MOB POSITION OPEN

The position of MOB President is still open. If you are interested please contact any board member. All that is needed is a desire to continue to support "your" club.

Be sure to read the information in this newsletter about our spring picnic. It will give those who are more concerned with social distancing a chance to get together with their club members!

Please welcome Tyler Alexander to the Mopars of Brevard Secretary's Post!

Please welcome our new MOB secretary, Tyler Alexander! Tyler was elected at the previous meeting. His name and contact numbers have been added to the Masthead.

Thank you Tyler for filling that important team post!

Mopars of Brevard Spring Picnic

By Penny Anderson
Our annual spring picnic is planned for April 11, 2021 (Sunday). It will be held at Fisherman's Landing, 5795 Highway 1, Grant-Valkaria 32949. Due to the pandemic, everyone is to bring their own packed lunch and drink. For those feeling uncomfortable under the pavilion, you may bring your chair/s and sit outside nearby. Since this will be held in an open environment, it provides an opportunity to gather together for fellowship in a safe manner. AS ALWAYS, everyone's health is of utmost importance. Hope to see you there!

Monthly MOB Events

Most of our Generation of 60+ was HOMESCHOOLED in many ways

This should only be sent to the over 60 crowd because the younger ones would not believe we truly were told these "EXACT" words by our parents...

My mother taught me TO APPRECIATE A JOB WELL DONE.

"If you're going to kill each other, do it outside. I just finished cleaning."

My mother taught me RELIGION.

"You better pray that will come out of the carpet."

My father taught me about TIME TRAVEL.

"If you don't straighten up, I'm going to knock you into the middle of next week!"

My father taught me LOGIC.

"Because I said so, that's why."

My mother taught me MORE LOGIC.

"If you fall out of that swing and break your neck, you're not going to the store with me."

My mother taught me FORESIGHT.

"Make sure you wear clean underwear, in case you're in an accident."

My father taught me IRONY.

"Keep crying, and I'll give you something to cry about."

My mother taught me about the science of OSMOSIS.

"Shut your mouth and eat your supper."

The Year was 1955 -

"I'm afraid the Volkswagen car is going to open the door to a whole lot of foreign business"

"The fast food restaurant is convenient for a quick meal, but I seriously doubt they will ever catch on"

1960 Dodge Matador Hardtop

The Dukes of Hazzard, the General Lee, and fulfilling a Dream

By Penny Anderson

For most of us, our love for our Mopar cars started years ago. Notably, for some, it started with the TV show "The Dukes of Hazard" which aired January 26, 1985. We all can remember Bo and Luke Duke, Daisy, Boss Hogg and the list goes on. Generations have come to know the "Dukes" and the "General Lee." So this is the story of Jason Moody (Bob Moody's son) and his quest for his own General Lee. (Story in a continuing series as told by Jason Moody)

PART ONE – THE "HISTORY OF "THE COLONEL"

This 1969 Dodge Charger, later known as The Colonel, began its life on March 3, 1969, in Hamtramck Michigan. As it came from the factory, the car was B5 Blue Metallic, with White interior, and a white vinyl roof, as part of the White Hat Special promotion by Dodge, and came equipped with a 318 2 bbl., factory tinted windows, air conditioning, and rear defroster to name a few of the more important options. The car was also equipped with the rare, V21 Performance Hood Treatment. In 1969 337 Dodge Charger R/T's came equipped with this option, while only 56 (know of) non R/T Chargers came with the V21, this car being one of the 56. This is the history I know of, after I purchased the Charger on March 17, 2004.

In 2001, before I purchased this Charger, I started doing my homework to see what kind of Chargers were out there, for the condition, and price I was looking for. Within the first three Chargers I looked at on the internet, I came across this yellow Charger for sale, with the most God awful wheels I had ever seen on any car, let alone a Charger. You will have to remember this part of the story for later on As you can see by the pictures below, this Charger was not very appealing to the eyes with those wheels, but still not a bad car. As time passed, and I got familiar with the Dodge Charger web site, (www.dodgecharger.com) I began to really search heavily into purchasing one.

Fast forward to March of 2004, I finally found what I thought I was looking for. I saw an ad on the Dodge Charger site for a yellow 1969 Dodge Charger located in Foley, Alabama. The man was a member on DC.com, with the screen name of Oldyeller. As I contacted Oldyeller about the Charger, he had said he restored it, and had it for many years. Now buying a car, sight unseen, is not what I recommend, but I got some very good pictures that he sent me of the Charger, and we finalized a price for it. I made sure to inform him that I was coming from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and did not want to find that I was lied to about the condition of the car.....which I was not. My father and I took his truck, and his empty car trailer and drove straight through to Foley, Alabama. My father had just arrived home on a business trip from Bristol, Tennessee, four hours before we left for Alabama, and we wanted to get going as there was a major snowstorm coming, and we wanted to beat it before it hit. Needless to say, when we arrived in Alabama, we were exhausted, and slept a good 12-15 hours into the next day when we arrived at the hotel. The next morning of March 17, 2004, we set out to go look at the car. We ended up passing the house up, as I saw the yellow beast sitting out in front of the garage in the backyard. As we pulled in, my eyes could not believe what I saw. I was amazed at the condition the Charger was in by the naked eye, but did not want to get too excited until I checked the car over, and took it for a test drive. Well, after all that was accomplished, we loaded up the car, and paid Oldyeller, and we were on our way home.....ah, but not straight through this time! Now's where the story gets interesting!

Jason Moody's 1969 Dodge Charger

As my father and I are driving down the road, I begin to look at the pictures that Oldyeller gave me. Next thing I know, my jaw hits the floor. I was looking at that same picture of the ugliest wheels I had ever seen on a Charger....a yellow Charger. I could not believe that it was the same car, but it was. This car was for sale for nearly three years and nobody bought it? What were the chances I would buy one of the first Chargers I looked at, three years before? Anyway, after that excitement, I figured I had to come up with a name for the car.

My entire life I had wanted a General Lee, and my dream was starting to come true. This Charger even had the correct air cleaner that was used on the show. I'm sure they used many different ones, but this was the one people were looking for I found out much later. But for everything this car had, that the story line General Lee's had, plus the fact that it was still for sale three years later, I feel it was meant to be, for me to purchase it. I feel the Lord intervened on it, and that when it was right to buy that car, it would happen. Anyway, when I was four years old, watching that orange clunker car fly through the air, I told my parents I would have one someday. So here's this yellow Charger sitting on a trailer behind us, and I think to myself.....now, what name can I come up with? I first thought of Big Bird from Sesame Street, and that would have been cool if it was a Daytona, or a Superbird, but it just didn't fit the car. As I continued to think, I thought of the board game "Clue", and Colonel Mustard, because of the car being yellow. Next I thought of the car already having an air horn in it that Oldyeller installed. The horn plays the "Charge" theme, which might be something a Colonel in the army would have blown in the Civil War or something. Next, always wanting a General, I thought of dropping the rank to Colonel for the time being. So hence "The Colonel" was born.
