

Thank you again for booking your Oceania cruise with me. We truly appreciate your business and are excited to help you create lasting memories on this incredible journey.

Your cruise confirmation is attached. Please review the details carefully to ensure accuracy. It's important to note that your passport must be valid for at least six months after your return date. The names on all travel documents, including cruise, air, transfers, and hotel confirmations, must match. Some countries may require a visa in addition to your valid passport, so contact me if you have any questions about additional documentation.

If you haven't already, be sure to create an OLife account with Oceania and complete the online check-in process as soon as possible. This early action will grant you access to view and book shore excursions as they become available. Additionally, it's worth noting that checking your account often is beneficial, as some cruise enhancements, such as dining reservations, may not be available immediately. While the final online check-in process may open 21 days before travel, it's highly recommended you search and book shore excursions and other cruise enhancements early.
