

Strategic Writing, Narrative Architecture & Transition Communications

Profile

I am a senior writing and communications professional with a decade of experience working across complex institutional environments.

Specializing in helping organizations navigate transitions—programmatic, leadership, funding, or strategic—I help by translating messaging into clear, decision-ready language that gets results.

Who I Work With

- Nonprofits and small foundations
- Universities, research centers, and academic initiatives
- Mission driven organizations / startups

Undergoing change, growth, or reorientation.

Core Problems I Solve

- Programs doing strong work that lack cohesive messaging
- Grant narratives that describe activity but fail to communicate impact
- Leaders and teams stretched thin by writing demands during transitions
- Materials written by committee that need editorial authority and clarity

Services

- Program narratives and impact statements
- Strategic messaging frameworks (internal +external alignment)
- Reports, white papers, or board-facing documents
- Editorial restructuring of existing materials

How I Work

I work in focused project engagements or monthly retainers. My role is both writer and strategic translator— helping organizations say what they mean, clearly and credibly, to the audiences that matter.

Engagement Options

- Project-based Engagements: Defined Scope, Flat Fee
- Monthly Retainer: $2,500-$3,500
 - 1-2 Core Deliverables + Advisory Access

Additional Engagement Options

- Transcription and Document Formatting Services: $40 Hourly
