinternational.com. It will only become binding when a representative of Finhance International signs and returns it via the same official email.
