Cover of the Quarter: 5 centavos surcharge on 1887 postal card

When the post card rate was raised to 5 centavos a 5 centavos surcharge was authorized in December 1902 and the existing stock of 1890 issue cards (H&G 13 and 14) was gathered, Reply cards were split in half as the surcharges were applied to cards one at a time. Mixed in with the cards receiving the surcharge was this reply half from the 1887 issue (H&G 11). While there likely was a message half, this is the only recorded example.

Panama's American Bank Note Company Portrait Stamps: The 2 Centésimos de Balboa Cordoba Stamp

by David Zemer

This article will discuss the development, printing, and usage of the 2-centesimos Cordoba stamp produced by the American Bank Note Company (ABNCo).

Background

Panama was obligated by the Taft Treaty of 1904 to supply postage stamps to the Canal Zone from 1904 to 1924. In return Panama received 40% of the face value of the stamps. In 1907, the foreign post card rate for both the Panama and Canal Zone postal systems was 2 centésimos/cents (1 centésimo equaled one cent), so there was a need for the 2-cent stamp for post cards or as a makeup rate. The foreign rate in Panama for printed matter or "impresos" was also 2 cents.

The 1907 rate for 1st class domestic mail within Panama was 2 ½ cents whereas the Canal Zone rate was 2 cents. Therefore, it appears that this 2-cent stamp, Scott Number 198, was also ordered to supply the Canal Zone with a 1st class domestic stamp. The procedure at that time was that Panama stamps would be supplied to the Canal Zone where they would be overprinted "CANAL ZONE."

The demand for a 2-cent post card stamp for Panama was small as most of the foreign-addressed post cards mailed from the Isthmus were from the Canal Zone. This stamp was only printed five times for Panama over 11 years and it appears that Panama carried a surplus of them as some were sold to the Canal Zone to be overprinted "CANAL ZONE" or were used as tax and telegraph stamps by Panama.

1908 – First Order F1518

July 18, 1907. Panama ordered 1,000,000 2-cent stamps with the portrait of Cordoba from the ABNCo.

This Department wishes to have your house make the following shipment of Postage Stamps which must be printed in accordance with the specimens sent herewith, and the instructions given below:

1,000,000 stamps of dos centesimos de Balboa (2 centesimos) with the portrait of Fernandez de Cordoba, similar to the emission made by the Hamilton Bank Note Co., specimen of which is enclosed.

Panama asked the HBNCo to supply the ABNCo with the portrait of Cordoba which Panama had sent them and which they had used as the example to engrave the vignette. As noted in the previous article on the 1-cent Balboa stamp in COPACARTA, September 2018, the HBNCo falsely said that they had destroyed the photograph of Cordoba. This figure later became part of the Ward collection and now resides in the National Postal Museum in Washington, D.C. Fig. 1.

Fig. 1: HBN Co sketch of Cordoba

The ABNCo had to wait until 1908, when Panama sent a photograph of a different sketch of Cordoba, to produce this stamp. Fig. 2.

Fig. 2: ABN Co sketch of Cordoba

The original die for the frame was number C – 816 and changed to 26315 in 1924. Fig 4. A cropped copy of a die proof on thin paper in the final color is shown in Fig. 5.

Fig. 3 – Photograph of essay. Vignette is a reduced photograph; frame is roughly drawn

A stamp-sized essay was made with a reduced photograph of Cordoba's head inserted into a roughly drawn frame. Unfortunately, the original has never surfaced and only a black and white photograph is recorded. Fig 3. The photograph was then reduced and engraved, with the vignette die catalogue as SPECIAL C-312. In 1924 it was renumbered V 42593. Fig. 3a

July 16, 1908. In a letter to Panama the ABNCo wrote "... we have ready for the steamer of next week, all the postage stamps ordered last year, which will amount to --- $ 3,150, U.S. Gold."

August 12, 1908. The ABNCo sent Panama a Bill of Lading for five boxes which included 1,000,000 2-cent stamps. They were "... shipped per SS Esperansa hence this day for Colon ... completing the order of 18th July 1907."

April 12, 1909. The Canal Zone took delivery of 500,000 2-cent Cordoba stamps and overprinted them "CANAL ZONE." Canal Zone First Day of Issue was May 11, 1909.

REF 1

May 22, 1909. Panama issued Resolution # 20 authorizing the use of this stamp but there is no record of a First Day of Issue. REF 2. The Earliest Recorded Usage on cover is August 28, 1909. Fig 9.

1913 – Second Order F3843

September 9, 1912. The second ABNCo printing for Panama used "new" plates previously created by an order on this date for the Canal Zone. These sheets can be identified by the order number, F-3397, engraved in the upper left selvage. In addition two reversed (mirror-image) "2"s were engraved in the upper right-hand-side of the selvage. A black reversed “2” came from the vignette plate and red reversed “2” the frame.

