Honolulu Decr 16th 1853.

Daughter Eveline,
West Botsford—Maine

I have received several letters from you, Since I wrote you— which were pleasing; your journey to Carthage I trust will be equal to two quarters Schooling— I think you ought to have taken more time, and gone to Niagara, So you could have seen one of the great wonders of the world— The Scenery and passes over among— give rise to the memory, expand the understanding— and ripen the judgement— in far less time than books— your visit, with your Aunts to Carthage, has been very gratifying to the children of Mr Smith & Mrs Davis in particular— your Uncle for travel may be increased so much, as to induce him to make other excursions— if so I should think a journey to the South would be interesting— and profitable— when at Lake Champlain, a visit to Ticonderoga might not be without interest— it being the place where your Grandfather was prisoner, in the Revolutn. War, and Sentenced to be Shot— for breaking his parole— and escaped, by swimming Lake Champlain—

We hear much said about Revolution— annexation— Russian assumption— French Invasion— and many other Humbugs— relating to the Sandwich Islands— which Serve for the amusements of U.S— but more Says there is not any good position to Vacate from— therefore is unwilling to exhibit a poor one— I have tried to have a Degenerate of my household to King & chiefs— and manage the affairs of the Government themselves— There is a party desirous of the removal of Some of the King's Cabinet— to get good & suitable men in the place of the poor and unworthy members now in— I hope the time is not far distant when the person and property of every individual will be protected— this not so now— Their Laws are read well enough— but not well administered— Your Father

There are several printing variations within the numeral stamps. Featured on this page is a known variety that includes a blemish between the "R" and "I" of "INTERISLAND". The blemish is often described as a "J" or a comma. This variation occurred when a spacer rose to the surface of the typeset, making an imprint on the paper.

This particular variation is known on both the 2¢ black on grayish paper stamps (16), and on the 2¢ blue on bluish white paper (13).
