Scripture Insights

Compassion, mercy and love are the words that best summarize the message of today's readings. Whereas the need for mercy and compassion are highlighted in the first reading, the love of God and neighbor are highlighted in the Gospel. The first reading comes from a code of conduct called the Book of the Covenant, which God gave to Moses and the Israelites at Mount Sinai (see Exodus 20—23). The purpose of this code was to show Israel how they were to live in community, as God's people, free from greed and oppression. Because the people Israel were once aliens, oppressed in the land of Egypt from which God had freed them, they were to live as a

WELCOME TO HOLY TRINITY CATHEDRAL PARISH

If this is your first visit with us, please sign our guest register in the vestibule and join us for a cake and coffee fellowship that follows every Sunday Mass and on various feast days of the Church year.

Holy Trinity Cathedral Parish of the Polish National Catholic Church has been an integral part of the Manchester and Southern New Hampshire community for 111 years meeting the religious needs first for the Polish immigrant community, and later for all residents of the Granite State. We hope to continue our growth in service to God and community. This commitment manifests itself in a regular devotional and prayer life and a greater participation in both ecumenical and community activities.

At Holy Trinity Cathedral PARISH, our primary emphasis is on the PARISH family. All who belong sense this family spirit - expressed in a real love and concern for one another. Our pastor makes a point to know each family on a one-to-one basis with frequent visits to family homes and to the hospitalized. Thus the spiritual health and vitality of all parishioners and all our friends is supported by both pastor and laity.

We invite You to join our PARISH family! If you are looking for a PARISH and are considering Holy Trinity, feel free to talk with any parishioner about it. We will introduce you to our family in all its wonderful aspects - a family whose real strength lies in our personal and real relationship to Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior. We express this faith in our Church through our liturgy which is Catholic and traditional, shared between priest and laity. We demonstrate this faith in the prayerful material and emotional support we give one another. We share this faith in a Church rooted in Democratic principles, having a church constitution that gives laity full rights and due process in matters financial, administrative and material. OUR PARISH...firm in faith, Catholic, democratic, and OPEN to the growth that comes as more join our family.

MAKE YOURSELF RIGHT AT HOME!

EVANGELISM TEAM MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to increase attendance and membership to Holy Trinity Cathedral by fostering a welcoming and respectful environment, where individuals and families can explore and achieve spiritual fulfillment.

We are looking for ideas, any ideas, that can stimulate and increase participation in both the worship and parochial life of Holy Trinity Parish. Is there something you have seen, or experienced in another Church that you think might work well here? Have you had an idea for some time, but were afraid to share it? If you have an idea, no matter what it may be, please pray over it and then share it with either:

Mr. Ray Pieczarka 603-472-5874 or Bishop Paul 603-622-4524.

WELCOME - TO ALL VISITORS

You are most welcome and your presence is appreciated. All are invited to share in worship and, after Mass, our fellowship. If the people around you fail to say "hello" first, go up to them and say "Hi!" And don't feel awkward. We've all been in those shoes at one time or another. We want you to join us. So Welcome Home!

HTC Membership and Outreach Team Is Inviting YOU Join in an outreach

Our Parish Evangelism Team has reorganized. Known as the "Membership and Outreach" Team, our hope is that a number of our parishioners would like to be a part of an exciting opportunity to help develop programs and liturgies that will spread the Word to others outside our community, and also engage in Internal Evangelism within our parish family.

If YOU are interested in reaching out to others for the Lord you are invited to contact either Ray Pieczarka at (603) 472-5874 or Bishop Paul at 622-4524.

compassionate and merciful community.

In response to this reading, the congregation sings "I love Lord, my strength." The original speaker of the psalm, the king of Israel, describes God as his rock, his fortress, his deliverer, his shield, his horn of salvation, his stronghold, his savior who has given him great victories and shown him kindness. Today, as we sing this psalm in the light of Christ, we give thanks to God who, in Christ, rescued us from the powers of sin and death.

In the Gospel, the religious leaders again test Jesus. This time they ask him to identify the greatest commandment of the law. The law contained six hundred thirteen commandments. Jesus states that the first commandment is to love the Lord without reservation and the second is to love neighbor as we love ourselves. All the other commandments depend on these two.

In today's reading from 1 Thessalonians, St. Paul reminds his recent converts that when they first accepted the faith, they learned how to live as Christians by imitating him and the Lord. Once they learned how to live as believers by imitating Paul, they became a model for others to imitate.

- What do we learn about social justice from today's first reading?
- Why are love of God and neighbor the foundational commandments?
- Whom have you imitated in order to follow Christ?

Practice of Charity

Jesus is incredibly clear in today's Gospel about what the greatest commandments are—love of God and love of neighbor—and the Old Testament reading is equally clear about what the latter commandment looks like in practicalities. As distinct as these mandates are, it is for us to allow the implementation to go foggy: where we draw the lines of who our neighbor is, the limits we put on our compassion and generosity, and how quickly for the least of us can become politicized. As Christians, we are challenged to rise above those obstacles and be "a model for all the believers" as the reading from 1 Thessalonians exhorts us.

- Take the time to pray over the question "who is my neighbor?" In response to the latter commandment. How is the Lord calling you to honor it?
- Consider "who is your "neighbor" in your community, especially based on the examples described in Exodus. Find a way to give your time to serve them, or contribute to agencies that do.

- Reflect on those same examples from Exodus, and review the ministries of your faith community. Are you attending to your "neighbors," and if not, what can change?

Questions

- The passage from the Book of Exodus reminds the people of part of their covenant with God, outlining how they are to deal with the least among them: the stranger, the widow, the orphan, and the poor. Are actions in this area part of how you express your faith?
- God's Word has "sounded forth" through the community at Thessalonica. How does the Word "sound forth" through your community?
- Today's Gospel underscores the centrality of love in our lives. Do you think being loving is the source of all your actions? Why or why not?

Family Activities

- This week, find out more about the Jewish practice of Tikkun Olam, and reflect on connections to this Sunday's readings.
- What does it mean to model something? How well does the community serve as a model? Is there a particular ministry that you do very well? Have you thought about sharing your approach in your diocese or seniorate as a "best practice"? Start a discussion about this.
- Who do you love? Who don't you love? Make a list and reflect on the love that you show and share in your life, and the love you show to God. Reflect on this observation by Henri J. M. Nouwen, the great spiritual writer: "Forgiveness is the name of love practiced among people who love poorly. The hard truth is that all people love poorly. We need to forgive and be forgiven every day, every hour increasingly. That is the great work of love among the fellowship of the weak that is the human family" (from "Forgiveness: The Name of Love in a Wounded World," in Weavings, volume VII, number 2, March / April 1992, p. 15). Write your thoughts in your journal.

Cleaning the Lens

I believe that all of us are born with the image of God stamped indelibly into the fibers of our being. Despite our personal flaws and the brokenness of our institutions, we all have divine wisdom and goodness inscribed on our hearts. We don't acquire it from without as much as we uncover it from within. Unfortunately, though, our personal experiences and cultural messages tend to have us believe that our worthiness resides in something external, something we can cultivate, achieve, amass, or purchase. This is a lie, an illusion, which obscures the divine goodness that is the birthright of each one of us. We see through a glass dimly. An important part of spiritual practice, then, is "cleaning the lens": letting go of the layers of illusion piled up by the ego, which helps us to rediscover the deepest truths of who we are, what the world is, and how we belong.
