Hi, I'm Michel Ann, owner of The Sugar Maple Market.

We are a faith-based, family-run home business created to support small businesses, churches, ministries, and families with the everyday tools they need to show up professionally, serve well, and grow with confidence.

What started as a small creative business has grown into a place where we can help with both printed products and practical business support. Whether you need shirts, signs, banners, business cards, digital print-ready files, social media graphics, virtual assistance, website starter support, or help getting the basics of your new business or ministry in place, we are here to help make the process feel simple and manageable.

The Sugar Maple Market is for the small business owner who has big ideas but not enough hours in the day. It is for the church or ministry that needs help creating materials for an event, outreach, or weekly communication. It is for the family-run dream, the new business startup, the local service provider, and the person who knows they need to look more polished but does not know where to begin. We are here to help you take the next right step.

Who We Serve

Our heart is to come alongside people who are building something meaningful.

We serve small businesses, churches, ministries, entrepreneurs, family-run businesses, local service providers, real estate professionals, community groups, and individuals who need creative or practical support. That may look like preparing for a church event, launching a ministry, opening a small business, refreshing an existing brand, creating social media graphics, ordering shirts for a team, printing banners for an event, or finally getting a website started. Not everyone has the time, confidence, or budget to hire a large agency. That is where we come in. We try to make the process approachable, personal, and practical. You do not have to have it all figured out before reaching out. Sometimes you just need someone to help you sort through the ideas, make a plan, and start with what matters most.

What We Offer

At The Sugar Maple Market, we offer creative products and practical support designed to help you look organized, professional, and prepared.

- Custom Shirts & Apparel
- Signs, Banners & Printed Materials
- Business Cards & Basic Branding Pieces

You do not have to do it all alone.
