

Join Team Gjonaj

NYC Councilman Mark Gjonaj's office is seeking dedicated, passionate interns to join our team and gain valuable experience in local government, public policy, advocacy, and community affairs. When you join our team, you'll gain direct experience in helping constituents, organizing and participating in events, drafting policy papers, as well as the opportunity to interact with players at all levels of government. We are looking for interns who are professional, committed to improving the lives of others, and supportive of our greater mission of building and maintaining a District and City that we are proud to call our home.

Intern Positions:

Constituent and Community Affairs:

Participate in outreach, help refer and assist constituents in navigating government services and help engage community at events and services.

Legislative and Budget:

Assist at the Legislative Office with research policy and budget initiatives.

Qualifications:

- Positions open to college students of all levels of education
- Well organized and detail oriented
- Strong written and oral communication skills
- Superb customer service skills, including the ability to interact with a diverse population and a variety of community groups
- Spanish skills are helpful

We are currently accepting applications for Fall Internships. To apply, please send a current resume, cover letter specifying the position you would like to apply for and a writing sample to Vera Mjeku, Deputy Chief of Staff at VMjeku@council.nyc.gov.
