

~Mission Statement:

To ensure we all have a passion for giving back to society, the love for our families, and open to our bearded brothers, and their families being in our lives.

~Motto: "Facta Non Verba"

Which means Deeds Not Words.

For it is with little effort that someone can tell you they're going to do something, but their works will surely prove it.

At BWC, we expect nothing less than your best; however, that doesn't mean you have to go all out, all the time. Everyone has a life. We fully believe in giving back to others, having a great relationship with fellow bearded men, and their families, actually having room & time for families, and getting together to fellowship. No, we're not, nor are we trying to be a gang/click/club. Just a group of good hearted, bearded men, women, & families of them who believe in being like a family, and giving back to others.
