ASSISTANT DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Having just celebrated Thanksgiving and going into the Christmas season, our thoughts turn to family and friends. We reflect on the blessings that we have received and are grateful for the opportunity to spread holiday cheer.

We have served at the Humanitarian Center since it was organized in March of 2010. Through the years, our service has blessed us in many ways.

We have seen each department make inspiring changes and come up with clever and beautiful items. The quality of the things that are produced gets better with each passing year because of the creativity of our department leaders and volunteers.

It has been a blessing to be able to offer the things that are produced to those who can use them. We hope it blesses their lives and inspires them to pay it forward as their circumstance's allow.

It is a pleasure to work alongside the wonderful volunteers who serve at the center. They inspire us and enrich our lives.

Joy comes to us in ordinary moments. We risk missing out on joy
when we get too busy chasing down the extraordinary.

~Brene Brown

Maybe Christmas, The

come from a store. Maybe Christmas, perhaps, means a little bit more.
