Life Coaching Services

Basic Life Skills

Basic life skills are the necessary skills an individual needs to take on and manage day-to-day living. The client will learn to managing his/her life and the people in it by establishing and achieving personal goals. A Home Life & Community Assessment will be conducted to determine the client's strengths and weakness. This assessment will assist the client and the coach is developing goals with a time line.

Job Development Services

Identify Job Goal

Each of our customer will work with a Job Developer to determine a workable job goal prior to embarking on the job search process. Upon being referred to Family New Life for job placement service, a Job Developer will work with the customer to confirm that the job goal matches his/her preferences, interests, and marketable skills. In some cases a situational assessment might be set up to allow the customer to experience the job first-hand. Once the customer and the Job Developer agree on a job goal then the job search process will begin.

Job Readiness Training

Upon entering services with Family New Life, each customer participates in an Employment Preparation Assessment which includes evaluating a person's ability to fill out a job application, their resume skills, interviewing skills. From there the customer is trained on the skills necessary to be proficient with job applications, interviewing and resume development. The purpose of these activities is to create an effective job seeking strategy that allows for the maximum participation of the customer receiving services.
