

If Lebanon could speak

If Lebanon could speak, He would tell you that He was born at the dawn of humanity and have seen God's marvelous creations.

If Lebanon could speak, He would tell you how He gave the best wood from Cedar trees on his crown, for civilizations to build monuments and temples, how his rivers nourished lands way beyond his, and his shores welcomed everyone for thousands of years.

If Lebanon could speak, He would express to you his joy when Jesus turned water into wine, and what an amazing gesture from the Son of God to perform his first miracle in Lebanon!

If Lebanon could speak, He would tell you the story of his tolerance and fortitude, when patience was his only weapon, with foreign empires desecrating his sanctity, how not and God has claimed it his land.

If Lebanon could speak, He would tell you that He embraced with love so many dogmas and beliefs, and cried blood every time his children fought because of their belief differences.

If Lebanon could speak, He would tell you that all his sons love him, no matter what the media shows, He would tell you that for his love they all meet upon the level and part upon the square.

If Lebanon could speak, you would want him to tell his story again to generations thousands of years to come, and we will all be gone and only him will be there!
