

Start your career in accountancy

Every business, from start-ups to global brands, needs accountants to be successful.

Why AAT?

AAT is the world's leading professional body for accounting technicians.

By studying AAT you'll have the chance to develop a broad range of practical accountancy skills and expertise, plus increased skills in communication, ethics and business skills that will make you attractive to employers.

AAT qualifications are internationally recognised by both employers and universities.

What's in it for you

- ✓ Job security: your skills will be in demand from employers across all industries.
- ✓ Qualify quickly: flexible study methods mean you can progress through the qualifications quickly.
- ✓ Fast track to chartered accountancy: gain exemptions with ACCA, CIMA and many more.
- ✓ Flexible study: study full-time or part-time, in college, by distance learning or using a blend of both.
- ✓ Increase your earning potential: as you progress to the Level 4 AAT qualification, your earning potential will increase.

Skills that count

AAT's qualifications are highly established, industry recognised and valued by employers worldwide.

Gain the financial skills that employers need

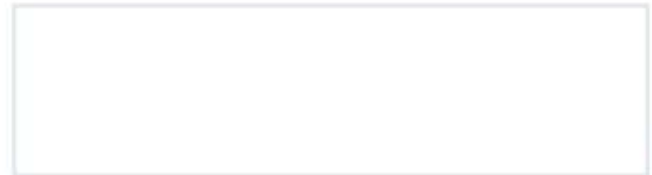

Our accounting and bookkeeping qualifications cover four different levels covering everything from introductions to bookkeeping to being able to create management accounts, so there is a qualification for you regardless of your experience.

AAT qualifications will suit you if:

- you're already working in finance and would like formal recognition of your skills
- you want to acquire new skills to help a career change
- you're a school leaver and looking for an introduction to accounting and finance.

You next steps

Find out more about AAT at aat.org.uk/start or contact your local training provider to find out how our qualifications can support you.

Studying AAT qualifications has helped me to have a better understanding of bookkeeping and accounting practices. I'm able to apply this knowledge in my workplace, and my efficiency has improved.

Hannah Doan AAT student

Give your business a competitive edge

Strong accounting and finance skills are vital for the growth and success of an organisation.

AAT is the world's leading professional body for accounting technicians. We offer practical, cost-effective finance training to unlock the potential of your employees and attract the best and brightest staff to your business.

The AAT Employer Scheme is a badge of excellence, recognising employers who support their finance staff with AAT training and membership.

Key benefits of the AAT Employer Scheme:

- cost-effective and flexible training
- use of the AAT Employer Scheme logo to demonstrate your commitment to staff CPD
- attracting the best staff with a globally recognised brand
- access to AAT support and resources.

The more skills your employees have, the more efficient your business becomes.

124,000

professional members and students

- ✓ Members in over 105 countries
- ✓ 800+ employers in our employer scheme
- ✓ Member of IFAC

Get the most out of your finance team

Businesses which have the support of a skilled finance team have greater opportunities for profitability and growth, and are more likely to stay ahead of their competitors.

From accounts payable and receivable to payroll, cash flow, taxes, and everything in between, the overall health of your business is tied closely to the knowledge and skills of your employees.

Increase productivity, maximise resources and save on recruitment costs by equipping your staff with practical accounting skills.

AAT qualifications

Our accounting and bookkeeping qualifications cover four different levels, so you can train your staff to the level that you need for your business.

Our training options are designed to fit around work meaning your staff can get qualified without disruption to the day to day running of your business.

Find out more

Find out more about AAT, our qualifications and how our employer scheme can benefit you and your business by contacting international@aat.org.uk

AAT qualifications are perfect for training our staff, due to the broad understanding of accounting principles it instils, and because of the value and recognition it has in the marketplace.

Joan Egenes KMPG 360
Qualifications Training, KPMG