Instructions

Electronic service or eService by the Commission, means you will be served important and official documents through a valid email address you provided to the Commission when establishing your eFiling account. If you elected to accept eService, you will not receive hard copy service by mail. Any change, disconnection or revision of your email address must be reported to the Commission, by updating your eFiling account. It is your responsibility to keep your contact information current with the Commission. Failure to do so will result in unsuccessful eService that may jeopardize your legal rights.

For New Filings

1. Enter the representing information for the case.
2. Select a new case Document Type.
3. Upload the filing document (must be in PDF format).
4. Upload any attachments (must be in PDF format).

For Existing Filings

1. Enter the docket number.
2. Upload any attachments (must be in PDF format).

NOTE: If you discover an error in a document you have efiled, you may efile a corrected version WITH A COVER LETTER informing the staff of the Secretary's Bureau that you wish the previous filing rejected – and the reason for the request. The Secretary's Bureau staff will then remove the erroneous eFiling. As you know, efilings are generated to the Commission's website in the Daily Actions and under the docket number by which you efile. The request for a rejection is also generated in the audit history of the Commission's internal case management system which is used by the Office of Administrative Law Judge and staff of the Commission when reviewing a case. To ensure that those reviewing a specific case, either internally in the Commission or the public on the website, understand that an eFiling was rejected due to a technical error and is being substituted with a corrected version of the eFiling will promote procedural transparency and accuracy. When re-filing, please take steps to ensure your corrective eFiling meets any regulatory deadlines such as answers, exceptions and protest periods.

For case type choose "Existing"
enter the docket number and case description.
