Hopkins Nursing Consultants, LL

Our nurses have years of experience working within the healthcare system. We are already familiar with various documentation platforms. Due to our professional duty, we are well educated about the standards of care and have keen insight in identifying breaches in care, causation and negligence

How can hiring a nurse for your practice improve your success rate for winning your cases?

Our team of nurse experts can streamline your time !
Our nurse will review your clients' medical records and confirm the actual facts and witnesses in the case. Our expert will then prioritize, organize and analyze the data collected from your client and witnesses. The nurse expert will highlight relevant data, point out missing data and review the strengths and weaknesses in the case with your legal team.

Independent Legal Nurse Consulting Services

What other benefits will I get if I hire or contract the services of a legal nurse consultant?

Nurses are trained to interview and perform an assessment on each client. We are specifically trained to be extremely great communicators. Nurses also understand and uphold confidentiality laws. Your clients will feel heard and attended to as their case is being worked on to prepare for litigation. Our nurse will conduct any medical literature research needed for the case assigned and assist your firm in finding the appropriate medical expert for your case. All of this translates into our client attorneys being more prepared to win. And your firms' satisfied clients will lead to word-of-mouth referrals and growth for your practice. Combining your expertise with the wealth of medical knowledge of a legal nurse constitutes a winning strategy.
