Executive Directors Share

Dear Prospective EDS Conference Sponsor,

Torah Educators Network (TEN) brings together teachers and administrators from yeshivas and day schools from coast to coast to share best practices and innovative solutions to our common challenges. As part of TEN, the EDS (Executive Directors Share) connects yeshiva day school Executive Directors, CFOs, COOs, Directors of Facilities, Operations, Development, Technology and other non-educational leaders together at conferences to discuss the challenges that each school faces.

On December 3rd-5th, 2023 (Sun-Tues), the sixth EDS National Conference will take place at HILTON ST. PETERSBURG CARILLON PARK, St. Petersburg, FL. Executive Directors volunteer to facilitate each session, and prepare surveys which create a picture of how the challenge is being tackled in yeshivas nationwide. Over 65 schools have participated in the past conferences and this year we anticipate over 90 schools in attendance.

Our most important takeaways from conferences are often from the conversations we had with colleagues between sessions. The sessions at EDS Conferences are structured as a discussion between colleagues at similar schools. We also attract top professionals in these specialized areas from across the independent school world to lecture and collaborate with our participants.

The EDS National Conference is a great opportunity for sponsors to be part of a meaningful event where educational and executive leaders come together and share innovative solutions. Sponsors of the conference have the unique opportunity to make a presentation and promote the valuable services they can offer to our schools.

Below please find our list of sponsorship packages and exposure benefits offered at various giving levels. We hope you will join the growing list of sponsors and help us make a lasting impact on the future of our yeshiva day schools.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Dr. Jeffrey Rothman
