Crystal Grid Book by Lourdes and Rachel

Happy to announce that we have been working on this e-book for a year and can now offer it to everyone!

This e-book demonstrates how to create different types of love grids. Love takes many forms, and the type of loving energy you want to send out in the work place can differ from person to person, or even situation to situation. In an effort to cover every possible scenario we teach how to make grids for self-love, attracting romance, deepening a romantic relationship, getting over heartbreak, sending good vibes to friends, and even giving comfort to those who are grieving.

Since this is intended to teach you how to create grids, we show the step-by-step process that went into each grid. A side benefit of this process is that all of the photos within are infused with Reiki! Even if you don't want to create grids yourself, you can still enjoy the Reiki energy and crystal energy in each stand alone photo.

Birth Trauma Reiki

Birth Trauma is carried from birth throughout your life, and can hamper you from moving forward. There are several things that are responsible for birth trauma. Taking on human form, and going through the birthing process can be traumatic to some souls. Babies can take on the emotions of those in the operating room, as well as those of their parents (which aren't always positive). Others feel emotions from the mother and absorb that emotional energy, including any fears connected to the pregnancy. This can be very challenging for a sensitive baby. Birth Trauma Reiki will have the intention of releasing vibrations picked up as babies in utero state and during birth.

The goal of this session is to release this trauma so that you feel lighter, uninhibited by other's feelings (accessed at birth), and more in touch with yourself.