As with the previous order, the printing format was 10 x 10 stamps on one sheet.

October 30, 1912. The Foreign Sales department of the ABNCo received a memo from its Engraving Department that both of the plates from the first order had been cancelled.

July 16, 1913. Francisco Filós of the Secretaria Gobierno y justicia seccion tercera sent the ABNCo Order Number 22 for:

1,000,000 ½ cent stamps

1,000,000 1 cent stamps

500,000 2 cent stamps

July 22, 1913. Panama sent a follow up letter asking that these stamps be sent “... as quickly as possible as our supply is very low...” and that their purchasing agent Stark & Co. would pay for them.

August 5, 1913. The ABNCo confirmed the order, F3843, noting that they would rush it. The specimen stamps have AUG 4, 1913 hand-stamped in the selvage which would be the date this order was placed into the order book. Fig 10

September 11, 1913. The ABNCo supplied Stark & Co. 1,000,000 ½ cent stamps to be shipped on the SS Tivives on September 13.

September 24. ABNCo notified Panama that the 1-cent and 2-cent stamps would be shipped on the SS Carrillo on September 27th. The total charge to Panama for these two stamps was $915.

A census started 30 years ago and logged into my database indicates that Panama quit issuing the first printing of this stamp around August 1913. The Earliest Recorded Usage from the second printing is dated December 5, 1913 but not shown here.

1914 – Reduction in Panama’s 1st Class Mail Rates from 2½ c to 2c

January 15, 1914. Panama reduced its domestic postage rate for a 1st class letter weighing up to 20 grams from 2½ cents to 2 cents. There might have been some misunderstanding on the start date for this new reduced rate as there is a cover from the British Consulate to J.H. Helmer, the Canal Zone Claims Officer, dated January 7, 1914 with a single 2-cent Cordoba stamp but no postage due notice. The earliest reported cover, not shown, using this stamp after the new rates came into force was January 22, 1914 from the Italian Consulate to J.H. Helmer.

LEY 24 DE 1915

Panama passed a law in 1915, no. 24, enabling it to use tax stamps on a number of items. However, Panama had not received new revenue stamps from the ABNCo when the law went into effect. In order not to lose revenue, Panama overprinted both HBNCo and ABNCo postage stamps, including the 2-cent ABNCo Cordoba stamp. They were hand-stamped “LEY 24 DE 1915.” in purple and struck vertically. REF. 3, Fig. 11. There are no records on how many stamps of each denomination were overprinted.

1916 Third Order – F4853 – Booklets

These booklet stamps have been covered in earlier articles but new information, the ABNCo correspondence, has since become available and a short synopsis from it is given here. REF 4.5.6.7.

January 17, 1916. Juan Ehrman, the ABNCo agent in Panama, wrote the ABNCo that the Canal Zone was ordering 1-cent and 2-cent booklet stamps, and he was trying to get the Panama government to order similar booklets for Panama.

January 21, 1916. Panama sent the ABNCo Pedido (Order) No. 89 for 1-cent and 2-cent booklet panes for the Canal Zone and 1-, 2-, and 5-cent booklets for Panama. On February 5, the ABNCo Foreign Sales Department placed internal orders, F4853 for the 1-cent and 2-cent booklets and F4854 for the 5-cent booklet.

January 24, 1916. An order for 10,000 2-cent Panama booklets was placed. Each 2-cent booklet had 4 panes of 6 stamps each for a total of 240,000 stamps.

February 5, 1916. The ABNCo Foreign Sales Department placed an internal order for both Canal Zone and Panama booklets. The total price to Panama for all of the booklets was $2457.66.

February 23, 1916. This date is the first time F4853 is mentioned typed in a letter.

No Panama 2-cent booklet specimen sheets were sold at the 1990 Christie’s auction but there were a large number of Canal Zone booklet sheets. They all used the same engraved plates with the foreign order number F-4853, black from the vignette plate and red from the frame plate, engraved in the

CANAL ZONE overprint they are identical to the Panama printing.

Two complete booklets of the 2-cent Panama stamps were in the Christie's sale, each hand-stamped "SPECIMEN" and the foreign order F4853 in red. Fig 13

April 29, 1916. The ABNCo sent Panama an invoice for the Canal Zone and Panama booklets, $2457.66 + $ 74.93 for boxes, Insurance, freight and Consul Fee.

May 1, 1916. There is a Bill of Lading for shipment on the SS Carrillo, May 3, of seven boxes containing the booklet stamps.

