

The SpeakEasy: 2nd Session “Being Yourself in a Society That Tells You Not To”

Date: Saturday April 13, 2019 3:30-8pm

Place: Maggy’s Lounge 609 Washington St. Quincy, MA 02169

The SpeakEasy is Litty Ligo LLC’s premiere event, which attracted 30 people the first go around. Our goal is to provoke conversations about societal norms and stigmas. Previously, our panel consisted of 3 speakers and founder Sharon M. King as the moderator. We discussed life and vitiligo, an autoimmune disorder that manifests in white patches on the skin. It was very informational and interactive. Nothing but amazing feedback from the ambiance to the hor d’oeuvres!

The panel for our second session will have 5 speakers with Sharon acting as the moderator and host.

The panel consists of:

Dominic Carter- Actor Theater/Film

Archie B. Culture- Creativity Consultant

Nyell Jeudy- Certified Meditation Teacher

Laurie Nicolas- Corporate Executive Coach/Entrepreneur

Jerrica Raspberry- LCSW/Psychotherapist

This event is coupled with an art show, live painting and auction by artist Isak Ferreira. He is a self-taught Massachusetts native and an up-and-coming visual genius!

We will be launching the first of many products starting with our tee shirts. We are having a raffle and random giveaways so if you have a product or service, we would love to include you! This is an opportunity to showcase your products and increase visibility for your business as we will have a blended crowd, photographer and a videographer.

“The SpeakEasy was born about a year after Litty Ligo was founded. I have been living with vitiligo since I was 12 years old. Vitiligo is an auto-immune disorder that manifests in white patches about the skin. Outside of a handful of my friends and family, I never really discussed my skin. I started making videos and content for people living with vitiligo and people looking for basic information. My friends and family were so happy I was able to express myself and teach them about what living with this condition can be like! I decided to take it a step further and host a panel style event coupled with an art show. Everyone LOVED it. They loved the information, the art, the food and the atmosphere! We are expecting a bigger turn out for this and future events to come!” -Sharon M. King, founder of Litty Ligo LLC.

We are coming along but we still need your support! Your generous contribution will help us extend our message that skin does not define who you are and shouldn’t dictate how you choose to live your life! We strive to empower, educate and raise awareness with care and accurate information by hosting these types of events, creating content and apparel and raising money for people with vitiligo to experience community and self esteem building events around the country! 80% of proceeds from this event will provide admission for 1st timers to the World Vitiligo Day Conference; an annual gathering of people living with vitiligo and loved ones.
