

INSTRUCTIONAL COACHING

Maximizing Capacity to Increase Efficacy & Achievement for All

Looking for a researched-based approach to building instructional capacity, self-directed learning, and a focus on authentic instructional coaching?

A Variety of Sessions Options, Formats, & Approaches Are Offered to Best Meet Your Unique Needs & Outcomes

Most of us can point to someone who helped shape who we are—a trusted guide who listened, offered wise counsel, and inspired us to grow. The Coaching Institute is grounded in that same powerful relationship.

The learning sessions center on the transformative role of instructional coaches and mentors in developing educators at every stage of their careers. Participants build the essential skills to serve as effective mentors, coaches, and thought partners, including how to skillfully navigate the complexities of adult learning. Equipped with these tools, they empower fellow educators, strengthen organizational capacity, and drive meaningful progress toward individual and collective goals through coaching, consulting, and collaboration.

Topics May Include, Not Limited To:

- Coaching Skills, Dispositions & Capabilities
- Coaching Cycles
- Balancing Support & Accountability
- Formative Feedback for Reciprocal Growth
- Evidence-Based Coaching Conversations