These Panama booklet stamps are extremely scarce! Although 240,000 2-cent booklet stamps were printed, only four covers with them are known, about a dozen mint panes are recorded, and I have only seen a few stamps off-cover per decade over the past 30 years. The Earliest Recorded Usage is September 27, 1916, Fig. 14, and the last two covers were from the small town of Almirante, not far from Bocas del Toro, cancelled in 1926.

With the acquisition of the ABNCo correspondence, a wealth of information concerning Canal Zone and Panama booklet stamps is now available and it is hoped that one day a complete study will be finalized.

1918 Fourth Order – F5635

May 20, 1918. With Order 845-D, Panama asked the ABNCo to print 1,000,000 1-cent Balboa stamps, 1,000,000 2-cent Cordoba stamps, and 50,000 each of the 12-, 15-, and 24-cent stamps previously printed for the Canal Zone, but this time without the CANAL ZONE overprint. Panama asked that the 1- and 2-cent printing be rushed as their supplies were nearly exhausted. June 8, 1918. Order F5635 was entered into ABNCo books.

July 31, 1918. ABNCo sent Panama an invoice for $700 US gold for the printing of the 2-cent stamps. This did not include insurance, shipping, etc.

August 6, 1918. The stamps were shipped on the SS Almirante.

This printing used a set of plates originally made to fulfil an order, F-4068, dated January 26, 1914, for the Canal Zone. Until order F-4068 these stamps were printed 10 x 10 per sheet. Order F4068 created a double-sized plate of two panes per sheet, each of 10 x 10 stamps for a total of 200 stamps per sheet. Note the reversed red and black “3”s in the selvage on the upper right-hand corner of the specimen stamps indicating that this printing is from the 3rd plate for both the frame and vignette. Fig 15.

The image shown is from the right-hand

Righthand pane of a sheet of 200 stamps.
Note reversed “3”s. Same plates as Canal
Zone order F4068.

No covers are recorded in my database of close to 250 covers with this 2-cent stamp between March 1918 and April 27, 1919, indicating a shortage of 2-cent Cordoba
stamps for almost a year. Fig 16

December 17, 1919. There is some documented evidence that these postage stamps could have been used as tax stamps.
Juan Ehrman, the ABNCo representative in Panama, wrote the order of tax stamps as Panama had run out. More importantly for this narrative he stated that Panama had already used about 162,500 old postage stamps as tax stamps.

1920 Fifth Order – F6256

1919. First cover
recorded with a 2-cent
Cordoba stamp since March 1918; presumably from the 4th printing. Note color change due to iron oxidation in red ink.

January 26, 1920. The ABNCo entered orders F6256, 2-cent, and F6257, 5-cent, stamps into their books. The correspondence for these orders is missing but we know from the records at the American Numismatic Association Museum that 1,500,000 stamps were ordered by Panama at the end of January and it is assumed from past orders that 1,000,000 were of the 2-cent Cordoba and 500,000 of the 5-cent Arosemena stamp.

The same plates of 200 stamps that printed the 1918 issue were used. The order date and order number are hand-stamped on the specimen stamps from the left hand pane shown in Fig 17.

Besides the stamps overprinted LEY 24 DE 1915, Panama ran short of tax and telegraph stamps more than once and often used postage stamps to show that taxes and fees were paid.

There are 2-cent Cordoba stamps overprinted TELEGRAFOS. Fig 18 The overprint is identical to those on the HBNCo stamps, overprinted in 1917 but the issue date is not clear. Hiscocks (REF 9) and Yvert give a date of 1934 which was used by Ross and Brid, but no dated stamps or legal decrees have been uncovered. REF 10. Copies of this stamp with a cancellation would be greatly appreciated by the author.

There might be a righthand pane of 100 specimen stamps from this F6256 printing and any information on its present location would be welcomed. A scan of the top two rows would be greatly appreciated.

August 19, 1920. A batch of 200,000 2-cent Cordoba stamps were sent to the Canal Zone where they were overprinted “CANAL ZONE” (CZ sc. 47). REF 8. The five printings are summarized in Table 1.

Non-postal Usage

Postage stamps were also pressed into service to show that a tax had been paid. Only three examples with this stamp still on the document have been recorded. REF 11.

