Linda Burrell is originally from Louisiana; she currently resides in Dallas Texas. She is a 20 year plus veteran experienced in real estate investing for Texas Metroplex Realty Group, LLC. Today she brings her exceptional business practices and customer service to real estate helping clients and partners navigate the multifamily and housing market with her expertise.

Linda's consistent perseverance, tenacity, negotiation and communication skills have always been key in building strong relationships, as well as her reputation among diverse customers, management and industry partners. Linda is a focused listener, an able advisor and a fierce yet fair advocate, and strives to create a positive experience for both sides in any real estate transaction. Her primary goal is to act with integrity, provide excellent customer service and always exceed her clients' expectations.

Linda loves being involved in the community and serving others, as well as being a loving and loyal friend, daughter, daughter in law, mother, grandmother, and wife. Her favorite hobbies are cooking and spending quality time with her family.

Linda holds a associate's degree in business management from Florida Metropolitan University. She has and is currently participating in multiple industry education courses to improve her knowledge and skills to best serve her clients. She enjoys experiencing and learning from every real estate interaction. She raises the customer service bar by utilizing innovative and creative ideas to support her client's real estate needs.

Linda enjoys working with people and helping those with a need. She says the joy one brings to the life of another through love and faith is amazing and a true blessing from God. She believes there are more blessings in giving than receiving and doors will always open no matter how the journey of life leads you.