Fig. 19

Dr. James Helme who also left the panes intact. There are three panes, all from the 4th or 5th printing and so far as I know they have never appeared in an article or have been exhibited in public. Both the left pane and right pane exist in their entirety, no doubt

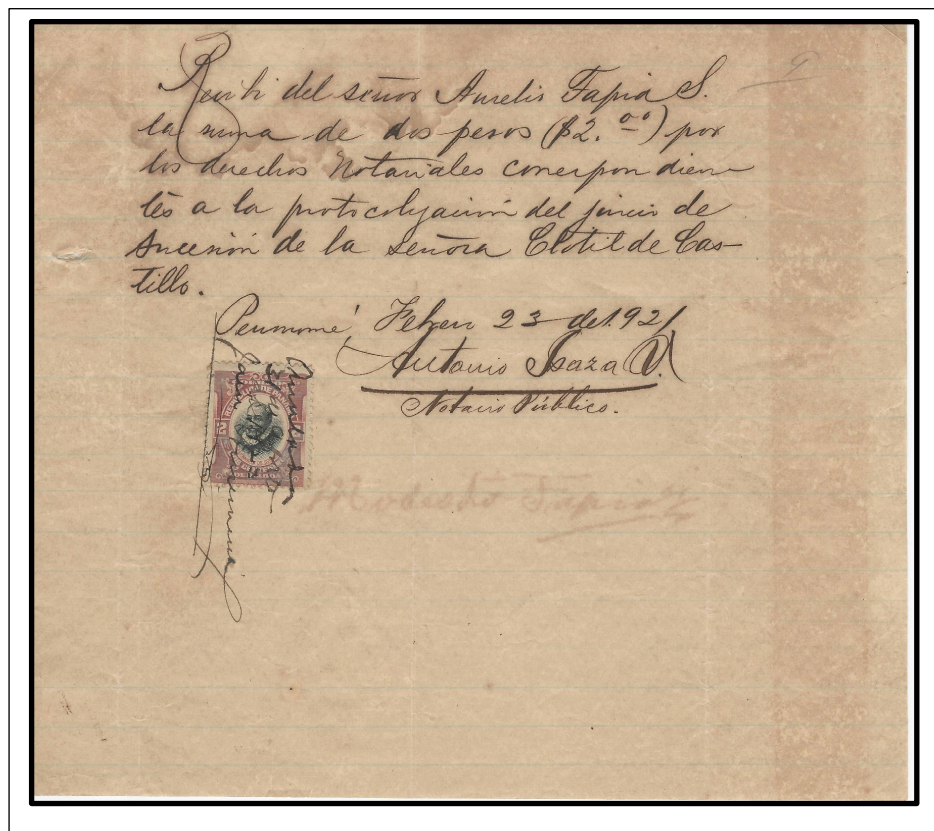

Figure 19 – February 23, 1921, Penonomé. The 2-cent stamp paid the stamp tax on a receipt for notary services. Note iron oxidation in the red ink of the frame.

Print and Manufacturing Errors

No center inverted stamps have been recorded on this Panama stamp, but they have been recorded on a Canal Zone printing, Scott 39e, and are from the 3rd set of plates, F-4068.

Manufacturing errors that got through the ABNCo quality control system are extremely scarce and it is fortunate that several spectacular perforation errors were saved as full panes by Joseph P. Coveleski and first recorded in his estate auction on March 14, 1931. Ref 12. The next recorded owner was because of these errors. These are the only known complete Panama panes recorded of this stamp, but at least one other misperforated pane was created as Coveleski's Lot 430 described the "... same stamp (sc. 198), 24 copies, 11 used. Very fine & Scarce lot consisting chiefly of freak perforations and rare cancellations."

A single example appeared on eBay in 2010. It is used but without a date. Others might still exist, and I would appreciate scans of any, especially those with a legible cancellation.

Lot 429 has the only imperforate stamp of this issue recorded. It is stamp number 10 in a full right-hand pane of 100 stamps. The pane has been scanned and cropped to show the top right block of 10 stamps and the horizontal imperforation. Fig 23.

Last but not least there is a puzzle concerning the engraved “3”s found in the top right selvage of the right pane. The two reversed “3”s, in red and black, indicate that these are from the 3rd plates. However, one example of a right-hand pane has a third red “3” directly above the other two as shown by an arrow in Figure 24. This third “3,” apparently not reversed but rotated 225 degrees clockwise, also appears in the selvage of the 1920 and 1923 Canal Zone 2-cent Cordoba specimens, not shown here, but in a different position and at a different angle of rotation. What significance this red “3” has is unknown and I would appreciate scans of the upper selvage from these stamps, Panama or Canal Zone, showing these “3”s, whether two, three, or even a fourth in black. The fourth has only been seen on Canal Zone printings.

Notes on article: The ABNCo correspondence, handstamps on specimen selvage, sample book (Lot 4, in Christie’s 1990 Auction), list of Panama ABNCo orders found at the American Numismatic Association Museum, and the log books stored in the American Museum of Finance all use order dates to keep track of Panama orders. Therefore, this article, like those in the past, highlights dates in order that any future researcher can more easily locate an original record.

Unlike most other Panama stamps I was unable to find a reference to this new stamp in the 1909 Mekeel’s Weekly Stamp News. Any contemporary literary references to this stamp would be appreciated.
